CUBA WANTS TO KNOW IF BRAGG WROTE IT

Consul General Says He Did, But It Was in a Private Letter and Nobody's Business.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—Cuba has taken formal notice of the statement of Consul General Bragg at Havana that "Uncle Sam might as well try to make a whistle out of a pig's tail as to do anything with these people." Gen. Bragg has explained to the state department, but it is generally conceded that his usefulness as a representative of this government in Cuba is ended.

The Cuban government brought the matter to the attention of the United States through Minister Squires at Havana. He was asked whether or not Gen. Bragg was responsible for the statement, which was published in the United States as a part of a letter written to his wife. Mr. Squires at once brought the matter to the attention of Consul Gen. Bragg. From Gen. Bragg a cable dispatch was received at the state department today. He said the statement attributed to him in the press was substantially, but not literally, correct, but that it was contained in a private letter to his wife and was of a confidential nature; that the publication was unauthorized by him, and that he felt that he should not be held officially accountable for the statement which became public in such a manner.

MINERS MUST FIRMLY KEEP AGREEMENTS

For That Reason Mitchell Deprecates a General Strike.

HE WILL CONTROL THE CONVENTION

Presents a Plan for Financial Aid by All the Soft Coal Workers.

HEAVY ASSESSMENTS LIKELY TO BE LEVIED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Indianapolis, July 17.—The indications tonight are that the convention of mine workers will be quickly ended tomorrow. The declaration of President Mitchell that the anthracite strike may be won without repudiating solemn contracts with bituminous operators if bituminous workers rise to the occasion with funds has been taken as a keynote by nearly every bituminous delegate and many from anthracite fields.

PRESIDENT JOHN MITCHELL.
Of the United Mine Workers of America.

It is evident tonight, however, that the radical element of the anthracite delegation, which favors a general strike, will die hard. During the discussion of Mitchell's recommendations much bitterness was shown at the tendency of bituminous men to favor them; but there was also surprising support for the resolutions among the anthracite rank and file.

Some anthracite delegates evidently have come here imbued with the idea that they undertook to carry through at the recent national convention in Indianapolis, when they asked bituminous miners to hold up their settlement until anthracite operators came to time.

A Plea for Joint Agreements.

"Let the agreements of the anthracite and bituminous men be signed at the same time," is an argument that was advanced by some of the radical anthracite men today.

The strongest speech from the anthracite delegations was made by Delegate Desilva of district No. 1, who said miners are in the presence of an opportunity of establishing a precedent that will be recognized the length and breadth of the world. "We want to show to the world," he continued, "that when we, the United Mine Workers, sign a contract we will live up to it, and it does not matter how much it costs to do so."

He was wildly applauded.

The radical anthracite men, who held out for a general strike, finally prevailed on the convention to adjourn till 10 o'clock tomorrow in order to give them an opportunity for caucus. Much secrecy was observed tonight after the caucus, but it was learned that not much was accomplished by the radicals. A majority of the district officers are in favor of voting as a unit for the Mitchell recommendations. They may not be able to accomplish this, but one of the officials said a large majority from the anthracite fields are now against a general strike.

Illinois, which has the second largest delegation, caucused tonight and decided to support the Mitchell recommendations, except the provision for an assessment of $1 a week on the bituminous men. They favor making the assessment on a percentage basis. Several other states are for the same opinion.

Equitable Assessment Desired.

It is being pointed out that men who make larger wages would not be paying their proportion unless there is a percentage basis. There is talk of making the assessment 10 per cent of wages, and if there is a change this figure will likely be adopted.

There is also much discussion among the delegates tonight as to how the money will be collected. Another feature that is causing discussion is that President Mitchell has not submitted any means of supporting the strike in West Virginia, Virginia and Michigan, and it is also learned that the Kentucky men want the Hopkins county district included, and will not vote in favor of recommendations unless they are included.

An assessment of $1 a week will result in a defense fund of over $100,000 a week. Chris. Evans, statistician of the organization, estimated tonight that there are 125,000 bituminous men now working. He also says that the national treasury and locals can now muster more than $2,000,000 on short notice.

The Pittsburgh delegation held a brief meeting tonight, but adjourned to meet before the opening of the convention tomorrow. President Dolan said he was opposed to a general strike and he believes that Mitchell's recommendations will be adopted. Central Pennsylvania caucused tonight and decided to stand by the recommendations.

The men who were in favor of a strike were in a decided minority in the conven-

FOUR VICTIMS WERE CLAIMED BY THE HEAT

One Man and Three Children Died as a Result of It.

MANY PROSTRATIONS REPORTED YESTERDAY

Old Sol kept up his record yesterday and four deaths and many prostrations were reported from the heat. At that, it was not such a hot day, as there was a cooling breeze occasionally. The humidity was fortunately not high, or the temperature of 93 degrees, which is the high point for the year so far, would have had still more fatal results.

The weather bureau thinks that today will be slightly cooler and that showers will come some time during the day. Yesterday's heat was especially felt in the downtown district, and late in the afternoon the discomfort and suffering of pedestrians was pronounced. The deaths and prostrations that were reported follow:

The Dead.

ALBERT RITZ, 2 years old, of No. 45 Magnolia street. Died of heat prostration after an illness of a few hours.

JOSEPH ERUNTZ, 1 year old, of No. 2809 Harcums alley, became prostrated with the heat yesterday morning and died shortly afterward.

SAMUEL KLEIN of No. 2836 Frazer street, died of heat exhaustion. He was prostrated yesterday morning.

JAMES MORAN, 43 years old, of No. 7 Ontario street, Allegheny, died yesterday of heat prostration at his home. He was employed in the Pittsburgh & Western depot and became effected there. He died shortly after reaching his home.

A Pole, apparently about 35 years of age, was picked up at Thirty-first and Smallman streets suffering from heat prostration. He was sent to the West Penn hospital and will probably die. The man is unconscious and there was nothing on his person to identify him.

Many Prostrated.

Benjamin Smith, 40 years old, of No. 1 Berlin street, was overcome with the heat while working on the Ben Venue bridge. He was removed to his home in No. 3 patrol wagon. Condition serious.

Three Italians working in Turtle Creek were overcome by the heat yesterday afternoon, and but for the visit of the man who employed them might have died where they fell. The men are Vincent Shota, 26 years of age; George Morella, 30 years of age; and Tony Blane, 25 years of age. All live in East Pittsburgh.

The men were in the employ of Joseph Teevaskis, who went to see how they were getting along, and found all three of the men prostrated. He summoned assistance, got a doctor, and before dark all could be taken to their homes.

James Mason, 30 years of age, of Bell avenue, North Braddock; John Johnson, 45 years of age, of Hawkins avenue, North Braddock; and George Yano, 25 years of age, of Washington avenue, Braddock were rendered unable to continue their work in the Edgar Thomson steel works, Braddock, yesterday and had to be given medical attention. They were sent to their homes. A number of other men had to stop work and go home, or take long rests to prevent being exhausted.

John Smith, living on Friendship avenue, was overcome by the heat yesterday afternoon at Center avenue and Soho street. He was taken to his home.

The Mercury's Tale.

That it was hot yesterday is demonstrated by a look at the United States weather bureau's figures on the temperature in Pittsburgh for the last 24 years. The maximum temperature for yesterday was 93 degrees, an oppressive heat, but tempered to those who could choose their abiding place by a delightful breeze of about eight miles an hour.

On July 17, 1878, the maximum temperature was 98 degrees; on the same day in 1885 it was 97 degrees; on that day in 1887, the mercury climbed higher than it had or has done in the past 24 years, namely, to 101 degrees; in 1894 the maximum was the same as yesterday, 93 degrees, and in 1900 it was 96 degrees, but last year was only 90.

While yesterday was hot, it was not the hottest day of the year, for the same maximum was experienced on July 6, when the thermometer registered 93 degrees. On the whole July 6 was slightly warmer than yesterday, for on the earlier date the minimum temperature was 75 degrees, making the mean temperature 82, while yesterday the minimum was 68, making the mean temperature 80, two degrees cooler than on July 6.

On the whole, however, July 17 did pretty well for itself. As remarked be-

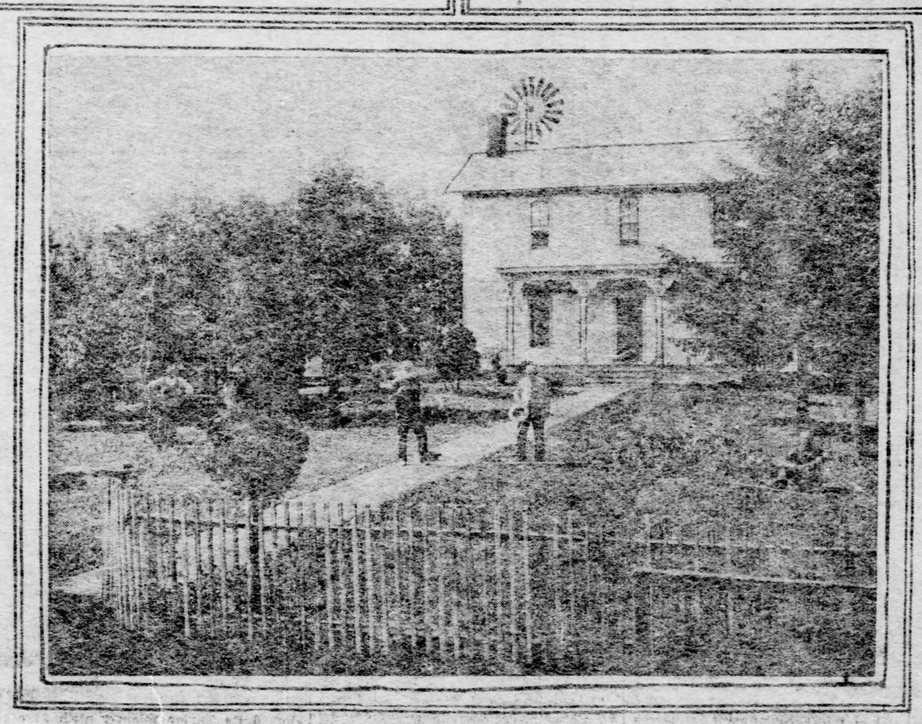
DEDICATION OF THE NEW ODD FELLOWS HOME AT GROVE CITY

The Merry-Go-Round, Which Was Patronized by Both Old and Young.

Benj. F. Ross, Edward Perry and Ebenezer Hathaway, Inmates of The Wayside Inn.



THE WAYSIDE INN.

HOME FOR VETERAN ODD FELLOWS IS OPENED BY KEY OF SOLID GOLD

Twenty-Five Thousand People Witness the Dedication of Wayside Inn at Grove City--First Three Inmates Are Guests of Honor--Large Variety of Festivities Furnished Entertainment for the Immense Throng.

By JOHN P. COWAN,
Staff Correspondent.

Grove City, Pa., July 17.—With a key of solid gold the hospitable doors of the Wayside Inn today were formally opened for the care of aged and infirm members of the I. O. O. F. of Western Pennsylvania. The dedication of this crowning benevolent work of the order marks the greatest day in its history. In the presence of an assemblage of 25,000 people representing more than 100 subordinate lodges the grand master received the golden token and declared the fine old farmhouse a permanent home for every deserving Odd Fellow in the western half of the Keystone state.

Ideal weather graced the celebration. Odd Fellows and the Daughters of Rebekah with their friends enjoyed a reunion amid the green fields and shady woodlands of the Wayside farm and the dedicatory ceremonies were but incidental to the day's festivities. Endless amusement features and a good dinner were provided for the entertainment of the vast crowd which had been brought hither by 26 special trains and a large turnout of farm rigs from the country side. The afternoon was given over to athletic sports and outdoor pastimes, to the delight of the younger members and their guests.

The Wayside Inn is a plain but comfortable old frame farmhouse that presents all the sober dignity of its age in its rural environment of orchard, flower garden and meadow. It stands on the public highway half a mile south of the quiet village of Grove City. Surrounding it on an undulating plateau is a farm of 105 acres. The estate formerly was the homestead of D. C. Black and was purchased several months ago by the Western Pennsylvania lodges for $6,000. Extensive improvements will be made, and from time to time, the building will be enlarged to meet the requirements. The house contains 10 rooms and every convenience for the comfort of its tenants will be provided.

Shelters Three Veterans.

The Wayside Inn was opened last May under the charge of C. C. Cunningham, superintendent, and Mrs. Cunningham as matron. There are now only three inmates, but others soon will make their home there and a colony is expected before the close of the year. The veteran Odd Fellows who are housed within its walls are Ebenezer Hathaway of Cambridge Springs lodge; Benjamin F. Ross of Shakerville, and Edward Perry of Gomer lodge, No. 64, of Pittsburgh. All three were members of the order before the majority of the participants in today's celebration were born. Mr. Ross was initiated in 1844 and for almost three score years has worked faithfully for the cause of Odd Fellowship and in his lifetime has seen the organization in this country increase one hundred fold in membership and wealth.

The trio of veterans today were the honor guests and occupied seats on the pavilion during the dedicatory exercises. For a moment they relinquished the receiving of congratulations to pose before The Gazette camera. Throughout Western Pennsylvania they are regarded the grand old men of the order and through The Gazette they desire to extend their good wishes to all their fellows.

On a gaily-decorated platform facing a shady white oak grove the formal ceremonies took place. Ten thousand persons gathered under the trees to participate, and refreshing breezes bore the sweet music of the opning hymn, "America," far across the Mercer county hills when the grand chorus of voices joined in the immortal song. In the absence of the grand chaplain, the Rev. William S. Neill, the invocation was pronounced by the Rev. Robert Dudley of Turtle Creek.

Shows Strength of Odd Fellowship.

An address lauding the noble work of the Western Pennsylvania lodges was made by Grand Master Edwin Ritter of the grand lodge of Pennsylvania, after which the board of directors of the home presented the golden key of the Wayside Inn to the grand master. The ceremony was most impressive. Before the pavilion stood four heralds vested in the full regalia of the order. The officers of the grand lodge and a delegation from the affiliated organization of the Daughters of Rebekah occupied the platform, while below stood a vast concourse wearing ornate badges of membership—living evidence of the wonderful strength of Odd Fellowship. The closing address was made by Past Grand Master Wilson K. Mohr of Allentown, Pa.

The crowd had scarcely left the pavilion when a cheer from the lawn in front of the Inn attracted thousands in that direction. From the top of the tall steel flagstaff the stars and stripes in mammoth proportions were unfurled, its sheen of red, white and blue radiant in the bright sunlight. When the great banner shook out its ample folds hundreds of tiny flags fell to the ground and were eagerly caught, to be preserved as cherished souvenirs of this auspicious day. The flag-raising was undertaken by the children of the Ben Avon and Meadville homes, and was a beautiful feature of the celebration.

Ceremonies and dignified rituals, however, did not monopolize the program. The majority of the people came to Grove City for a holiday and tonight went home after hours of rare enjoyment. No county fair ever offered half so many attractions and no country circus ever saw so much lemenade and gingerbread consumed.

Odd Fellows and those who were not Odd Fellows came from all ends of the state with their best girls and made the very best of the midsummer picnic and frolic. They rode in the merry-go-round; they decorated themselves with the badges which the "official" souvenir man so freely and unctuously dispensed; they tested their lungs on the blowing machine, and weighed themselves and had their fortunes told for a penny placed in the slot; they listened to the band—there were several of these of various standards of musical excellence—and when they wearied of this they took long rambles in the woods. Swains who would win feminine approbation through brawn rather than in works of cajolery would seize the huge mallet and with a lusty swing make the gong in the electric pounding machine ring like an alarm clock. Ice cream and cake, raspberries and cream and all the sweetmeats so dear to the palate of the picnic girl were lavishly invested in, and if no hearts were won the Odd Fellows' outing cannot be blamed.

There were no serious accidents to mar the festivities and the large corps of Red Cross attaches fortunately had little to do. The hospital section was in charge of Mrs. Martha Elton and 20 aides from the ranks of the Daughters of Rebekah. The commissary department was in charge of August Loch and 200 aides. They had an arduous task before them, for the immense throng sorely taxed the hotels of the little town. Assisting the commissary was Mrs. Laura Morrow of Allegheny and 250 aides.

The history of the founding of the Wayside Inn is now a familiar story. The money was collected from a voluntary donation of $1 from each member among the lodges in the state west of Altoona, and so generous was the response that in addition to the $6,000 paid for the farm there is $7,000 on hand for its improvement and support. The officers of the home are, Louis K. White, president; F. B. Tribby, vice president; John Fielding, secretary, and Samuel A. Steele, treasurer.

Negro Boy Confesses Murder of 4 Babies.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., July 17. Willie Cannon, a colored tramp, aged 15 years, this morning confessed to Chief of Police Austin that he had recently killed a white baby at Gurnee, Ala.; a negro baby at Helena, a negro baby at Cahaba and a negro baby in Birmingham. The body of the last named baby has been found. Coroner Paris has the little negro in charge and is investigating his tale.

KING MUCH BENEFITED.

Since Removal to Cowes His Majesty Improves Rapidly.

LONDON, July 17.—The reports regarding King Edward's health continue to be most satisfactory. He will remain on the royal yacht off Cowes, Isle of Wight, until August 8, and will return to the roadstead after the coronation.

Since his removal to Cowes the improvement of the king has been so rapid that his physicians have ordered a more liberal diet for his majesty.

CHARITY FOR STEYN.

Former President of Orange River Colony in Pitiable Condition.

CAPE TOWN, July 17.—The ladies of Cape Town yesterday presented Mrs. Steyn, wife of the ex-president of the former Orange River colony, with a purse of £1,000 before she sailed for Europe with her husband.

Mr. Steyn was in a pitiable condition from fever. His arms and legs were partially paralyzed, and he was unable to open his eyelids.

BYERS PLAYS FINEST GOLF EVER KNOWN

Beats Champion Travis and Wins Right to Try for Semi-Finals.

OIL CITY MAN MEETS HIM TODAY

Ormiston Loses Again, and Is Also Beaten in the Play-Off With Travis.

LATTER'S CONQUEROR ALSO DEFEATS EGAN

By J. N. PATTERSON,
Staff Correspondent.

Glenview Golf Club, Golf, Ill., July 17.—Perfect golf; unheard-of golf; golf the greatest ever known to this country; golf that was never even dreamed of, and golf that the great Travis, for two years champion and victor of a thousand matches, could not stand up under, made E. M. Byers of Pittsburgh the greatest figure in the golfing world today and leaves him tonight with the championship of the United States straight ahead of him.

E. M. BYERS,

The remarkable medal score of 35 strokes for the last nine holes, 71 for the match; the iron-nerved Travis' defeat after he had an advantage of 3 up at the turn, tells of the greatest glory ever gained by a golfer of Byers' age. The fame of the Pittsburgh man who walked home upon the "old man," is being spread; this glory, sufficient in itself, is enhanced by the Allegheny Country club victory of H. Chandler Egan of Chicago, in which Byers never relaxed from his invincible game and finished 2 up and 2 to play, with a medal score of 80 second only to his 77 strokes against Travis, which, even with a weak start on the first few holes, was the greatest record ever made on the Glenview course.

Greek Will Meet Greek.

Unfortunately for Western Pennsylvania's pride, Byers, to make his way to the greater honor of the championship, will have to defeat tomorrow Dr. D. P. Fredericks of Oil City, whose record today was second only to that of the Yale boy scarcely out of college. Byers' golf has been the greatest, in that if it could not be greater, Fredericks is scarcely less of a sensation, and has really furnished the most unlooked-for result of the tournament. A golfer who never received a lesson, but studied only by Travis' book and then played golf such as has taken the talent's breath away, will tomorrow meet the man who defeated the ex-champion.

To the golfing world Fredericks is unknown, while Byers has been in only two national events, and never went further than the second round of match play, in which he lost last year to P. H. Jennings at Atlantic City.

The victory of Byers is the great glory of Pittsburgh tonight, but the glory of the country is found in the defeat of Travis, and the assurance thereby that the amateur championship will go to a golfer from beneath the Stars and Stripes. No American-born player has held the honor except Harriman. Travis being an Englishman and Douglass a Scot.

Only Western and Eastern Survivors.

Walter Egan of Chicago, after disposing of George Ormiston in the morning by 2 up, lost to F. O. Reinhart of Baltusrol Golf club, New York, by 1 down in the afternoon, and tomorrow will meet Louis N. James of Glenview, who, tied among 13 for last place in qualifying, is now the west's only dependence. Reinhart is the only representative left of the east's large squad of well-known golfers, while Pittsburgh, listed in the western association, has become the strength of the west, though Chicago hardly noticed her at all when the start was made, with the field full of Windy City aspirants who were regarded as dangerous faciors.

After losing to Byers in the morning, the defeated champion hardly had time to awaken to his new position in the golfing world before he started on the afternoon deciding play with George Ormiston for the cup tied for by the two on Tuesday with low qualifying scores. Travis went out determined to carry at least one trophy away from Chicago and atone for the defeat of the morning. Ormiston was as badly off in his putting as in the morning match and was forced to be content with the second cup, while the "old man" carried the first cup away by a medal score of 81 strokes to 90 for Ormiston.

Travis Played His Best.

It was not only the fact of Travis' defeat that has turned the golf world upside down, but the way he was defeated and the quality of golf that did it. Any champion is likely to be off his game, but Travis was playing the best he knew how, yes, and was not only defeated, but outclassed. Travis' medal score of 79 for the match, equal to his best ever made on the course, shows that the seasoned veteran was on his game, but simply lost because no player living could have stood against Byers' game in the second round today.

Six strokes under bogey tells the story.

FOURTEEN LOST BY UPSETTING OF SAIL BOAT

Accident to Waiters Off the New Hampshire Coast.

STUDENTS LOST LIVES TRYING TO AID WOMEN

Appledore, Isle of Shoals, N. H., July 17.—The worst accident that ever happened in these isles overtook a party of 14 waitresses and two waiters at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Fourteen of the party were drowned. Two of them were Harvard students.

A large sail boat, in charge of Capt. Fred Miles and having on board the waitresses, the head waiter and the second head waiter from the Oceanic hotel, was struck by a sudden squall. In a couple of seconds the craft was capsized and the occupants were struggling in the water. The boat was only about 300 feet off Appledore island and the accident was witnessed by a large number of the hotel patrons.

There was a good sea running and the steamer Sam Adams and a half hundred rowboats put on to the rescue. The bodies of the women were brought ashore. Dr. Warren and Dr. Richter worked on them. Despite hours of effort only two of the girls were resuscitated. May and Eva Adams, sisters, became conscious for a second and then passed away.

The names of the drowned are: Henry Farrington, head waiter, of Cambridge, Mass.; W. A. Alward, assistant head waiter, of Fredericton, N. B.; Bertha Graham, Danvers, Mass.; Minnie McDonald, Cambridgeport, Mass.; Eva Adams, Portsmouth, N. H.; May Adams, Portsmouth; Catherine Bowes, Savonville, Mass.; Elizabeth Bowes, sister of Catherine, Saxonville; Bessie Chase, Malden, Mass.; Anna Sheehan, West Medford, Mass.; Eva Marshal, Haverhill, Mass.; May Marshal, sister of Eva, Haverhill; Isabell Kauska, Cambridge, Mass., and Laura Gilmore, Exeter, N. H.

The saved are: Alice Haggerty, Lillian Bresnahan and Skipper Fred Miles.

The bodies of Farrington, Alward, Bessie Chase, Eva Marshall and Isabell Knouska have not yet been recovered. Farrington and Alward were law students at Harvard university, rooming at Forsyth hall. Both were good swimmers and lost their lives in trying to rescue the others.

BOSTON, July 17.—Capt. John Morris of the sloop yacht Aphrodite, with James Harvey, Mrs. Harvey, their 7-year-old daughter and a friend, arrived in the harbor tonight on a schooner, having been capsized from their boat about five miles southeast of Richmond island on the Maine coast. The party started some ten days ago to cruise about the shore of Maine. On Wednesday the heavy lead shoe on the keel of the boat dropped off and the sloop turned over. Mrs. Harvey and her daughter were the most helpless, and the men assisted them in holding to the bottom of the Aphrodite until assistance came.

MANILA, July 17.—A severe typhoon swept over the Southern Islands June 14 and 15. The United States customs steamer, Shearwater, was lost off the island of Marinduque. Nineteen of her crew, including three Americans, were drowned.

CASSATT CUTS THE GOULDS.

Resigns as a Director of the Mercantile Trust Company.

NEW YORK, July 17.—It became known in Wall street today that A. J. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, had resigned as a director of the Mercantile Trust Company. The resignation was regarded as significant owing to its possible connection with what has transpired of late between Pennsylvania and Gould interests. The Mercantile Trust Company has for many years been regarded as fiscal agent for the Gould properties, George J. Gould being prominent in the management of the company's affairs.

WHITE MAN LYNCHED.

Kentuckians Hang a Wife Murderer to the Town Scales.

OWENSBORO, KY., July 17.—Josh Anderson was hanged by a mob early this morning. He was taken from the jail without much resistance, the jailor not expecting a mob, and strung up to the crossbeam of the city scales.

Last Thursday night Anderson went to the home of his wife, three miles below town, called her out and shot her three times, instantly killing her. Anderson was the first white man lynched in Daviess county.

but only half tells it. It was the awful greatness and steadiness of the untried player against the most machinelike champion the game has ever seen that lent the victory dramatic force.

"I don't mind losing to such golf as that of Byers'," was the ex-champion's comment, which he supplemented with "There was not a stroke during the second nine holes that was not perfect."

"That score tells the story better than anything I can say," said Mr. Travis after the game. "The game Byers put up would have won from almost any professional in the country. It was unbeatable.

"I have only one thing to say about my defeat," added Travis, "and that is that Mr. Byers played a little better game than I did. He earned his victory, and, therefore, deserved it."

"I played my best when I struck my gait," said Byers later. "I realized my opponent was a hard man to beat, and he knows how to lose as well as how to win. Naturally, I am proud that I won."

An Unpromising Beginning.

Byers started the match in anything but a promising form, missing an 18-inch putt for the first hole, and was plainly nervous. He did not win a hole until the seventh, and with the champion 3 up here and at the turn there were few out of the large gallery following who imagined they were to witness the most wonderful recovery on record and the retirement of Travis.

After Travis had gone into the bunker on a topped brassie Byers lost the first on an 18-inch putt, which was to be followed later in the match by holing of 18-foot shots. The second was halved in four each, but on the third Byers again fell down on a putt three-foot putt, with Travis on the lip of cup. With a four-foot putt to win the best he could was to halve in five.

Byers was not through, however, and in the afternoon went against H. Chandler Egan, who had defeated Dr. L. L. Harbin by 6 up and 5 to play, with golf of the fastest order.

"Can he hold out after his high tension of the morning?" was the question answered by a game by the Pittsburgh boy, almost as wonderful as the morning's with a medal score of 80. His game was steadier throughout and his perfection of approaching and putting placed him in a class by himself. His only shot of the day not absolutely perfect, outside of a few nervous failures on putts at the start in the morning, was a half-tipped brassie for the 13 hole, which cost him his second hole to Egan. Allowing his morning score for this match his afternoon score would have been 78, 157 strokes for 36 holes during the entire day, was his record against 160 for Travis morning and afternoon.

The Rivals Shake Hands.

The great gallery and throngs on the spacious clubhouse veranda enthusiastically cheered the flushed, smiling Pittsburgher as he and Travis shook hands good-naturedly.

Former Champion Travis, though out of the contest for the championship, had the consolation of badly beating Ormiston in the play-off of the tie for the gold medal given for the lowest score in the qualifying round. Ormiston could do no better than 83, while Travis turned in a score of 81, out in 39 and back in 42. Travis' 39 was the third in succession he made during the day.

Percy R. Pyne of Princeton was defeated by George H. Leslie of Skokie, more through his own poor work than from especially good golf by Leslie. Then Leslie was defeated in the afternoon by Dr. B. P. Fredericks of Oil City. He had the game won, but with the driving rain of a sudden thunderstorm pouring like a cataract on his back he missed a two-foot putt for a half on the 18th green and the Pennsylvanian won the 19th hole and the match.

The semi-finals at 36 holes will be played tomorrow. Byers will meet Dr. Fredericks and Louis James, who barely qualified, but who has been playing par golf since the first day, will contest with F. O. Reinhart.

Among the scores were:

CORONER AND JURY VISIT FATED MINE

Their Object is That Testimony to Be Taken Next Wednesday Will Be Perfectly Clear.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

JOHNSTOWN, PA., July 17.—Fire Bosses Griffith Powell and Thomas J. Lewis took a party of officials and others through the Cambria Rolling Mill mine, the scene of the disaster, this afternoon. In the party were Mine Inspector Josiah T. Evans, Coroner E. L. Miller, Corner's Jurors John H. Horrocks, Thomas S. Seibert, John A. James, George M. Harsh, Jarger and John S. Smith. Accompanying the others were Chief of Police John T. Harris of Johnstown and Joseph Picard, clerk for Superintendent of Police John McAleese of Pittsburgh.

The coroner and the jury wished to see the place where so many men met death, so that the evidence which will be adduced at the inquest next week will be perfectly clear to those who have to render a verdict on the affair. They were taken directly into the Klondike section, where the explosion occurred. They examined the places where the miners died.

The coroner says his inquest, which will begin next Wednesday and will continue for several days, and possibly a week, will be thorough, and he expects some sensational developments. Mine Inspector Evans said this afternoon he thought startling things would be brought to light.

It is said Mr. Picard is here representing the Austro-Hungarian consul in Pittsburgh. When seen, Mr. Picard would neither deny nor affirm the report, and declined to make any statement. He came here this morning from South Fork, his former home, where he is visiting relatives, and returned to that town tonight.

THE WEATHER.

Just as if it were determined to provide the kind of weather desired, the United States weather bureau has cooler weather scheduled for today, to be accompanied by a few showers. It was hot enough yesterday, the thermometer reaching a maximum of 96 degrees. The temperature, however, was not so very oppressive, as the humidity was comparatively low.

ROYALTY FLOCKS THIS WAY.

No Less Than Three Princes Coming Within Three Months.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—(Special.)—Within the next three months the United States will be visited by more royal personages than have been within the confines of the nation for years.

The Chinese minister, Wu Ting Fang, notified the state department today that Prince Chen, special ambassador of China to the coronation of King Edward, will sail with his suite for the United States on the Philadelphia on July 25, where they will spend a fortnight prior to returning to China.

Minister Buck has informed the state department that the Grand Duke Boris of Russia sailed on July 16 for the United States. He will travel in this country incognito.

Phya Akharaj Varadhara, the Siamese minister, has consulted with state department officials regarding the visit to the United States of the crown prince of Siam, probably in September.

No arrangements have been made at the department for the official reception of any of these dignitaries. They will be accorded all the international courtesies consistent with their rank and the nature of their visits.

COMPLIMENT TO SCHWAB.

Elected a Member of the New York Yacht Club.

NEW YORK, July 17.—(Special.)—Vice Commodore Frederick G. Bourne, who returned from an extended European trip on Wednesday, presided at the fourth general meeting of the New York Yacht club today.

Of the 24 new members elected Charles M. Schwab, who has the steam yacht Safa-el-Bahr under charter for the season, was conspicuous. He was proposed by Commodore Lewis Cass Ledyard and seconded by G. W. Perkins.

The navy members elected were Rear Admiral Henry L. Howison, Lieutenant Commander Frank A. Wilmer, Lieut. Albert M. Beecher, Lieut. Walter J. Mannion, Lieut. Charles F. Preston, Surgeons Frank Anderson, F. W. Wheeler and Oliver D. Norton, Paymaster John M. Merriam, Chaplain W. T. Helms, Naval Cadets Edward C. S. Parker, William Lee Pryor, George Blair and Capt. George C. Thorpe of the United States marine corps.

UNDER WATER 25 MINUTES.

Small Boy Brought to Life After Apparently Being Drowned.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—Superintendent Kimball of the lifesaving service has received a report from Capt. Ludlam of the Hereford inlet lifesaving station at Anglesea, N. J., of the remarkable resuscitation of Stanley S. Holmes, a 5-year-old boy, after he had been under water 25 minutes.

Capt. Ludlam reported that on July 5 during a squall in the harbor William B. Holmes and his child were overturned in the water and that the little son sank, remaining under water not less than 25 minutes (some say 30 minutes), before the lifesaving crew of the Hereford station were able to secure the apparently dead body. Within four hours after the body was removed from the water the child regained consciousness.

OIL STILL BURNING.

Days Will Be Required to Prepare the Steam Extinguishers.

NEW ORLEANS, July 17.—The fire at the Jennings well in the Texas oil fields, continues to burn fiercely. No attempt will be made to snuff out the flames with steam until 20 boilers, which are arriving from Beaumont, have been connected around the well.

All the other gushers have been covered with dirt to protect them against the flames. Smoke from the fire can be seen 20 miles.

NERVY RAILROADERS.

Rock Island Engineer and Fireman Were Loaded for Train Robbers.

FORT WORTH, TEX., July 17.—Two men attempted to hold up a southbound Rock Island passenger train last night between Saginaw and Newark, north of this city. They placed a pile of ties across the track. The engine struck them and came to a stop.

Two masked men attempted to climb into the engine, but Engineer Knight and Fireman Mosier opened fire on them, driving them back.

Three Carnegie Benefactions.

LONDON, July 17.—Andrew Carnegie has offered £12,000 to Finsbury, in the north of London; £10,000 to Hammersmith, a suburb of London, and £8,000 to Londonderry for public libraries.

STONE REVIEWS NATIONAL GUARD AT GETTYSBURG

Troops Are in Splendid Form for the Parade Before the Governor.

VISITORS THRONG CAMP

Hundreds of Sight-Seers Witness the Scenes on the Historic Battlefield—Distinguished Men from Washington Expected Today.

By ROBERT WRAY,
Staff Correspondent.

Camp Meade, Gettysburg, July 17.—Before the smoke from the morning gun was lost in the mist visitors began flocking into Camp Meade today. They came in wagons, by trains, in trolley cars, on foot and in rigs that had seen service long before a hostile shot was fired by the confederacy. Special trains carrying hundreds of people pulled into the sidings near the parade grounds. It was another invasion of this historic town, but the daughters of the south and north mingled in sweet confusion with soldier laddies whose sires stubbornly contested this sanguinary field.

Threatening clouds soon cleared away as the sun reached the zenith, and gave the troops an ideal day for their review. When the dawn broke the camp was awake in anticipation of the coming day. Preparations had been made for active work and long before the reveille had sounded, companies were preparing for the ceremony.

With all the pomp and grandeur of war "Governor's Day" was ushered in this morning. Flags and bunting floated from nearly every window in Gettysburg and the entire town was in holiday attire. The visitors were received in camp by the officers and men and given the freedom of the grounds until the formation for review.

Governor Reviews Troops.

At the time set Gov. Stone, wearing the conventional gubernatorial reviewing costume, silk hat, black frock coat and dark trousers, escorted by his staff, took up a position opposite the center of the division. The bugles sounded attention, and Gen. Miller gracefully raised his sword in salute to the commander-in-chief. Then the governor and the general, with their respective staffs, rode to the head of the first line and thence along its front to the right of the division. This was repeated on the second line of the formation and bands all the time played "Hail to the Chief," as the governor passed each organization. A position opposite the center of the line was then taken and Gen. Miller caused the battalions to change direction by the left flank, throwing the line of masses into columns of masses, faced north. There was a sharp word of command and the march past was taken up. Gov. Stone and his staff had taken a position on a knoll where they could receive the marching salutes of the regiments.

Leading the column was Lieut. Gov. Gobin and following was his command, the Third brigade. As Gen. Gobin neared the reviewing point he swung around in his saddle for an instant to view the alignment of his command. His regiments were coming along with long swinging strides, and facing to the front as he neared the governor a smile passed over his face as his sword flashed in the sunlight in salute. It was handsomely done and was acknowledged by a bow from the governor.

Withstood Heat Well.

Following the Third brigade came the other commands and as they passed the reviewing point, they broke into columns of fours and moved from the field in quick time.

The review today was a severe test of the endurance of the troops. After a hard morning's drill the men were ordered to prepare for this ceremony, and while a pleasant breeze was sweeping over the parade grounds the sun was chasing the mercury to the 90 point. For the first time in the history of the guard, the field hospital, after a hard day's inspection and review, is deserted tonight.

It has been decided to break camp on Friday evening, after the review to the secretary of war. The Sixteenth infantry will be the first to move out, and will leave its camp at 5:45 o'clock. This regiment will be followed by the Fourteenth and Eighteenth infantry.

A number of leading state politicians, who came into camp yesterday ostensibly to visit friends in the division, are reported to have had a private session with the governor at his headquarters last night. It is given out that the visit was purely of a social nature, but there are doubts about it in the camp. At headquarters they say the usual visit of the members of the state military board was for the purpose of noting the efficiency of the guard so that an increase in the annual state appropriation could be asked for. As there will be a new administration before the next encampment the story is not generally credited.

Visitor Severely Injured.

Just before the inspection, Minnie Briscoe of Lancaster, who was sitting opposite division headquarters, had one leg crushed by a freight car. Several soldiers got on the top of a freight car which was on a siding and thoughtlessly loosened the brake. Before they could check the car the girl was struck. She was taken to division hospital, and later sent to her home in a special car.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—(Special.)—A distinguished party will leave here at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning for Gettysburg to visit the encampment of the Pennsylvania national guard. The party of visitors will include Secretary Root, Adjt.-Gen. and Mrs. Corbin, Gen. Leonard Wood, Gen. Randolph, chief of artillery; Maj. Dunn of the judge advocate general's department, and Mrs. Dunn and Lieut. Robert S. Clark, Ninth infantry, attached to the military information division of the adjutant general's office. The party will return to this city tomorrow evening.

POISONED HIMSELF AND HIS SWEETHEART

Elopers from Washington, Pa., Reach Columbus and the Boy is Dead and Girl Ill.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

COLUMBUS, O., July 17.—John Smith of Washington, Pa., is dead, and Maggie Canan of the same place is seriously ill in this city from the effects of strychnine placed in ice cream by Smith with murderous and suicidal intent. Smith was 19, and his companion was about the same age.

According to the girl's story, they ran away from home to be married. They arrived here today, and registered at a hotel as John Thomas and wife. This afternoon Smith left the hotel on the pretense of securing a marriage license and returned with the ice cream. Both were taken sick while eating the cream, and the cries of the girl attracted help. Smith died in an hour, but the young woman will recover.

MUST FIRMLY KEEP AGREEMENTS

tion. Three speeches were made by members from the anthracite districts, asking that the soft coal men walk out, and twice as many were made by anthracite men urging the soft coal men to continue at work.

President Mitchell called the convention to order at 10 o'clock. He was greeted with great applause. There were about 900 delegates. The session was open. A long time was occupied by the reading of the report of the committee on credentials and a recess was then taken until 1:30 p. m. At the afternoon session it was voted to close the doors, but John P. Reese of Iowa succeeded in having this reconsidered and an open meeting held. He said "the entire United States is watching this convention."

In opening his address, President Mitchell explained that the constitution had required him to call the convention, regardless of his own views, because five districts had asked for it. He dwelt upon the gravity of a general strike and the relation of the issue to the general welfare of trade unionism. President Mitchell then said:

Contracts Should Be Kept.

"I have been so closely associated with the struggle of the anthracite mine workers, that it grieves me more than language can express to say that my views are not in accord with the views expressed by some in favor of a national suspension of coal mining; but much as I cherish the esteem, the confidence and friendship of my craftsmen, who have honored me so signally, I cannot and will not forfeit my right to that esteem, confidence and friendship by subordinating my personal conviction of the right and advocating a policy which would, in the end, bring disaster and dishonor upon the organization over whose destiny it is my privilege to preside.

"I have, during all my life in the labor movement, declared that contracts mutually made should, during their life, be kept inviolate; and while at times it may appear to the superficial observer or to those immediately concerned more advantage could be gained by setting agreements aside such advantage, if gained, would, in the very nature of things, be temporary, and would ultimately result in disaster, because a disregard of contracts strikes at the very vitals of organized labor. The effect of such action would be to destroy confidence, to array in open hostility to our cause all forces of society, and to crystallize public sentiment in opposition to our movement.

Sympathetic Strikes Are Failures.

"As far as my knowledge goes, I do not know of one solitary sympathetic strike of any magnitude which has been successful. On the contrary, the most conspicuous among the sympathetic labor struggles have resulted in ignominious and crushing defeat, not only for the branch of industry originally involved, but for the divisions participating through sympathy. In my judgment the United Mine Workers should not repeat the mistakes, which, like milestones, mark the path trod by the toiling masses in their never-ceasing struggle for better and higher civilization.

"I am firm in my conviction that the fight in the anthracite fields can and will be won without repudiating our solemn contracts with the bituminous operators, provided the bituminous miners will rise to the occasion and do their full duty by their struggling fellow workers. With this in mind, I desire to submit for your consideration the following specific recommendations:

Mitchell's Plan for Aid.

"1. That the national secretary-treasurer be authorized and directed to immediately appropriate $50,000 from the funds in the national treasury and place it at the disposition of the officers of Districts 1, 7 and 9.

"2. That all districts, sub-districts and local unions be appealed to to donate from the surplus in their treasuries as large amounts as they can afford.

"3. That an assessment of not less than $1 per week be levied upon all members of local unions, the amount so levied to be collected at the earliest possible moment and forwarded to the national secretary-treasurer.

"4. That an assessment of 25 per cent be levied upon all national, district and sub-district officers, whose salaries amount to $60 per month or more.

"5. That an appeal be made to all American trade unions and to the general public for financial assistance to carry the strike through to a successful issue.

"6. That a committee be selected from this convention to draft an address to the American people, setting forth, in proper form, the policy of the miners' organization and appealing to the people to bring all possible pressure to bear upon the officers and stockholders of the anthracite coal carrying railroads to compel them to treat considerately the appeals of their employes for arbitration."

Long Debate on the Issue.

The speech was greeted with great applause from both anthracite and bituminous miners. President Ryan of the Illinois miners at once offered a motion, which was promptly seconded, that the recommendations be adopted. Then began the debates, which continued until adjournment.

Delegate William Downey of Indiana spoke strongly in favor of the adoption of Mitchell's recommendations. Patrick Gilday of Pennsylvania, a bituminous man, urged that the question of a general strike be left to the soft coal men entirely. William Monaghan of Streator, Ill., advocated the adoption of Mr. Ryan's motion, but desired an amendment to the effect that the president of the organization be granted the power to increase the assessment if he found it advisable.

The president's recommendations were supported by John S. Desliva of Shamokin, Pa.; Lewis L. Lewis of Parsons, Pa.; J. F. Davis, an anthracite man; Patrick Finney of the Pittsburgh district, and others. Speeches in favor of a general strike were made by Patrick Fitzpatrick of Drumore, Pa., and John Fallon of Wilkesbarre.

Upon motion of John Dempsey, secretary of district No. 1, an adjournment was then taken until 10 o'clock Friday morning, to enable the anthracite men to hold the caucus.

EFFORTS TO OPERATE.

Luzerne County Company Stars a Breaker With Patent Pickers.

WILKESBARRE, July 17.—The first attempt to operate a breaker in the anthracite region since the strike was declared was made at Nanticoke today, when the Susquehanna Company started its No. 7. The company is running stock coal for shipment. The breaker is equipped with patent coal pickers and no boys are required.

SCRANTON, July 17.—The Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Company today started its Taylor washery with 25 old employes. This makes five washeries the company has in operation. Practically all the washeries in this region are now working.

Great Activity in Altoona Field.

ALTOONA, PA., July 17.—Operators in this district find coal miners so scarce that they are reduced to the necessity of advertising in the papers for them. There is not an idle miner in the field and many additional men could find work, since it is next to the impossible to fill all the orders. The miners have never enjoyed such prosperity as was ushered in with the beginning of the anthracite strike.

fore, there was a nice breeze, but that was no solace to men cooped up in an office or working in a rolling mill. Now and then one would see a hot, wilted-collar individual stop in the shade at some corner and throwing his coat back enjoy the cooling wind. In former years the shadow of the Carnegie building kept the sun from a breeze-swept spot at the corner of Cherry alley and Fifth avenue, but since the Frick building was erected the famous whirlwind at that corner has not appeared.

It is fortunate for Pittsburgh that the humidity was not high yesterday. At 8 a. m. it was 57 per cent and at 8 p. m. only 50. The constant breeze kept the atmosphere in motion and no clouds gathered. There was not a minute in the day when the air was "close."

The wind that very few of the downtown sojourners had an opportunity to enjoy was decidedly felt on the hills of the South Side. Residents in Cobden street in the Twenty-seventh ward had to close their windows to keep their curtains from blowing to pieces and men held their hats on when they approached a corner that opened out on the brow of the hill.

TO SUPPRESS TRUSTS.

Russia Proposes an International Agreement to Prevent Artificial Influence on Markets.

LONDON, July 17.—Details of an important move by Russia, which have evidently been suppressed hitherto by the censor, have transpired in London. This move is no less than a proposal by the Imperial government for an international conference to deal with trusts.

Baron de Staal, Russian ambassador in London, about 10 days ago presented to the British government a note from M. De Witte, the Russian minister of finance, which note was sent also to all the powers that signed the Brussels sugar convention, proposing that these powers should consider in common means to protect international commerce against the artificial depression of prices, not only by government measures, such as export bounties or the control of production, but also by the much more dangerous processes adopted by trusts, private undertakings or cartels which tend artificially to influence the international market.

Friends Fear Foul Play.

John Maloney of No. 2316 Wylie avenue disappeared from his home on Monday and has not been seen or heard of since that time. Yesterday his wife reported the matter to Superintendent of Police John McAleese. He is 38 years old and a sheet heater by trade. He had $90 in his possession when he left home. His friends are fearful that some foul play has been committed.

NEW YORK EDITOR SAYS THERE IS TO BE NO MONOPOLY.

In a Speech Before American Chamber of Commerce in Liverpool He Suggests That the Fear of Englishmen Has Been Exaggerated.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LIVERPOOL, July 17.—Speaking at a banquet given tonight in his honor by the American chamber of commerce Whitelaw Reid, the head of the American embassy to the coronation of King Edward, congratulated the country upon the extraordinarily rapid recovery of the king. Referring to the conclusion of peace in South Africa Mr. Reid said:

"It has become plain that this peace is to be permanent; that the coalescing of the hostile parties is to be genuine, and that, as in the case of our civil war, there is to rise from the battlefields of two determined and worthy foes a compact, united power embodying both and greater than both."

Dealing with Liverpool's improvements of her docks and her ability to hold her own as a seaport against Southampton, Hamburg and the Manchester canal, Mr. Reid said:

"If you have sustained the threatened dangers of recent years you can surely face with equanimity the terrors of the Pierpont Morgan venture. I suggest that the apprehension aroused by the recent change in shipping with which his name is identified is somewhat exaggerated. Your power to secure at will for the navy as many cruisers as ever seems to be not in the least imperiled. If built in your shipyards, such vessels are forbidden to pass under our flag by a law almost as old as our history and almost as hard to change as our constitution.

"If you accept the gloomiest view regarding the future control of the Atlantic carrying trade, it does not follow that New York would use that control to weaken the port most important to it, namely, Liverpool. Even monopolies are not supposed to thrive by damaging their best customers. Besides, the monopoly in this case is fanciful. None has been created, I think none is desired, and I know none can long be successful."

Mr. Reid maintained that the Morgan combine obviated violent fluctuations in rates and insured to Great Britain a great neutral fleet in which its food could be borne in spite of any possible enemy.

"I do not for a moment admit the possibility of war between our two nations," said Mr. Reid. "Nature revolts against it, and all the interests of that vast body of English-speaking peoples who in both hemispheres lead the world upward forbid it."

The speaker declared that neither Great Britain nor the United States would ever rule the world, as did ancient Rome, or seek to do so, though there is no question that the English-Speaking race leads the world in moral, material and intellectual progress.

Previous to the banquet Mr. Reid visited the Liverpool exchange, where he made a short speech expressing the sympathy Americans felt for Great Britain in the illness of King Edward.

CLARA TAYLOR RELEASED.

Italian Court Refuses Extradition for Alleged Kidnaper from Cincinnati, O.

LONDON, July 18.—The Rome correspondent of the Morning Leader says that the judges of the Genoa court have refused to grant the extradition of Clara Taylor, whose return to the United States was asked on the charge of having kidnaped her niece, and she has been liberated. The court's action was based on the ground that Miss Taylor was actuated by a good motive in abducting the child.

Margart Vinton Taylor, daughter of Albert V. Taylor of Cincinnati, O., was kidnaped in August, 1898, when four years old, from the home of her grandmother in Cincinnati. The child, after being searched for continuously since her disappearance, was finally found in May last with her aunt Clara in Bordighera, Italy, and was shortly afterward brought back to this country by her father.

THE NEW MAINE HAS HIGH SPEED FOR HER SIZE

Great Battleship Surpasses Requirements in Builders' Trial Trip.

NEARLY TWENTY KNOTS

For Half an Hour She Revealed the Swiftness of a Cruiser—Every Part of Machinery Performed Its Perfect Work—Racing in the Night

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, July 17.—The new battleship Maine, built by the Cramps, returned to this city tonight after a satisfactory builder's trial at sea. The new war vessel proved herself to be a very speedy ship for her size, averaging 18.29 knots an hour over a measured course. Her contract calls for 18 knots.

In a preliminary run late last night the Maine attained a speed of 19.25 knots an hour, which she maintained for 30 minutes. Her machinery worked smoothly and the performance of the big ship in every other particular was satisfactory to her builders.

The Maine lay at the Delaware breakwater until Wednesday night. She was sent to sea shortly after 7 o'clock for a preliminary run. For an hour and 38 minutes the great warship was sent ahead at top speed. From the very start it was seen she would exceed her contract speed. Much satisfaction was expressed when calculations, made after the run, showed the vessel had maintained an average speed of 18.08 knots an hour. For 30 minutes she had a burst of speed of 19.25 knots, which is considered extraordinary for a vessel of the Maine's displacement.

This morning the real test was begun over a measured course of 21 miles. During the night every part of the machinery was inspected, thoroughly oiled and cleaned. The big ship placed her average figures at 18.29.

PENNSYLVANIA GETS ALLEGHENY RIGHTS

Common Council Puts Through the Franchises Asked for With Just One Little Stipulation.

The Pennsylvania Company, by a vote of 22 to 5, came out victorious in Allegheny common council last night, in its fight for franchises. Every measure the company had presented passed, as amended and passed by select council.

The five opposing members, led by John R. Henricks, succeeded, however, in having a resolution adopted which provides that should the city desire to have the bridge at Chartiers street reconstructed, widened and otherwise enlarged, the railroad company shall agree to the same, and in case the company should fail to file such stipulation with the city recorder, that official is to veto the franchises.

All other measures passed by the select branch on Wednesday passed without opposition.

Other measures passed finally, were: ordinances for the vacation of an unnamed 15-foot alley in the Ninth ward, and a part of Superior Run avenue; authorizing the city recorder to employ a competent architect to prepare plans and specifications for a new bath house and an estimated cost of the same.

Upon the call of wards the following papers were presented and referred: Ordinances fixing the wages of the assistant market sweeper at 32 per day; chief clerk and register of deeds of the bureau of engineering and surveys, $1,800 per year; watchman at Riverview park, $2.25 per day; gang bosses in the bureau of water, $2.80 per day; assistant engineer of the bureau of engineering and surveys, $1,500 per year; chief inspector of the bureau of engineering and surveys, $1,350 per year; general repairmen in the bureau of lighting, $2.75 per day, and authorizing the raising of houses, by the city, in Stayton street, from the Brighton road to Superior avenue.

VICIOUS BRUTE MADE AN ATTACK ON HIS TRAINER

Event That Was Not Programed at the McKeesport Elks' Carnival.

AGED LION ACTED UGLY

Wallace, a Performing Beast With a Record, Gave Cardono, His Trainer, a Raking With His Claws That Made People Hold Their Breath.

An event not on the program caused the greatest excitement to prevail in the midway that is such a feature of the Elks' carnival now being held at McKeesport yesterday afternoon, when Wallace, a big lion, made a vicious attack on Lamont Cardono, his trainer. The man's life might have been sacrificed had it not been for his coolness.

Wallace is a lion with a reputation. He is 15 years old and is said to have killed seven men and injured a score of others during his career. Age does not improve his natural viciousness, and the intense heat of yesterday seemed to have aggravated him. The animal is one of the star attractions of the Bostock-Ferari Carnival Company.

Brute Was in an Ugly Mood.

Yesterday afternoon Cardono had been performing with the lion as usual and the brute which had been in an ugly mood all the week, gave him more than the usual amount of trouble. Cardono stated after the attack that he had expected something of the sort all the afternoon. He had given four performances in the presence of large crowds of people. At 4 o'clock when he entered Wallace's cage for the fifth performance, the large tent was crowded to the limit.

The lion was with difficulty put through his tricks, but Cardono finally finished the exhibition and started backward for the door which leads to his dressing-room. He seized the iron cage door to swing it open, when the lion with a terrific roar made a spring for his head.

Cardono, who never takes his eyes from his big pet, dodged and the lion's forepaws came down with awful force upon his left shoulder and forearm, which was raised to ward off the attack. The sharp claws sunk deep into the man's shoulder and arm, and the bone was laid bare. The blood spurted in a stream and a cry of horror went up from the immense crowd which was watching the affair.

Cowed the Beast With Blows.

Cardono never lost his nerve, but evading a second attack of the brute, which was evidently maddened at the sight of the blood drawn by his first attack, sprang to one side, as he did so bringing down the heavy stick he carried with all his force upon the lion's head. Cardono rained blow after blow upon the maddened beast while the sightseers held their breaths awaiting the issue of the unequal struggle.

The lion, finally cowed by the fearless attitude of the keeper, slunk into a corner and Cardono quickly made his escape from the cage, almost fainting from the loss of blood and the strain upon him.

When the trainer made his escape the crowd as one man sent up a cheer heard all over the Midway. Joseph Ferari, manager of the Bostock-Ferari Company, and assistant surgeon of the company, attended to the man's injuries. His arm is badly lacerated.

Two other members of the company are laid up in the hospital as a result of attacks from his lionship.

Cardono, with his left arm and hand bandaged and in a sling, wanted to go back into the cage for the next performance, but the management would not hear to the proposition. The story of the attack quickly spread over the Midway and in the evening the animal tent was the mecca for all carnival visitors.

The attendance at the carnival yesterday was again a record breaker, and the various shows had difficulty in handling the people. The Midway was in such a crowded condition last night that it was almost impossible to get through. An interesting feature in the afternoon was the marriage of Leander Spaulding, assistant electrician of the Bostock company, and Ometa, one of the dancers with the show. The ceremony was performed by Alderman Peter Langsdorf of the Sixth ward. Last night the members of the Pittsburgh lodge of Elks were entertained by the McKeesport contingent and a big parade and demonstration was held, with several hundred in line.

FILLS LONG-FELT WANT.

Street Car Employes Issue Practical Guide to City of Pittsburgh.

It may be that street car employes have a better chance to know the points on which the public gets confused, but at any rate, division No. 85, Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes, with headquarters at No. 420 Diamond street, has just issued the most practical and complete street and railroad guide that this city has ever had.

It is a fact generally appreciated that such a booklet has been one of the crying needs of the city for some time, and this one, which is called "The City Pathfinder," should have a big sale. It will be revised and brought up to date every month.

It contains information by which you can learn just exactly how to get to any street in the city, on what cars to travel, and where and when to get them. It also tells you on what schedule the cars run, both day and night. It has the names of all important towns in this section alphabetically arranged, with a number so that by referring to railroad schedules, in another part of the book, you can find out how and when you can get there. The location of passenger ticket and freight offices of all railroads, telegraph and express offices, wharfs, hotels, with rates, office buildings, banks, hospitals, parks, libraries, theaters—in fact, a mine of information.

Last, but not least, there is a map in every copy showing the two cities and the surrounding boroughs, with every street car line indicated in red ink, making it almost invaluable as a time saver and route finder.

It is issued by the association, and to every advertiser a copy was given for every dollar's worth of ads he inserted. Extra copies can be had at the association's headquarters, but it is to be hoped that it will be given a wider distribution and more general sale in the near future. This is a first of series, and its success here will lead to the publication of a similar book in all the important cities of America under the auspices of the street car employes.

PLANNING A PLAY FOR LEGISLATURE

WANAMAKER FACTION DECIDES TO SUPPORT PATTISON.

Their Eyes Still on United States Senatorship—Hence Chairman Creasy's Harmony Mission to the Warring Elements in Philadelphia.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
PHILADELPHIA, PA., July 17.—William T. Creasy, Democratic state chairman, was here on a harmony mission today. Mr. Creasy used the stock explanation, "private business," as an excuse for his visit. Chairman Creasy came at the instance of Col. Guffey, national committeeman, who is keeping close tab on the local organization, which at present is being run along lines agreeable to John Wanamaker.

Messrs. Donnelly and Ryan are the ostensible pilots, but it is believed they are guided solely by the chart prepared by Judge James Gay Gordon, Wanamaker's attorney and political counselor. Gordon is ably assisted by James Kerr, who desired the honor which ex-Gov. Pattison so easily won at the Erie convention. Since then the Wanamaker people have sulked, but there are now indications that they have decided to support Pattison, not in the interest of the gubernatorial candidate, but in the hope that the November election will develop a close legislative alignment; for, it must be remembered, Mr. Wanamaker has never lost sight of the senatorial phantom. Col. Guffey, however, has the inside track this time, and from a Democratic or fusion viewpoint all other senatorial aspirants are 100 to 1 shots.

On his arrival today Chairman Creasy sent for Gov. Pattison and Chairman Donnelly. The three had an hour's conference, and all professed to be satisfied over the campaign prospects. Pattison is compelled to look pleasant. He doesn't trust the Gordon-Donnelly people. They know his state of mind, and also know he dares not publicly announce his suspicions.

"Is Col. Guffey an active candidate for the United States senate?" Chairman Creasy was asked by The Gazette correspondent.

"That question is daily asked me," said Mr. Creasy, "but I am not qualified to answer it. Col. Guffey has not discussed the matter with me."

Chairman Creasy said, unofficially, that the candidates for governor, lieutenant governor and secretary of internal affairs probably would receive formal notification of their nomination at Reading the second week in September. A tour of the state would immediately follow. It was his opinion that Gov. Pattison and George W. Guthrie would go on the stump, assisted by other talent. Judge Gordon, it is said, has volunteered his services, but it is not known whether Col. Guffey will permit this notable firebrand to "blaze" the way to party defeat.

George D. McCreary, Republican candidate in the new Sixth congressional district, was formally notified of his nomination tonight. Mr. McCreary was formerly state treasurer and is president of the Market Street National bank.

Child Bitten by a Dog.

NEW CASTLE, PA., July 17.—(Special.)—The three-year-old son of Robert Earl of this place was attacked and severely injured this morning by a dog supposed to be the same that attacked Judge Wallace's horse two days ago. He was bitten twice on the arm before the animal was beaten off. The dog was caught and will be kept until it is decided whether it is mad.

ITALIAN WITH A WICKED KNIFE CUT MITCHELL

Serious Affray at East Liberty Stock Yards May Mean Murder.

NAPPLE'S QUICK WORK

Words Between Drovers and Italians Lead to a Cutting and This Was Followed by Some Reckless Shooting in East End Streets.

An exciting stabbing and shooting affray occurred at the East Liberty stock yards about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and as a result Harry Mitchell, aged 22 years, is at the St. Francis hospital with a dangerous knife wound below the heart.

Mitchell is a stock drover and lives at No. 6029 Broad street. Yesterday evening, with Harry Hart, who resides at No. 6401 Penn avenue and who is also a drover, Mitchell was sitting in front of the stock yards when a crowd of Italians came up the street.

Remarks passed between the men and for a moment trouble threatened. But the Italians continued on their way along the street, and it was averted for a short time. A little later one of the Italians, Alphonse Napple, returned to the drovers. He made no pretense of being hostile until within a few feet of Mitchell, when he whipped out a knife with a blade that operated automatically by pressing a snap.

As quickly as the knife opened he plunged the blade into Mitchel and then ran. Mitchell fell to the ground, and Hart, who had been unable to act quick enough to prevent the stabbing, rushed across the street to his home, where he procured a revolver and started after the Italian.

Hart shot rapidly as he pursued the fleeing Italian and endangered the life of many people who had been attracted by the trouble. Officers Peter Gaus and William Jones were soon on the scene, and placed both Hart and Napple under arrest. The former was locked in No. 6 police station charged with felonious shooting and the latter with felonious cutting.

Fight on a Trolley Car.

NEW CASTLE, PA., July 17.—(Special.)—At Carbon last night, on the New Castle & Youngstown electric line, Conductor C. H. Burgess attempted to put off half a dozen drunken Italians, who refused to pay their fares. He was savagely attacked by the foreigners, and Motorman J. P. Kistler came to his assistance, knocking one of the fighters from the car. The Italians resorted to their revolvers. One Italian was knocked unconscious, and they were finally thrown from the car.

Gypsy Queen of Pennsylvania Dies at Hollidaysburg; Pittsburghers to Start Coal Plant at New Cumberland

GYPSY QUEEN PASSES AWAY

Ruler of Tribes in Pennsylvania Is Dead at Hollidaysburg.

WAS PATRONIZED BY DEPEW

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
HOLLIDAYSBURG, PA., July 17.—Leffie Smith, "Virgin Queen" of the gypsy tribes of Pennsylvania, died here this morning, aged 92. She was born near Mt. Holly, N. J., and has ruled the nomads of this state for 70 years.

In her early youth she was a great beauty but spurned offers of marriage because of the peculiar gypsy law that forbids marriage of the rulers of the tribe.

She was a fortune teller, Senator Chauncey Depew being one of her notable patrons in securing revelations of future events.

The remains are lying in state in the Hollidaysburg camp, attended by 50 subjects. They will be taken to Baltimore for interment.

COKE IS COMMANDING MUCH HIGHER PRICES

Supply in Connellsville Region Falls Far Short of the Demand.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
CONNELLSVILLE, PA., July 17.—The Courier will say tomorrow:

Coke production in the Connellsville region last week went back close to the 250,000 ton mark. The works through the region resumed the six days' running after the lay-off of a day on the week of the Fourth at all save the Frick plants. Every pound of coke that can be produced is being burned. Neither is there an idle oven in the region that might be in operation. The demand for coke was never so general and strenuous except during strike periods, as it is at present. Consumers are scouring the Connellsville region from week to week in search of the silvery fuel.

Price is not a consideration. As high as $4 a ton for 50 car lots has been refused. The order would have been taken at that figure, but the operators are deluged with inquiries. The Merchant furnaces in the Mahoning and Shenango valleys are making great complaint of coke shortage. They are running on short orders and have used up what little surplus stock they laid up three or four weeks ago just after the anthracite strike began and cars were plentiful. Some of the operators who were behind with their orders then caught up and furnished their stacks with more than the daily allotment of loads. The result has been that pig iron production in the valleys is becoming restricted.

The detailed report of the operation and output of the region for the week ending on Saturday, July 12, shows a total of 21,425 ovens, of which 20,622 were active and 803 were idle. Compared with the lists of the previous week this is a decrease of 50 ovens. The Hoster plant of Painter & Fogg reports that the ovens have been forced to close down owing to a failure of their water supply, which, however, will only be temporary. They will soon be making coke again. During the shut down of the ovens the mine has been kept in operation and coal is being shipped in the raw state. The estimated production last week was 340,510 tons, a gain of 19,850 tons compared with the estimated tonnage of the previous week. The gain was due to the plants generally throughout the region going back to six days' running time. That was the average run made last week.

The shipments from the Connellsville region last week aggregated 12,142 cars, distributed as follows: To Pittsburgh and river tipples, 5,896 cars; to points west of Pittsburgh, 5,641 cars; to points east of Connellsville, 2,605 cars. Compared with the shipments of the previous week this was an increase of 568 cars.

A six days' run was made in the Lower Connellsville district last week. Of the 3,259 ovens in the district 2,963 were active and 296 were idle. The estimated tonnage was 37,040 tons compared with 34,540 tons the previous week. Shipments were 247 cars, compared with 308 cars the previous week.

THREE BREAK JAIL

Turnkey Is Overpowered by Prisoners at Parkersburg—One of the Men Is Recaptured.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., July 17.—(Special.)—The second delivery within three weeks occurred at the Wood county jail at 6 o'clock this evening. Three of the most desperate men that have been confined in that institution for several months escaped and two of them are still at large. William Hawkins, alias Ben Craig, was recaptured. The other two men are Ellis Cain and Harry Cedars. All were United States prisoners. Craig and Cedars were arrested for breaking into the postoffice at Welcome. The latter pleaded guilty to the charge and the former waived preliminary hearing. Cain had been convicted of robbing the Tavennerville postoffice.

The men rushed past the turnkey at the jail when he opened the door of the corridor to take them their supper. How they got into the corridor is a mystery that is puzzling the jail officials. They had been locked in the cells at noon. It is the belief of Jailor Buckley that they crawled through a hole 8x8 inches, which had been made in one of the cells by sawing away a small iron door. The prisoners were followed to the river by several hundred people, the majority of whom thought they were running to a fire.

NAMED LORD FOR CONGRESS.

Mt. Carmel Man Gets Short Term in Sixteenth District.

SUNBURY, PA., July 17.—(Special.)—The Sixteenth district Republican conferees met here today and nominated W. K. Lord, Mt. Carmel, Northumberland county, for the short term, caused by the death of Congressman Rufus K. Polk.

The contest for the full term between Frederick A. Godcharles, Milton, and Charles Evans, Berwick, has resolved itself into a tighter deadlock than ever. Fifty ballots were taken today without a choice being made. The delegates adjourned to meet at Milton next Tuesday.

Atlantic City

A New Suburban Traction Line—Rain Detracts from Horse Show. Wheelmen Meet.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 17.—(Special.)—The charter of the Atlantic City and Suburban Traction Company, which is to build a line from Atlantic City to Pleasantville, and have a branch line running along the bay shore to connect the suburban towns, was filed in the office of the county clerk at Mays Landing this afternoon. The company has a capital of $500,000 and the charter confers the right to build and maintain a trolley line 18 miles long. The incorporators are E. R. Sponsler of Harrisburg, C. Taylor Leland of Philadelphia and A. M. Jordan, president of the Atlantic City Sewage Company. The attorneys are W. S. Sponsler of Pittsburgh and Elie Chandler of this city. The work of building the line will begin within a few days after the charter has been filed at Trenton, which will be on Saturday, and will be pushed rapidly to completion. Where the terminal will be located in this city is not made known. The engineer is still at work on the map of the proposed road, and until he has finished his work its details will not be made public.

Rain Detracts from Horse Show.

The third day of the horse show opened with rain, and for a time it was feared that today's exhibition would have to be called off; but at noon the sky cleared and beautiful weather prevailed the rest of the day. The attendance was hardly up to yesterday's figures, but the interest was greater than before because of the high class of exhibits.

Among the interested spectators were George M. von Bonhorst, M. K. McMullin and George Elkins of Pittsburgh.

In the competitions today New York took five first, eight second and five third prizes. Philadelphia captured one first prize and one third. In the three days of the show New Yorkers have taken 16 first, 18 second and 14 third prizes and Philadelphians have won 4 first, 2 second and 4 third prizes.

Careless With a Diamond Ring.

L. H. Ryan, a business man of this place, removed his diamond ring before washing his hands in a hotel today and departed without replacing it. When he returned to the hotel the ring, which he values at $700, was missing and he has offered a reward of $400 for its return.

The Electrical Contractors.

After a one-day session in Philadelphia and a banquet there last night, the delegates to the second annual convention of the National Electrical Contractors' association came to Atlantic City to conclude their meeting. Three special cars brought them down from Philadelphia this morning, about 250 being in the party. The following members constituted the convention committee: Walter C. McIntyre, H. A. Loeb, M. R. Muckle, Jr., and E. R. Keller. After a stroll along the boardwalk and a dinner at the Bleak house the delegates proceeded to the assembly hall on the steel pier, where the business of the convention was resumed. The session was devoted mainly to the consideration of new rules and changes in the by-laws. The first convention of the association was held last year in Pittsburgh.

Rehabilitating the L. A. W.

The executive committee of the L. A. W. today decided to invite all motor cyclers to become members of the organization, and other plans were devised for rehabilitating and reviving interest in the league and in cycling matters generally. Thus far there have been 545 registrations of members at the headquarters.

This afternoon's parade was practically an impromptu affair, the number of wheelmen participating not being considered sufficient for a demonstration such as had been planned. A heavy rain discouraged the Philadelphians this morning and not more than one-fourth of those expected came down. Among those who made the run was C. P. Buchanan of Pittsburgh. About 125 wheels were in line this afternoon. An all-night smoker has been arranged for tonight at the Inlet pavilion, in addition to the races at the Coliseum track.

The following are among the Pennsylvania wheelmen and wheelwomen in attendance at the meet: A. H. Allen, S. S. Edwards, Miss S. B. Smith, C. D. Sanger, A. P. Dare, S. A. Vail, W. D. Walton, R. B. Van Bergen, Mrs. R. B. Van Bergen, Newell Van Bergen, Abner Steck, Joseph Reber, R. W. Paget, Charles L. Osborn, Richard G. Oellers, Jr., C. D. Nuss, J. W. McCay, C. H. Mende, H. E. Miller, J. M. CHAUTAUQUA.

Mr. Mann Explains Objects of Arts and Crafts Organization.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 17.—(Special.)—The Arts and Crafts conference was closed today by an exhibition of some new pieces of handcarving and an address by Forrest E. Mann, who explained that the motive of the society is to promote artistic work in all branches of handcraft; to bring designers and workmen into mutually helpful relations, and to counteract the popular impatience of law and form and desire for over-ornamentation.

Dr. Earl Barnes in his last lecture on "Child Development" discussed "The Growth of a Sense of Law." Mrs. Anna B. Comstock of Cornell university added to the nature study lectures by speaking on "Thoreau as the American Apostle of Nature Study." She said:

"The disease of the age is doing too much, and here a noble figure in American literature rises before us and leads us away to nature. I consider Thoreau as a prophet of nature study. His observations were exactly of the sort we would cultivate in our children. He knew the names of animals and plants because he wished to know his friends by names."

The Chautauqua School of Physical Education gives its first exhibition this evening.

INDUSTRIAL PARADE AT BEAVER FALLS

Manufacturers Participate in Feature of the Elks' Carnival.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., July 17.—Today the industrial parade of the manufacturers and business men of Beaver Falls took place at the Elks' carnival. It was a great success. It consisted of vehicles and horsemen almost entirely, and took an hour to pass a given point. Fully 25,000 people witnessed it.

The floats and decorated vehicles without exception were very pretty and many of them were of the most elaborate design. The fire department of different valley towns participated and the burgess, councilmen and other city officials occupied a prominent position in the parade as did the old soldiers and secret societies.

This is the fourth day of the carnival and thus far it has been a success. It closes Saturday.

M'KINLEY'S OWN MEET

Veterans of the Old Eighth Ohio Holding Two Days' Reunion Near Canton.

CANTON, O., July 17.—(Special.)—Members of the old Eighth Ohio regiment, "McKinley's Own," who served in Cuba during the Spanish-American war, are holding a two-day's reunion at Myers Lake, near this city. The meeting opened this morning, and many of the members are in attendance from northern and eastern Ohio.

Tonight an open meeting was held, at which addresses were made by Gen Charles Dick, Mayor Robertson and J. J. Grant. It is the intention during the present session to form a permanent reunion association. Tomorrow will be the big day, when prominent speakers will be present, and three sessions will be held. In the evening the reunion will close with a military ball, which will be largely attended.

Burned Corpse to Hide Murder.

HARRISBURG, July 17.—The charred body of James Devlin, with the skull crushed, was found this morning in a car of steel blooms in the yards of the Pennsylvania Steel Company at Steelton. The theory of Coroner Krause is that Devlin was murdered and that the car was set on fire to hide the crime.

Much Damage by Hail.

ERIE, PA., July 17.—(Special.)—Huge hail stones smashed many windows during a fierce electrical storm that swept over the city this morning. A dozen local greenhouses were demolished. The damage to crops and fruit in this section is severe.

LARGE MINES TO BE STARTED

Pittsburghers Buy Extensive Interests at New Cumberland.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
EAST LIVERPOOL, O., July 17.—New Cumberland, W. Va., is soon to have important additions to its industries according to the statement of State Senator John R. Donchoo of that city, who was here today. George W. and William T. Stewart, wholesale shoe merchants of Pittsburgh, former residents of New Cumberland, have bought a half interest in the extensive mining properties and the coal railway of the Marquet Coal Company.

The mines will be fitted up with the latest electrical machinery and started up after long idleness. A new corporation will be formed to run the business. The Stewarts have also purchased for $7,200 the "Squire Campbell farm, near New Cumberland, which contains fine veins of coal, fire clay and building stone. The coal railway will be extended to this land.

In addition the new company propose erecting a sewer pipe works equal to any in the Ohio valley. The plant will be independent of the trust. Other evidences of prosperity in New Cumberland are the erection of several fine new business blocks and the starting by Pittsburgh capitalists of the New Cumberland Trust Company; capital $100,000.

Arrested for Forgery.

ROCHESTER, PA., July 17.—(Special.)—W. H. Smith was arrested here on a description furnished to County Detective Lazarus by Chief of Police G. O. Cutler of Sistersville, W. Va., where Smith is wanted on a charge of forging two checks of $100 each on the Sistersville National bank. Smith was taken to Sistersville today by Chief Cutler.

McMillan Descendants' Reunion.

CANONSBURG, PA., July 17.—(Special.)—The descedents of the Rev. Dr. John McMillan, the pioneer Presbyterian preacher and founder of Jefferson college, will hold a reunion at the Old Hill church, near here, on Wednesday, August 27. Many of the descendents will attend.

Confederate Monument Dedicated.

ELKINS, W. VA., July 17.—A confederate veterans' monument was dedicated today on top of Valley mountain near here, in memory of southern soldiers who fell at the lonely spot. There were several thousand people present. The money for the monument was raised chiefly by a number of wealthy English residents of Mingo Flats, W. Va. Bishop Peterkin of the Episcopal diocese of West Virginia was orator of the day.

TO BUILD CLUB HOUSE.

Citizens of Indiana Select Site for a New Building.

INDIANA, PA., July 17.—(Special.)—Several prominent citizens of this place have formed the Indiana Country club and purchased the site for a fine summer clubhouse on the banks of Twolick creek, a few miles from this place. The site is one of the most picturesque spots in Western Pennsylvania and a sumptuous clubhouse will be erected. The plans, which are now being made, provide for a cafe, baths, dining-rooms and all the appurtenances of a modern clubhouse.

The main building will be built after the fashion of the old English country houses and will be two and one-half stories high. Other buildings will be added later, including stables and pavilions.

The ground around the Country club's proposed new home is of historic interest and the site of an Indian village that remained long after most of the redskins had been driven out of Pennsylvania. On the grounds are several mineral springs, and the stream that passes the clubhouse is noted for fine fishing. Work will begin immediately and the buildings completed in a few weeks.

A LETTER TO OUR READERS.

New Haven, Addison Co., Vt.
Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—About a year ago I was suffering from what I supposed was rheumatism. I became so bad that I could hardly get on my feet from a sitting position. I run down in weight from 185 to 145 pounds. I tried different kinds of medicine, but received little or no help. I saw Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root highly recommended for kidney trouble, but I never had any idea that my kidneys were affected. I thought I would try a 50-cent bottle of Swamp-Root and see what the effect would be. I commenced taking it according to directions and in a few days I saw that it was helping me. I used the 50-cent bottle and then bought two more dollar bottles, and they completely cured me. I have got back to my original weight, 195 pounds, and I am a thorough advocate of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.
Very truly, WM. M. PARTCH.
Feb. 17, 1902.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, sent absolutely free by mail, also a book telling all about Swamp-Root. If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

THE MAGIC RING

It's an old story of a lucky fellow who knew a good thing when he saw it. He won the girl's heart by giving her a ring. The ring exerted a magic influence because it was set with one of which never fade and are as brilliant and sparkling as the best blue-white diamond ever mined. They defy experts and fool the best judges. Set only in solid gold. Loose stones or mounted in rings, pins, studs, neck chains, etc. No other jeweler on earth can sell them.

Weather—Showers. Friday, July 18, 1902.

And Now for a Great Day in Clothing.

Men's and Boys'.

Let's see about this Summer Clothing. Looking into the future weatherwise, and taking the weather as it has come to us lately, it is good reasoning to say we'll have warm weather—or take it another way, Summer-suit weather—clear into the middle of October.

Now take the application: If you can buy extra good clothing for the price of the more common grades, is it not the best kind of business to do so? We mean clothing that will give you good service through two or three seasons.

Buy it now, wear it until cold weather comes, put it by until next Summer.

Isn't the suggestion a good one? If you think so see us today, or the half day of tomorrow.

We are going to make it an object for you to come to our Fourth Floor Clothing Department, partly outlined in the following list of magnificent reductions:

At $2.50 a suit—sold for $5 and $6—Broken lines of Knee-Pant Suits for Boys. Sizes for 9 years and up to 16.

At $2.75 a suit—sold for $5, $6 and $7—Sailor, Vestee, Russian Blouse and Sailor Norfolk Suits for little boys, comprising newest patterns and styles.

At $3.50 a suit—sold for $5, $6 and $6.50—Boys' Suits—full lines—comprising fancy materials, plain blue and black cheviot and thibet.

At $5 a suit—sold for $7, $8 and $8.50—All the fine Knee-Pant Suits in worsteds, cheviots and Scotch tweeds.

At $6 a suit—sold for $10 and $12—Young Men's Suits in light and dark checks, and dark mixed and striped cheviot. Our special make.

At $9 a suit—sold for $12.50 and $14—Young Men's Suits in mixtures, indistinct stripes, checks, overplaids, and plain blue and black worsted and cheviots.

At $8 a suit—sold for $15 and $18—About 100 Men's Suits—for men of large chest measure, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches. Light and dark mixtures.

At $12.50 a suit—sold for $18 and $20—Men's Fancy Suits of tan and gray homespun, brown mixed cheviots, gray striped worsteds, and serge cheviot in black with white stripe.

At $18.00 a suit—sold for $22 and $25—Men's finer suits in English home-spuns of indistinct stripes and checks, and light gray French Flannels with small stripes.

Outing suits—or everyday warm-weather suits—such as flannel, wool crash, Scotch cheviot and homespun suits, will be sold at these great reductions:

$ 7.50 a suit, from $10.00.
$10.00 a suit, from $12.00 and $14.00.
$15.00 a suit, from $18.00 and $20.00.

Blue Serge Suits—Those light-weight summer suits that seem to take the eye of men of every age, will be sold at reduced prices like these:

$ 7.50 a suit, from $10.00.
$12.50 a suit, from $15.00 and $18.00.
$15.00 a suit, from $20.00 and $22.00.
$20.00 a suit, from $25.00 and $30.00.

Regarding the various cloths of which the above suits are made it would be using unnecessary space, and interest you but little, to go into detail. The prices at which these suits were sold are evidence enough that the cloths are the best woolen cloths woven.

NOTE—After selecting your suit it would be a good idea to go to the Men's Furnishing Store, street floor of annex, and get some of those Collars and Cuffs. We extend the time for closing the sale until tomorrow at 1 P. M.

There are 17 styles of Collars and 5 styles of Cuffs. Collars 10c each, $1.25 a dozen. Same as sell for 20c. Cuffs 15c a pair, $1.70 a dozen. Same as sell for 25c.

PENN AND FIFTH.

WILL DETERMINE CITY'S RIGHT TO TAX FRANCHISES

Committee Will Begin Its Work of Investigating Corporations.

MEETING THIS AFTERNOON

Course of Procedure Will Be Mapped Out and Some Witnesses May Be Examined at First Session—Sworn Testimony Will Be Required.

The workings of corporations operating under city franchises, the manner in which they secured the same, and the right of the city to tax these corporations will be investigated at once. The committee which has the matter in charge will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock to organize and map out a course of procedure, as well as hear a few witnesses. The meeting of the committee was called yesterday by President C. S. Crawford. The work is to go steadily on, notwithstanding the hot weather, and the intention is to have an ordinance prepared by late in September.

Common council authorized the work of this committee and its appointment six weeks ago. President Crawford appointed on the committee W. C. Reitz of the Thirty-fifth ward, Dr. G. W. McNeil of the Twenty-first ward, who is also chairman of the joint committee on corporations, and Jacob Soffel, Jr., of the Thirty-second ward. The members of the committee have been out of the city at various times, and for that reason they were not ready to begin the investigation, but it will hold its initial session tomorrow afternoon.

The resolution authorizing the appointment of the committee directs it to investigate the franchises under which the various public service corporations are operating, to learn the manner in which these franchises were secured, and to learn whether the city has the right to tax such corporations. The committee is given the authority to summon witnesses, whether they are in the city employ or not, and to administer an oath to them. False swearing before this committee is amenable to punishment under the charge of perjury.

Any books or papers in the custody of the city government applying to the matter can be brought in before the committee and examined. City Solicitor Thomas D. Carnahan is directed by the terms of the resolution to assist the committee if it calls upon him. He will undoubtedly be called upon by the committee for an opinion as to the city's right to tax these corporations.

Several witnesses will appear before the committee this afternoon, although it was not known yesterday who these witnesses will be. One of the first points of information the committee wants to secure is the names of the traction companies, how many streets of the city are covered by traction lines, and whether the company or companies using the lines own them or whether they lease them from other companies. They want to know how many cars there are on the street car lines of the city and what the tax on these cars brings to the city. The opinion yesterday was that some official of the Pittsburgh Railways Company would be summoned.

President C. S. Crawford said he was under the impression that some officer of the city government was compelled as a matter of duty to have this information on hand. Ordinance Officer Robert H. Lindsay may be asked to get this information and attend the committee meeting today.

W. C. Reitz will likely be made chairman of the committee. It is not the intention of the committee to employ an attorney, although the legal advice of lawyers interested in the work of the committee will be asked.

TWO CATHOLIC SISTERS WOUNDED IN REVENGE

Act of a Man Who Could Not Learn His Parentage—His Victims Will Recover.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—Henry F. King, 30 years old, entered the office of the New York Foundling asylum this afternoon and shot two Sisters of Charity. He then ran into the grounds of the institution and shot himself in the left breast, making only a flesh wound.

King was taken to a police court, where he was committed without bail for examination Saturday. The injured women are Sister Angelo, 45 years old, shot in the right arm, and Sister Cecilia, 50 years old, shot in the left arm and side. Neither was fatally hurt.

King, who has been a frequent visitor to the foundling asylum, is believed to be demented. He suffered for some time from melancholia, according to the police, and on May 7 was arrested in the yards of the institution, after he had attempted to commit suicide by taking carbolic acid.

When he was arraigned King said he had begged the authorities of the asylum to give him information about his birth, but they had refused to do so. This so angered him, he said, that he did not know what he was doing.

King came to this city in 1898 from Baltimore, and commenced a search for the identity of his parents. In June, 1900, he applied to the probate court for an order directing the authorities of the foundling asylum to allow him to examine the books of the institution. Before Justice O'Gorman, Jane C. McCrystal, the treasurer of the asylum, stated the record of the books was: "Henry J. King, one day old; no name left with child. October 28, 1871, 8:30 p. m." Justice O'Gorman denied King's application to see the books.

Charming Summer Resorts.

Two interesting little books of the illustrated folder type have been issued by the Grand Trunk Railway system, one being entitled "Songs of the Nipissing," and the other, "The Eastern Coast of Lake Huron." The illustrations are very numerous, are of all sizes, and are scattered through the pages to elucidate the text and appear to the eye just as the story told in the letter press does to the mind. The prevailing note in these little works, upon which a profitable half hour may be spent by the reader, is the craving for change, and there can be no doubt that men and women who live in the stress and strain of today, and feel the throbs of advanced and advancing civilization, do require change—complete change of mind and body. The haunts described here minister to the intellectual as well as the physical health of jaded dwellers in cities. The physical exercise that can be obtained among the woods and waters create and promote a perfectly sound bodily condition, while the mind of course like that is to be found stimulates the intellectual faculties and prompt inquiry and investigation into nature's ways as they are revealed in the flora and fauna. The maps which are in these pamphlets enable the visitor to thoroughly realize his bearings at whatever part he may be, and the general information given enables him to economize his time and spend it to the best advantage.

Copies may be had on application to G. T. Bell, general passenger and ticket agent, Grand Trunk Railway System, Montreal, Canada.

AN ARMSTRONG COUNTY SNAKE HUNTER GAVE THE POLICE A THRILL.

He carried a well-worn satchel in one hand and in the other was a large paper bandbox, perforated with holes, from which every now and then a peculiar rattling sound emanated. He was clothed in a somewhat seedy garb, indicating that he was a ruralist. When he first hove in view of Superintendent of Police John McAleese and some members of the detective force, who were lounging about the front office trying to keep cool, they surmised that a "gold brick" game had been worked and that redress was wanted. He said his name was Jonathan Harkins and that he came from Armstrong county. His next utterance made everybody get a move on. "Want ter buy any snakes?" he queried, and shaking the bandbox the rattling sound was heard. McAleese got his breath, and, seeing that Harkins was in earnest, asked him what kind of snakes he was dealing in.

"I have the finest rattler that you ever saw," Harkins said, as he began taking the string off the bandbox. "He is certainly a beauty. Wait, I'll show him ter ye." Several in the room stood not on the order of their going, but went at once.

"Never mind opening that box," said one of the officers. "We don't want rattlers. If you had some black snakes or copperheads we would take them from you."

"Now that is too bad," replied the snake hunter; "and I had so much trouble capturing him. If I had only known you wanted copperheads and the black boys I could have got them for you. I had to kill this fellow's mate before I caught him."

McAleese asked the snake hunter how much he wanted for his reptile. "I will take $4 for him," answered Harkins.

"That's a great deal of money for a snake," replied the superintendent.

"I know it is, but it was worth $4 to fight him."

"Well, I will tell you what to do," said McAleese. "You go to my friend, Dr. J. Guy McCandless of the department of public works; he deals in snakes—is buying them all the time."

Harkins gathered up his possessions and left the safety palace, much to the relief and gratification of the office force. A stern officer met Harkins at Director McCandless' office and it is supposed that he carried the reptile back to Armstrong county.

TRYING TO LEARN THE DIFFERENCE

APPOINTMENT OF JOINT COUNCIL COMMITTEEMEN IS DELAYED.

President C. S. Crawford Wants to Ascertain What Members of His Branch Are Eligible to Confer on School Site.

A puzzling question has come to the surface in the appointment of the joint committee of councils to confer with the trustees of the Carnegie Institute with reference to securing a site for the proposed polytechnic school. The intention of the chairmen of the two bodies of councils was to appoint none on that joint committee who are already connected with the institute. President John S. Lambie of the select branch has appointed his committee, but President C. S. Crawford of the common branch has not yet done so. He is puzzled by the distinction between the board of trustees of the Carnegie library and the board of trustees of Carnegie Institute.

President Lambie yesterday appointed as his members of the committee Samuel J. Wainwright, Jr., of the Eighteenth ward, William E. Sankey of the Twenty-seventh ward and W. J. Zahniser of the Seventeenth ward. These three men will represent select council on this joint committee. This duty done, President Lambie will at once leave for Atlantic city, where he will remain until the first week of September, when he will return to take up the task of directing his rump committees through the fall and winter.

President Crawford said yesterday that he would appoint his members of the committee today. He has the appointment of four. The resolution for the appointment of the joint committee was presented by W. H. Stevenson of the Fourteenth ward, but it is not likely that he will be appointed on the committee, as is customary, owing to the fact that he is already a member of the committee on plan and scope.

President Crawford announced his intention to appoint on the committee only those members who are not now connected with the institute. It is well known that the presidents of councils and the five members of the joint committee on libraries are members of the board of trustees of Carnegie library. But Mr. Carnegie has placed all questions with reference to the polytechnic school in the hands of the board of trustees of Carnegie Institute. The question that has now arisen is whether the library trustees have anything to do with the polytechnic school or with the institute trustees. The whole question of the powers and authority of these two separate boards of trustees has therefore been brought up, and upon this question hinges the complexion of the common council members of the joint committee.

If the members of the joint committee on libraries are not connected with the institute, then some of them will get appointments on this joint committee. If they are connected with the institute, they will not. Mr. Crawford said he would wrestle with the problem until this morning, when he would make the appointments.

NEW ARMY LIEUTENANCIES.

Six Ohio and Three Pennsylvania Soldiers Have Chances.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—The secretary of war has designated these among other men to be examined with a view to their appointment as second lieutenants in the army from civil life. The list is to fill the vacancies existing on July 1 after the assignment of the graduates from West Point:

John R. Doyle, Pennsylvania; B. Mart Bailey, Pennsylvania; John C. Ashburn, Ohio; John Paul Stortemeyer, Ohio; Samuel Jones T. Steedman, Ohio; R. Ross Shaw, Ohio, and Emil Huebscher, Ohio.

A NEAT MACHINE SCHEME WAS KILLED

CONTROLLER LARKIN BLOCKS GAME TO INCREASE PAYROLL.

An Attempt to Have the Quarantine Guards and Medical Students Paid Out of Special Fund for Disinfection Discovered and Turned Down.

Controller John B. Larkin has trampled lustily upon another machine scheme which put more ward heelers on the payroll. Supt. A. J. Pitcairn of the bureau of health has had an idea that he could pay quarantine guards and medical students, that are doing vaccinating, out of the $7,500 provided by councils to afford means to disinfect houses containing infectious and contagious diseases. He will learn differently, and the regular funds for the bureau of health must be used. The bureau of health appropriation is extremely likely to be short, and the neat scheme devised to prevent this has fallen through.

The monthly payroll for the quarantine guards and for the 12 medical students is about $3,000. Application of these warrants to the $7,500 fund would exhaust it in less than three months. The city administration thought it saw an opportunity to put more men on the payroll for use in the county fight this fall, and seized it with a vengeance. The payrolls came in, charged to this special fund. Controller Larkin said nothing about it, but he simply instructed the bookkeeper to charge these amounts against the various funds of the bureau of health, and the disinfection fund is still intact, with the exception of that which has been paid out for the specified purposes.

This fund is not available for anything else. The resolution adopted by councils, transferring $7,500 from the contingent fund to the health fund, stated specifically that the money is to be used for disinfection purposes. Supt. Pitcairn was not wary. He testified before the salary committee that he was going to pay these men out of the disinfection fund, and Controller Larkin heard of this, just as he hears of most events in city hall. He bided his time, and quietly charged these amounts against the regular fund.

The number of quarantine guards varies from month to month. These guards are policemen, discharged or suspended for dereliction of duty, or some offense that ought to wipe them off the payroll altogether. They are employed because they are small fry politicians and because they have uniforms. They get the regular $2 50 a day paid to patrolmen. Two of them are detailed to each house under quarantine. One is on guard during the day, and one at night.

The medical students were also to be paid out of the fund set aside for disinfection. But the controller has stopped that also. The astute superintendent of the health bureau will know that his scheme has not succeeded when he reads the foregoing. These men are by courtesy called doctors, but they are students who have not passed the state examination. The city gets them for $2 a day.

Director A. H. Leslie and Supt. Pitcairn played a deep game to get this fund. The joint council committee on health wanted disinfecting done. It appointed a sub-committee that talked to Leslie and Pitcairn about it. They innocently advised a transfer of funds for the purpose. The reform element adopted the resolution in both branches of councils. But it will be used to furnish means for disinfection and nothing else, according to Controller Larkin.

TORTURING DISFIGURING HUMOURS

ITCHING BURNING AND SCALY ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN SCALP AND BLOOD WITH LOSS OF HAIR CURED BY CUTICURA.

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in Eczema; the frightful scaling as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scalled head; the facial disfigurement, as in pimples and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants, and the anxiety of worn-out parents, as in milk crust, tetter, and salt rheum,—all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That CUTICURA remedies are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety, and great economy have made them the standard skin cures and humour remedies of the civilized world.

COMPLETE TREATMENT $1.00.

The treatment is simple, direct, agreeable, and economical, and is adapted to the youngest infant as well as adults of every age. Bathe the affected parts with hot water and CUTICURA SOAP, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales, and soften the thickened cuticle. Dry, without hard rubbing, and apply CUTICURA OINTMENT freely, to allay itching, irritation, and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and lastly take the CUTICURA RESOLVENT PILLS, to cool and cleanse the blood. This sweet, wholesome treatment affords instant relief, permits rest and sleep in the severest forms of eczema and other itching, burning, and scaly humours of the skin, scalp, and blood, and points to a speedy, permanent, and economical cure when all else fails.

Millions of Women Use Cuticura Soap

Assisted by CUTICURA OINTMENT, for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales, and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening, and soothing red, rough, and sore hands, for baby rashes, itchings, and chafings, in the form of baths for annoying irritations and inflammations, or too free or offensive perspiration, in the form of washes for ulcerative weaknesses, and for many sanative, antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to women, especially mothers, and for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT PILLS (Chocolate Coated) are a new, tasteless, odorless, economical substitute for the celebrated liquid CUTICURA RESOLVENT, as well as for all other blood purifiers and humour cures. Each pill is equivalent to one teaspoonful of liquid RESOLVENT. Put up in screw-capped pocket vials, containing 60 doses, price 25c.

CUTICURA REMEDIES are sold throughout the world. SOAP, 25c. OINTMENT, 50c. PILLS, 25c. BRITISH DEPOTS: 27-32, Charterhouse Sq., London. FRENCH DEPOT: 5 Rue de la Paix, Paris. POTTER DRUG AND CHEM. CORP., Sole Props., Boston, U. S. A. "All about the Skin, Scalp, and Hair" free.

EVEN MICHIGAN TURNS DOWN HER BEET SUGAR MEN

Without Any Interference by the President, the State Upholds Him.

SHELDON LATEST VICTIM

One-Third of the State's Republican Delegation Beaten for Renomination — Reprimand of Gen. Smith Approved.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 605 Fifteenth St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.

Representative Sheldon of the Twelfth Michigan district is the fourth Michigan representative to be defeated for renomination and it is a coincidence worth noting that all four of these Michigan Republicans were men who were in the fore front of the fight against the Cuban policy of President Roosevelt. Mr. Sheldon himself was one of the men who organized the campaign against the Cuban reciprocity bill and it was thought that his work in this matter would strengthen him in his district. Instead, he is repudiated by his Republican constituents.

The other three Michigan Republicans who have failed to be renominated to congress are Representative Henry C. Smith of the Second district, Representative Edgar Weeks of the Seventh district and Representative Henry H. Aplin of the Tenth district. There are but 12 districts in the state, and so one-third of the men from there who opposed the president have gone down to defeat at the hands of their own party; and this has happened without President Roosevelt even criticising the course of the Republican representatives who opposed him in congress.

The principal claim which these men made for renewed recognition at the hands of their constituents was their defense of the beet sugar industry of Michigan against the threatened encroachments of Cuban sugar at a tariff discount of 20 per cent.

The action of the president in retiring Gen. Jacob H. Smith, who used intemperate and unjustifiable language in directing Maj Waller to "kill and burn" in the campaign in Samar, was today commented on by Republicans as a complete vindication of the attitude of the majority in the senate when this subject was up in that body for discussion. The president, in dignified language, reprimanded Gen. Smith for his conduct as calculated to mislead junior officers in their ideas of what civilized warfare should be.

ROOSEVELT TO PRESIDE.

Col. Walker of Pittsburgh Arranges For Ex-Prisoners of War Convention in Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—(Special.)—Chairman Warner and Secretary Bulkley of the citizens' executive committee for the encampment of the G. A. R., conferred this morning with Col. J. D. Walker of Pittsburgh, national commander of the Union ex-Prisoners of War. They intend to hold their annual convention simultaneously with the national encampment of the Grand Army. Col. Walker's visit was to effect preliminary arrangements, and he expressed confidence that the reunion of this fall would exceed in interest any earlier gathering of this association. The matter of a hall for the convention and quarters for the veterans was by agreement left unsettled.

Col. Walker expects fully 9,000 veterans to attend the ex-prisoners' camp fire. Not the least of his purposes is to arrange for a delegation to march in the second day's parade of the encampment. Col. Walker is past commander of Post 88 of Pittsburgh. While President Roosevelt was in Pittsburgh recently he obtained from him a promise that the president should preside over this annual gathering of the ex-prisoners.

NATIONAL CAPITAL NOTES.

Formal orders have been issued directing Gen. MacArthur to take temporary command of the department of the east after the retirement of Gen. Brooke, and directing Gen. Bates to take temporary command of the department of the lakes in addition to his present command.

Repairs on the cruiser Michigan, which was badly injured in a collision at Erie, will require about six weeks.

Gen. Wood has decided to defer his visit to the president at Oyster Bay until early next week, in order to complete certain work assigned him by the secretary of war in connection with the radical changes ordered in the uniform of the army.

It is probable that the army division of the Philippines will be abolished when Gen. Davis takes command September 30, and that it will be made a department divided into different districts.

Mr. Cromwell, of counsel for the Panama Canal Company, had an interview with Secretary Hay respecting the Isthmian canal project. Mr. Cromwell will sail Saturday for Paris, where he will be in a position to render any desired assistance to Attorney General Knox and Mr. Russell in reference to the settlement of title to the canal.

Secretary Root will sail for Europe the 24th inst., and expects to return in the middle of August.

The Spanish treaty claims commission before adjourning until autumn overruled the government's demurrer to the claims of American citizens for the destruction by the Cuban insurgents, deciding that the claims should be admitted for proof. The commission also decided that no legal state of war existed in Cuba during the insurrection prior to the Spanish war. Claims aggregating about $16,000,000 are involved in this decision.

Ex-Senator Call of Florida has decided to be an independent candidate for the United States senate. He complains that the Democratic primaries were fraudulent.

Prince Boris of Russia sailed from Japan for San Francisco on the 16th inst. The prince will remain some time in the United States, but as he comes incognito the government will take no steps to receive him formally.

LOCAL NEWS

Three Cities,
45 Boroughs,
26 Townships,
Fifth in Volume of Bank Clearings,
Fourth in Rank Among Cities.

Contagious Diseases—Ten cases of typhoid fever, two of scarlet fever and one of diphtheria were reported to the Pittsburgh bureau of health yesterday.

Probably a Murder—Lee Johnston, a negro, had his head cracked in a drunken fight at Clairton and was brought to the McKeesport hospital. He will probably die.

Girl Suspected of Thefts—Mabel Heincy, 12 years of age, is under arrest in Homestead because of a number of robberies in houses where she has been employed as nurse girl.

Is Missing From Home—Frank D. Miller of No. 1236 Railroad street, McKeesport, 30 years of age, and with $246 in his clothes when last heard of, is reported as missing from home.

Bridge Caught Fire—The McClure avenue bridge, Allegheny, caught fire yesterday afternoon in some unknown manner and an alarm was sent in to No. 5 engine company. The damage was slight.

Boy Suspected of Theft—John Astin, 9 years old, of No. 3267 McClung street, was arrested yesterday on suspicion of having stolen brass from the pumping station of the Monongahela Water Company.

Killed While at Work—James Welsh, 61 years of age, a laborer in the Homestead steel works, was killed by a train at his work yesterday afternoon. He lived at Munhall and leaves a large family.

No Mother to Greet Him—John Sullivan, son of a saloonkeeper at No. 1128 Braddock avenue, Braddock, who ran away from home three years ago, returned yesterday. While he was away his mother died.

Common Council Will Meet—President C. S. Crawford yesterday called a meeting of common council for next Monday night. The question of employing experts to go over the filtration plants will be taken up at that time.

Three Years in Madhouse—Joseph Mussil of Carnegie, for three years a waiter in the dining-room of the insane department of the county home at Woodville, is said to be acting queerly, and his friends suspect he is insane.

Injuries Proved Fatal—George H. Costello, 32 years of age, of No. 2510 Carson street, died at the West Penn hospital yesterday afternoon of injuries received the night before at his work as brakeman on the Union railroad at Homestead.

Hot Steel Severed Artery—William Schutte, 26 years of age, of First street, Esplen, was probably fatally injured in the McKees Rocks steel mill by a hot bar of steel passing through his thigh, burning him badly, as well as severing an artery, from which he nearly bled to death.

Riley Has Disappeared—Charles Riley, 35 years of age, is missing from McKeesport. The last seen of him was on Sunday night, when he was drunk and crawled into a coal wagon to sleep. His shoes and hat were found there the next morning, but nothing has been seen of Riley.

Burglar Made Good Haul—A burglar entered the home of Charles Seible, of Twelfth avenue, Homestead, early yesterday morning and stole $220. The money had been drawn from a bank to make a payment on a lot and it is thought the thief knew the money was in the house and where to look for it.

Burned by Molten Metal—Edward Mock, 18 years old, was admitted to the Mercy hospital yesterday suffering from severe burns received while employed at the Edgar Thomson steel works. By an explosion, it is said, a large amount of molten metal was thrown over Mock and he was burned about the breast.

For Stealing Dinner Buckets—Clarence Campbell, colored, 14 years old, was locked up in the Nineteenth ward police station as a suspicious character last night. It is claimed he has made a practice of stealing the dinner buckets belonging to the Pennsylvania railroad workmen about the East Liberty station.

Demand Generally Granted—According to officers of the Pittsburgh Pattern-makers' association the demand for increased wages was granted yesterday by nearly all the pattern shops in the two cities. Three shops refused to accede to the request, and the men struck. It is claimed that no more than 75 men are out.

Property Line Causes Fight—Carl Bender was held for court yesterday, by Justice of the Peace J. C. Sullivan of East Pittsburgh, on a charge of assault and battery preferred by Carl Orend. The men have been squabbling for several months over the line between the properties they rent, and finally came to blows.

Child Struck by Car—Henry Hoetzer, the 3-year-old son of George Hoetzer of No. 1809 Mary street, was struck by car No. 2104 of the Suburban line, near his parents' home last night. The boy ran directly in front of the car, but fortunately escaped with a severe scalp wound, which was sewed up and his father took him home.

Will Be Taken Back Home—W. A. Christy of Cleveland, O., who wandered from his home some time ago and entering the Central police station here asked for protection, as a score of men were trying to kill him, will be taken to his home in Cleveland this morning by the department of charities and corrections. He has been insane for several months.

Homestead Man Drowned—While swimming in the Monongahela river at Homestead, George Phillips of No. 110 Third street, that city, was drowned yesterday morning. He was floating on a raft and it drifted out in the river. The raft overturned and threw him in the water beyond his depth. His body was recovered at 1 o'clock and taken to his home.

Not Strange in Allegheny—John Swinehardt of Sewickley reported to the Allegheny police yesterday that a diamond pin had been taken from his shirt by an unknown man in Preble avenue, Allegheny, about 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning. Swinehardt said that the man asked him for something to eat, when he approached, and when refused, drew a revolver and took the pin.

Attacked Father and Son—Albert Keller of Kilbuck township was arrested yesterday on two charges of aggravated assault and battery. The charges are made by Charles Houseback, Sr., and Charles Houseback, Jr., also of Kilbuck township, before Alderman Samuel Abernathy of Allegheny. It is alleged that on July 5 Keller met the Housebacks on a road near Emsworth and, after cursing them for some alleged grievance, struck the elder Houseback on the head with a stone, inflicting a deep gash. The younger Houseback went to his father's assistance and, he charges, Keller struck him on the head with a club. Keller was held in $500 bail on each charge for a hearing on Saturday.

Daring Climber Drowned—The body of Patrick Joyce, the structural iron worker, who was drowned by falling from the Eleventh street bridge of the Pennsylvania railroad, on Monday, was recovered yesterday at the foot of Anderson street, in the Allegheny river. Joyce is the man who climbed the top of the flagpole on the roof of the Frick building, to adjust the halyards for the flag.

Stabbed Man in the Neck—Deputy United States Constable George S. Owens will leave this morning for Washington, D. C., having in charge William Wright, a negro wanted there for assault with intent to kill. Wright stabbed another negro in the neck with a knife during a quarrel last November. He was arrested in Braddock several weeks ago and has been awaiting extradition papers since.

Picnic Was a Success—The basket picnic held on the grounds of the Boys' Industrial home at Oakdale yesterday was a success in every way. A large crowd of Oakdale people and many Pittsburghers were in attendance. The home was thrown open for the inspection of all who cared to go through it, and a lunch was served. Several checks were received from persons who sent their regrets at not being able to be present.

Broken Off in His Lung—Timothy Halpin, 19 years of age, who boarded at No. 7 Chester avenue, Allegheny, was dying last night at the Allegheny General hospital from injuries received during the day at Yant's steel works, on Pennsylvania avenue. He was knocked down by a crane and fell upon the handle of a sledge hammer which, after penetrating his left lung, broke off. His parents are said to live at Yeddo, Pa.

Died on Way to the Picnic—While starting for a day's excursion at Rock Springs, Miss Annie Weixel of Idlewood was taken ill in a Carnegie street car and died in the office of Dr. R. L. Walker shortly afterward. She was 40 years old and had been troubled with heart disease for some time. As she boarded the car she fainted and Conductor Frank Anderson hurried the car to the physician's office where she died.

Intruder at Wedding—As a grand finale to a Hungarian wedding in Homestead Justice of the Peace John Jones had Joseph Morlock before him yesterday morning for a hearing on a charge of aggravated assault and battery and held him for court under $300 bail. John Pike is said to have poked his head in the door of the house where the wedding was being held and Morlock is charged with throwing a brick, inflicting an ugly wound.

Women Stood in Hole—Telephone linemen met opposition in Third avenue, McKeesport, yesterday noon in a manner entirely unexpected because the people who were objecting to the erection of a pole did not own the property, and probably did not know what they were doing. Joseph Riblet, a lineman, was struck on the head by a stone, and had three toes mashed. A Hungarian woman stood in the hole, made for a pole for three hours. There were about 50 in the crowd, about the lineman, one-half of them being women.

TREATMENT OF DEAD WAS OUTRAGEOUS

Coroner Jesse McGeary Tells of Johnstown Mine Disaster and Its Result.

Coroner Jesse M. McGeary is of the opinion that Coroner E. L. Miller of Cambria county, will meet with a great deal of difficulty in making his investigation of the Rolling Mill disaster on July 28. On Sunday Coroner McGeary went to Johnstown at the solicitation of Coroner Miller to look over the scene of the catastrophe. He also gave Coroner Miller a number of forms of oaths to administer to the witnesses when being examined.

Coroner McGeary said last night that Coroner Miller made a great mistake in permitting the undertakers to handle the remains of the mine victims as they did. In the first place these persons were never properly identified. Some persons unknown to Coroner Miller went to the morgue and said the victim was a relative of theirs.

Little record was kept of the dead, and nothing was recorded of the person making the identification. "This was all a great mistake," said Coroner McGeary last night. "Coroner Miller should have never left those bodies leave the morgue until some positive identification had been made on oath by the nearest relative. When the relief money is to be distributed among the relatives of those dead men it will be hard for the company to determine who is entitled to it. I was told that some bodies were identified by several different persons, by as many different names.

"The bodies were handled in a most heartless manner. The undertakers in Johnstown simply snatched them from the relatives and from the coroner's deputies. No receipts were given for the bodies, and it is not certain their own relatives received them."

"The careless manner in which the undertakers prepared the bodies was simply outrageous."

IN SIGHT OF BROTHER.

Conductor George C. Thompson Leaned Too Far From Car and Was Fatally Hurt.

Within sight of his brother, Conductor George C. Thompson of the Consolidated Traction car No. 324 on the Atwood street line was hit by another car and died of his injuries at the Mercy hospital two hours later last night.

Thompson was reaching outside of his car as it was passing Forbes and Chestnut streets. While reaching forward he lost his balance and was unable to recover himself before a west-bound car coming in the opposite direction hit him. The impact fractured his skull and rendered him senseless.

His brother, John Thompson, also a street car conductor, was following him on a Highland avenue car and was one of the first to reach the side of his injured brother. He was taken to the Mercy hospital in the emergency ambulance, where he died two hours later. He was 23 years old, single, and his home was in Callery Junction, Butler county. While in this city he boarded at No. 5703 Rural avenue.

ELUSIVE TRACY.

Sheriff Cudihee Too Slow and Abandons the Pursuit.

BLACK DIAMOND, WASH., July 17.—Tracy has escaped again. He has eluded Sheriff Cudihee and many picked men, who had advanced on his hiding place, three miles from here, last night.

The posse arrived at Tracy's hiding place six or eight hours after he had left. He had taken a rowboat and gone to the east end of Sawyer lake, presumably about 2 o'clock this morning, accompanied by his two confederates. Sheriff Cudihee and the posse returned to Black Diamond this afternoon. The chase from this point has been abandoned.

ABOUT $4,000 IS INVOLVED

F. P. Livingston Alleges That He Indorsed the Check and Gave It to an Attorney, Who Has Since Refused to Pay It Over.

In the counter affidavit of claim filed yesterday in the case of the trustees of the synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church of North America against F. P. Livingston serious charges are made against a member of the Allegheny county bar. The action was a foreclosure proceeding upon a mortgage.

The mortgage was for $4,000, was dated June 18, 1900, and was to run for three years. A defense was set up by Livingston to all except $272.80, he alleging that an attorney and agent of the plaintiff approached him with a check for $3,934.50, and claimed he would hold it until a previous mortgage on the property was settled. Upon this statement, the plaintiff says, he indorsed the check and allowed it to remain in the possession of the attorney and that since then the lawyer has neglected and refused to pay the same.

In the counter-affidavit of claim it is alleged that the attorney was A. N. Hunter. It is alleged by the plaintiff that on June 11, 1900, Hunter applied for the loan from the synod, and that all the time the transaction was in progress he did not report that there was a previous lien upon the property.

It is alleged that if the defendant indorsed the check and handed it back to Hunter it was without the authority of the plaintiff. It is also set forth that the plaintiff did not learn until later that Hunter had collected and misappropriated the funds called for in the check.

SAYS CONTRACT IS VOID

Harry Moore Files Equity Suit Alleging Agreement Made Between Water Companies Is Fraudulent.

Harry Moore yesterday filed a bill in equity in common pleas court No. 2 asking for the annulment of a contract between the Chartiers Valley Water Company and the Federal Water Company, upon the ground that it was made fraudulently and without authority.

Moore says he owns 500 shares of stock in the Chartiers Valley company. It is alleged that on June 1, 1901, the president of the company, James F. Grimes, made a contract with James W. Wilson, president of the Federal company, to supply the latter company with 200,000 gallons or more per day at five cents per 1,000 gallons. Moore says this was done to enable the Federal company to fulfill its contract with the city of Pittsburgh for supplying Marshalsea with water at the rate of 10 cents per 1,000 gallons.

Moore also alleges the company cannot sell water at five cents per 1,000 gallons and make expenses; that the contract should have been direct with the city, and that it is a fraud upon the stockholders. It is claimed Grimes exceeded his authority.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

An inventory and appraisement of the estate of Catherine Dixon shows a valuation of $35,066.

The will of Sophia Thoma, late of Pittsburgh, was filed for probate. She bequeathed $12,150 estate to her children.

W. H. Shannon and others entered partition proceedings against Robert McFadden and others. The property is in Braddock.

Jennie D. Squibb entered suit against R. M. McAnulty for $500 damages. The plaintiff claims the defendant seized and carried away her household goods.

A petition in bankruptcy was filed by James S. Iles, a saloon and restaurant keeper of Pittsburgh. His schedule shows liabilities $9,592; assets, $12,470.

Attorney J. F. McKenna was appointed examiner to take testimony in the case of Elizabeth McCaffrey against Joseph McCaffrey and others, an action to prove a lost deed.

Petitions in bankruptcy were filed by Leroy DeFrance Champlin, a lumberman of McKean, liabilities $4,576, assets $645, and Samuel A. Lutz, a hotel keeper of Fragality, liabilities $21,446, assets $240.

John Tobwitz entered suit against Nick Malics for $500 damages. The plaintiff says he purchased meat, four gallons of wine and two kegs of beer from the defendant. He states that the meat was damaged and wants damages.

A petition was filed by Florence C. Miller asking to be declared trustee of a fund of $15,000 arising out of the sale of the Monongahela house, to pay the annuities of his brother, Hampton J. Miller, under the will of their father.

An order was made giving the custody of Anna M. Loos, the 2-year-old daughter of George and Mary Loos, to Mrs. Loos' parents. The mother and father of the child separated. It is claimed Loos took his child from his mother-in-law's house upon a pretext of taking her for a walk.

In quarter sessions court the following applications for liquor license transfers were filed: Henry Hamms, Nos. 30 and 32 Fourth avenue, Carnegie, to R. Mocklello; P. E. Morse, No. 125 Westinghouse avenue, Wilmerding, to O. H. Beam; L. Trapesser, Grigsby avenue, lower St. Clair township, to John Zimmerman.

Suit was entered by William J. Fee, Jr., aged 3 years, and his father, William J. Fee, against the Allegheny Light Company, for $30,000 damages to the son. It is alleged that, by coming in contact with a live wire of the defendant company at Rebecca and Dauphin streets, the boy had his right hand and left arm badly burned and his toes nearly burned off.

Executions were issued as follows: The Trustees of the synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church of North America vs. Samuel McNaugher, $80,155; Life Protective Savings & Loan Association vs. M. L. Meredith et ux, $1,830; Alexander Gilfillan vs. Jerred Clark, $455; C. Webster vs. Mrs. Joseph Wesling et al, $88; Ella M. Patterson vs. William B. Reese, $2,215; W. A. Roberts vs. Robert F. Thuma et al, $4,669; Raphel Adolph Company vs. George J. Pipole, $450; the National Casket Company vs. John B. McNulty, $359; Sarah E. Rhodes vs. S. G. Rhodes, $849.

GOOD TEMPLAR OFFICERS.

Election Was Feature of Yesterday's Session of Convention at Millvale.

The feature of the third day's session of the forty-ninth annual convention of the Independent Order of Good Templars of this state, meeting at Millvale, was the election of officers. The following were elected: Grand chief templar, George Rankin, Jr., Wilkinsburg; grand councillor, John Dixon, Johnstown; grand vice templar, Miss Gertrude Smith, Westport; grand superintendent of juvenile temples, Edward Coleman, Philadelphia; grand secretary, Miss Grace C. Embree, West Chester; grand treasurer, Mrs. Eliza A. Bishop, Harrisburg; G. A. secretary, William McIlveen, Pittsburgh; P. G. C. T., the Rev. George B. Jones, Philadelphia; grand marshal, Frank Reynolds, Freedom; grand deputy marshal, Miss Sarah Laugham, Turtle Creek; grand guard, O. F. Westland, Braddock; grand sentinel, J. W. Combs, Fayette City; grand messenger, Charles C. Garen, New Brighton; D. G. W. C. T., Mrs. Annie G. Weichmann, Philadelphia; trustees, the Hon. S. B. Chase, P. R. W. G. T.; Theodore K. Stubbs, P. G. C. T.; sister, Mrs. Annie G. Weichmann, D. R. W. C. T., Philadelphia.

The meeting adjourned to meet in Johnstown in July, 1903.

Declared a Dividend.

The board of directors of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie held the regular meeting at the Terminal building on South Smithfield street yesterday and declared a semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent on the capital stock. This is the regular dividend and its size, 10 per cent a year, indicates the notable prosperity of the "Little Giant." The greater proportion of its earnings are put into permanent improvements. No other business was transacted at yesterday's meetings.

General Strike Tabooed.

There will be no general strike in the bituminous coal mines. The program of President Mitchell is far more effective as an instrument for aiding the strikers in the anthracite region and will, no doubt, be adopted. The convention adjourned until today out of courtesy to the anthracite delegates, that they may hold a caucus and determine what course to pursue, but when it meets it will vote for what President Mitchell wants.

Thus the president of the United Mine Workers has given another illustration of his intelligence and the power of his leadership. The proposed general strike would have been disastrous to the miners' union and its individual members. It would have inflicted widespread suffering upon labor in general, without any compensation. These things Mr. Mitchell knew and for the welfare of the country he has thrown his whole influence for the more sensible course.

Mr. Mitchell's keynote is to fight money with money—to raise a fund that will enable the anthracite miners to remain out until the operating and railroad companies come to terms, or are worn out waiting. Unemployed miners could give no assistance to that plan. They could only divide the relief fund with those already in sore need of it. Miners working under contracts can make themselves a pillar of support instead of a burden to the cause. The whole country—with the possible exception of the anthracite mine operators—will congratulate itself upon a great danger averted and probably the public will testify its thankfulness by adding something to the fund for the strikers.

Ready to Begin Work.

By this evening it is expected the councils committees will be appointed ready for the investigation concerning a site for the Polytechnic school. Before organizing the committees have been pretty well instructed in public sentiment affecting the matter. The school is approved because it is to be an endowed institution that will not entail endless expense for maintenance, but the feeling is general that the people cannot go on forever bonding themselves for improvements, or to take advantage of generous gifts.

From the start the work of the councils committee, if it represents public sentiment, will be to inquire what site, if any, is available without exceeding the expenditure voted for the purpose. The time has come for the city to adopt a "pay-as-you-go" policy that will keep down the millage upon valuations already about as large as the traffic will bear. If a site for the Polytechnic can be had for the amount in the treasury devoted to that end there should be no further delay about closing the bargain and getting to work. If not, then other sources of legitimate revenue should be sought at once.

The delay over this matter has been wearisome to the public and vexatious to Mr. Carnegie. Yet neither the one nor the other justifies a leap into extravagance or the voting of more bonds.

Two Unadjusted Cases.

If Senator Bailey of Texas intends to try to exact satisfaction from Solicitor Penfield of the state department for his very circumstantial language reflecting on the character of the senator, he had better expedite matters, for Solicitor Penfield is preparing to go abroad. It is true that up to the present time the fire eater from the Lone Star State has refrained from attempting to punish Penfield, although his friends and abettors expressed the opinion that Penfield's remarks could not and would not be permitted to pass unnoticed. The solicitor is justified by this time in concluding that nothing is likely to be done by Mr. Bailey, and that he might as well get ready for his trip.

Solicitor Penfield is going to Holland, to represent the United States before the board of arbitration at The Hague. The case which is to be submitted to the court is an old claim of this country on behalf of the Catholic bishops of California against the Republic of Mexico. It amounts to about $1,400,000, being the interest on funds set apart for Indian education, the adjustment of which account was interrupted by our war with Mexico. Nearly thirty years ago the United States government secured the principal of the claim, but the bishops have been seeking the interest ever since, and Mr. Penfield will attend the arbitration proceedings as an attorney to try to get it.

In the meantime the differences between Bailey and Penfield remain unadjusted and nobody has suggested arbitration.

No Issue Left for the Democrats.

The Democratic party is at a loss for a national issue. Bryan would go before the country on the same old Populistic planks, but sanger Democratic leaders know the people will not have them. They would like to make an issue on the trusts, but, as Senator Dubois tells them, "President Roosevelt has jumped that claim," and the Democrats are merely sitting around and lamenting it. They would like to make the Philippines an issue, but the people are satisfied with what has been accomplished and content to trust the future in the hands of those who have done so well. They would like to attack the national expenditures, but there again they are blocked, for the national prosperity justifies the congressional appropriations and in addition congress has cut off the taxes that bore on the people. Militarism cannot be made an issue, for the army has been reduced. Really there seems nothing left for the Democratic party but to sit on the fence and watch the Republican prosperity procession pass by to another triumph. As Senator Vest said in spirit and almost in letter, it isn't worth while to try to head it off, for it can't be done.

Its Fruits in Evidence.

The Philadelphia Press and the Philadelphia Record are devoting these warm summer days to a discussion of the ethics of the "ripper" legislation of the last legislature, though why they should quarrel about it is not easy to make out, inasmuch as they agree that it was bad. In this we disagree with them. Desperate cases require desperate remedies. There was a desperate case in the municipal affairs of the city of Pittsburgh and the sovereign power of the state was invoked to end the intolerable conditions. The conditions were ended and all was well until a governor intoxicated with power attempted to nullify the benefits conferred by the legislature to advance his own political fortunes. In this he failed. He wrought only temporary confusion in the affairs of Pittsburgh and accomplished his own destruction. The people, encouraged by the "ripper" legislation that is condemned by our Philadelphia contemporaries, moved in a solid mass in defense of the liberties the "ripper" charter had placed within their grasp. The result is apparent in the dominance of popular sentiment in one branch of councils and in an important branch of the executive department of the city government, resulting in successive defeats of municipal jobbery that promise a final complete triumph of the people over the spoilsmen. The "ripper" should be judged by its fruits. So far as it has had full play it has worked good. That it has not accomplished all the good that was intended is due to the circumstance that its work was interfered with by the attempt of the governor to intrust its later workings to the political and business partnership it was designed to overthrow, with which partnership he allied himself. The people have defeated the partnership in one fight and will defeat it again if it enters the field against them.

The Outing Season.

From the published estimates of the various railroad companies for the present week it is evident that the annual hegira of city dwellers to the seaside and mountain resorts is in full swing, and though the "rush season" is several weeks behind because of the cool weather conditions that have prevailed, the record will doubtless be broken before the end of the month. The prosperous business conditions that have existed for several years have greatly broadened the chances of a summer outing for people who formerly had to forego that pleasure. Hundreds and thousands of Pittsburghers will within the next few weeks find rest and recreation in some of the distant or nearby resorts. All classes will be represented, the prosperous worker as well as his more affluent employer. It has come to be an approved idea that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" among the great army of industrial workers as well as among the men whose labors are more exacting from a purely mental standpoint. Good wages and the exercise of thrift have put the privilege of a rest period into the hands of men who a dozen years ago were compelled to stick close to work every working day in the year to make ends meet.

There has also been a vast improvement in the conditions of even those people whose means will not allow a vacation away from home. There are parks in which music and amusements are dispensed free, and river excursions, combined with the privilege of brief outings in the nearby country at a cost within the reach of people of the most moderate means, and for the very poor provided in sweet charity's name. For those who go and for those who stay there are larger and better facilities for extracting comfort and rest out of the vacation season than our fathers and our mothers knew. Everybody who can should stop a bit during the hot spell and gain new energy and strength for the work that lies before.

"Sweet recreation barred, what doth ensue
But moody and dull melancholy,
Kinsman to grim and comfortless despair,
And, at her heels, a huge infectious troop
Of pale distemperatures, and foes to life?"

A Successful Encampment.

Today will doubtless see the last of the successful encampment of the National guard of the state on the historic battlefield of Gettysburg, and before tomorrow night all the troops will have "stacked arms" in their home armories, tired and worn out with the week's strenuous soldiering but happy over the results of an encampment that has been marked by some unusually pleasant features. In the first place the encampment has this year had fine weather conditions throughout. This is always an important consideration and the Gettysburg gathering of the guards will pass into history as one of the best weathered encampments ever experienced. The health of the soldiers has also been remarkably good, 95 per cent of the men being able to go through with the arduous duties of camp life without interruption from sickness. The spirit of the men has been excellent and the results of the harmonious work accomplished are sure to be felt in a more thoroughly compacted and enthusiastic body of citizen soldiers.

The state is proud of her National guard and relies upon the courage, strength and efficiency of the defense that could through it be offered at a moment's notice in behalf of the flag. Officers and men alike are to be congratulated upon the success of the Gettysburg encampment.

A Benevolent Institution.

Undoubtedly much good may be accomplished by the institution dedicated by the Odd Fellows at Grove City yesterday. It is purely benevolent in its design and is not likely to exert any evil influence upon members of the order who have planned to care for their aged and infirm brothers. Membership in the society implies that the individuals are not derelicts, who would care less for their own progress because assured of a haven in their old age. That is a penalty attaching only to institutions for the benefit of the unselected mass, containing the degenerate and derelict class. It is a fraternal duty to care for the unfortunate and the Wayside Inn is a fulfillment of that function.

Good Opening to Begin.

Director Leslie's assertion that he will have every person in the city of Pittsburgh vaccinated before the end of October makes an excellent opening for the local Anti-Vaccination society to test his power to do so in the courts. The director of the department of public safety declares that any one who refuses to be vaccinated will be promptly arrested and fined and re-arrested and fined until he consents. If he refuses to pay the fine he will be committed to jail or workhouse, where he will be vaccinated by force, if necessary. This is an extreme proposition, so if the antis intend to fight they had better begin at once by petitioning for an injunction. There will never be a better opportunity to get a judicial decision on the whole question of compulsory vaccination.

Martinique Too Slow.

From the New York Tribune.

The king of Dahomey has evidently not lost that fondness for diversion which resulted in his removal from his ancestral kingdom to Martinique. Lost to sight during the recent convulsion there, it was suggested that he had been destroyed with such of his court and harem as the French permitted to surround him on his prison isle.

But fate had other things in store for the monarch, as he turns up with a communication to the French colonial office. He is unhappy in Martinique and wants to be taken to Paris for a little vacation. "It is not," he says, "that I am ill treated, or, the contrary, I am the object of the utmost benevolence. But just now Martinique offers so few distractions."

DEVERY IS WORKING FOR CROKER'S SHOES

Has Same Rough-and-Ready Qualifications for Bosship as the 'Squire.

[SPECIAL TO THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, July 17.

"Big Chief" Devery is carrying on his political campaign with characteristic energy. Fireworks, free beer and oratory are all flying about Eighth avenue near the "Four Corners" at Twenty-eighth street, and the most popular man in the avenue is W. S. Devery, former chief of police of New York. The rumor that he may succeed Richard Croker as leader of Tammany hall becomes stronger every day. It looks to the average New Yorker as if Devery is the legitimate successor to the squire. He has about the same amount of education, is a rough-and-tumble fighter, displays much robust good nature when he thinks it wise to do so, and can be liberal with his money when playing politics. That the "Big Chief" wishes to be boss of the Tammany concern is acknowledged by himself and well understood by everyone, his enemies as well as his friends. If he carries his fight in the Ninth district and becomes leader there, turning out Goodwin, there will be nothing to prevent his working steadily up to the higher position. He may sit at the head of the table in the Democratic club, just as Croker used to sit, and he will grace that exalted position as well as did the man who held the position of boss so long. Devery is working hard for popularity. He knows that the average voter is a self-seeker and is disposed to cast his vote only for the men that will do something for him. Devery is a man of the world, and a politician, too; so he will establish depots for the free distribution of ice all along Eighth avenue and be around himself to see that it is properly distributed. He is arranging for a free outing for 10,000 women and children, too. It is to take place within a few days, and, besides giving the women and little ones a ride to a neighboring summer resort, he will provide free sandwiches and coffee and fresh milk for the babies. It is said that 10 barges will be lashed together to convey his beneficiaries to the resort, and that there will be several bands for dancing on the great float. "Oh, Devery knows how to do it, he does!" was the enthusiastic remark of a Ninth district heeler to me this evening.

Chauffeurs More Circumspect.

It is well that the governors of the Automobile Club of America are taking up the matter of the reckless and inconsiderate use of automobiles on the public roads. So far as New York is concerned, however, there is not much cause of complaint. There have been a few fatalities through autos running down people, but not for the last few weeks. The warnings given from the bench, when investigations of the disasters were made, have had their due effect, and chauffeurs are more careful. As for the frightening of horses by autos, that is almost entirely a thing of the past in Manhattan borough. Horses here are used to them and take hardly any notice of them. Still it is well that the Automobile club, which comprises in its membership so many influential men in different cities, is paying serious attention to the possible dangers of the horseless carriage and are determined to eliminate them if it can be done.

Lillian Sheds $100,000 Tears.

Lillian Russell has been having much trouble over her automobiles of late. Only a few days ago her chauffeur was arrested for fast driving in a Long Island village, and today a shed in which two autos belonging to her were stored was burned to the ground. The two machines were valued at $10,000, but the shed was worth only $800. Lillian's tears, which she shed at the loss of her beautiful autos, are valued by sentimentalists at $100,000 a tear.

Mayor Low's Taxation Ideas.

Mayor Low keeps his promise to issue what he calls a "weekly talk." One of them came hot from his diaphram today and is the main subject of discussion by taxpayers tonight. He dilated on what he termed "our insufficient working capital." He said that when the city makes a contract for a public work the full cost of that work is credited against the debt limit, although all the bonds may not be issued for several years. For this reason the city cannot undertake many necessary public improvements, notwithstanding the fact that it is financially able to do so. What New York most needs, in the opinion of the mayor, are a smaller tax levy and a larger working capital. The magnitude of these requirements is such that it would be idle to try to discuss them here; but the mayor has the comfortable self-assurance that he has delivered himself of a dictum that will keep his critics busy until he is prepared to spring something else on them next week.

The Latimer Family Skeleton.

Sensation grows in the case of Walter Latimer, who was shot dead in his bedroom a week ago. There seems to be a desperate effort to prove that the victim's wife had some guilty knowledge of the murderer, but nothing has been done to that end, so far. Still, the developments at the inquest today were very painful to her, showing that often a family skeleton is brought suddenly into the light by a great and unexpected tragedy.

Impure Mineral Water.

It has developed that many of the mineral waters sold in New York city are unhealthful. President Lederle of the health department made a personal test of the waters about which there has been complaints, and found that they were not pure. The consequence of this is an amendment to the sanitary code, providing that all manufacturers of mineral waters in New York city, about 467 in all, must obtain a permit to continue the manufacture of such waters, and must, besides, file with the board of health an analysis of their waters, together with the name, place of manufacture and place from which the water is brought to this city. Mineral waters are used so extensively in New York, particularly in the hot weather, that this action by the health department meets with general approval, although the mineral water manufacturers do not like it.

Clearing Out City Hall Park.

It is likely that all buildings will be removed from City Hall park except city hall and the county court house. This will mean the removal of the register's office, the building used by the city court and the fire engine house. The space they occupy is required for the rapid transit railway station and loop. It has been thought likely that some such action as this would be necessary, and now it only awaits the formal decision of the full board of aldermen. There will be some splendid bursts of oratory in connection with the matter, no doubt, but it is hoped that in the end the buildings will be turned out and that there will be a little more breathing room in the park.

People Who Delight in Danger.

A Harlem girl washing windows at the fifth floor of a flat house fell headlong to the ground and was killed. The main difference between this fatality and so many of the same kind that have occurred in every city in the country in the last few years is that this girl slipped through a hole in a fire escape instead of dropping from a window sill. It is remarkable that window cleaners are not killed every day in this city. The law compels them to wear a belt and to fasten themselves to the building by it while they are working outside upper windows; but anyone knows that the window cleaners take a delight in risking their lives as much as possible by unfastening the belt from the hooks before they begin to go inside, so that if there is a chance of their pitching down a hundred feet or so they may have it. New Yorkers who go to circuses to enjoy a thrill in seeing a trapezist risk his neck only wasts their money. They can go downtown to the skyscraper district and see more perilous feats than those in a circus performed every day, and "without the use of a net," either.

New City Hall Needed.

New York has wanted a new municipal building for many years. Comptroller Grout gave a few interesting figures in this connection today. He said that the city is now paying $300,000 annually for rental of offices. That is interest at 3½ per cent on $8,000,000. For less than that sum a fine municipal building could be built. While this sounds well, there is little doubt that the old arrangement will continue, the public opinion being that it is better to pay the 3½ per cent than to spend $8,000,000 in a lump. It is hard to persuade the taxpayers that it is well to put up an expensive building that is not absolutely indispensable.

Bridge Question Remains Unsettled.

Mayor Low has not come to any conclusion about the improvements necessary at the Brooklyn bridge. He had a conference at his country home last night with Commissioner Lindenthal and William Barclay Parsons, chief engineer of the rapid transit commission, but nothing definite was reached. When Mr. Lindenthal and Mr. Parsons have each presented a report in September, as they are expected to do, a general plan may be chosen, but at present the bridge question is just where it was, with people being slammed about in the rush hours by the thousand, as they have been for years.

The Police Shake-up Comes.

The long-expected shake-up in the police department came today. Forty-eight detectives were sent back to "pounding the sidewalk" as ordinary patrolmen, and it is whispered that the position of Capt. Titus as chief of the detective bureau is none too safe. It is hoped that this last rumor is not true, for Titus is a very popular man. He is well known to the heads of the Pittsburgh police department, having given them much valuable aid when police business has brought them to this city.

Gotham's Decline in Lawn Tennis.

Lawn tennis experts feel that New York is not doing its best in the struggle for supremacy between states. At least, one authority on lawn tennis yawped dismally this evening. Hear this: "It is pitiful to see the New York state championship, started yesterday at Syracuse, fallen so low in the scale. Absolutely the only player of recognized skill who is entered is Irving Wright, and even he comes from Massachusetts, not New York. At Magnolia, too, where the annual tournament is in progress, the field is a poor one as compared with previous seasons."

Preparing for St. Ann's Day.

"This is St. Ann's day," as they used to sing in "Nanon." At least, it is not here yet, but soon will be. The annual novena, in preparation for the Feast of St. Ann, began today in the Church of St. Jean Baptiste in East Seventy-sixth street. The shrine, where is preserved the relic of the saint, is in the basement of the church which has been converted into a sanctuary. It has recently come in for a share of the munificence of Miss Annie Leary and has been greatly adorned and beautified.

Mayor Low to Visit Roosevelt.

Mayor Low will take luncheon with President Roosevelt on Saturday at the president's home at Oyster bay. He will go to Oyster bay early Saturday morning on his yacht, returning in the afternoon.

Not Satisfied With Welsh Coal.

Evidently the Manhattan Railway Company does not think much of Welsh coal. Several weeks ago, when the company was charged by the health department with burning soft coal on the "L" road, and threatened with all sorts of pains and penalties, the representatives of the company said they had ordered several barrels of Welsh anthracite and intended to test it on their road. Vice President Skitt was asked today what had been done about the Welsh coal, to which he replied, briefly and pointedly: "The coal came and was tested. Beyond this there is nothing to say, except that the company is using hard coal."

Sage Denies Pine Land Story.

Russell Sage denies today a report from Jackson, Miss., that he had bought 60,000 acres of yellow pine land in southern Mississippi. "I don't own a foot of land in Mississippi, and I have not been buying 60,000 acres anywhere lately," said Mr. Sage. "I own some acres of railroad lands in several western and southwestern states, but Mississippi is not among them."

Duss' Prize Bottles.

John S. Duss' press agent is at work. He announces that by Mr. Duss' orders 500 bottles containing prizes were thrown into the sea a few days ago. They were put overboard from launches that cruised off Manhattan, Brighton, Rockaway and Long Branch. One-third of the prizes have been recovered so far, some of them many miles from where the bottles were cast adrift. Th first prize, a season ticket to the Duss band concerts at the St. Nicholas gardens, was the first to be called for. The bottle was found floating 200 feet out in the surf off Manhattan beach. The fourth prize was found near Brighton beach. "Five hundred more prize bottles will be cast into the sea Saturday," adds the press agent, cheerfully.

Pure Water Cheap.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

J. J. Saint's communication in The Gazette of the 16th inst. is worthy of the fullest consideration of all the citizens of Pittsburgh. His assertions are verified to the letter by the experiences of the water commission of Sewickley, Pa. A few years ago a crib or cofer dam was sunk in the river at Sewickley many feet below the bed, so that the top of the crib was several feet below the bottom of the river. No surface water can get in the crib as the top is closed tightly. The water pumped from this crib is always as clear as crystal, regardless of the muddy condition of the river surface water. The water pumped from the crib is somewhat harder than the water in the river, which is a proof that the water pumped in the basin at Sewickley is not surface river water. The analysis of water from the Sewickley water basin shows a purity unsurpassed by the water of any city in the world. A crib at Nine Mile island large enough to supply all the demands of Pittsburgh could be constructed in six months at a cost of less than a million dollars. Mr. D. D. Taylor, fourth vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad, is on the water commission of Sewickley and had much to do with securing the pure water which is now supplied.

KING'S RELATIVES UNDER THE BAN

Some Who Would Not Have Attended the Coronation. Other Gossip.

By MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

Among King Edward's relatives there is one who would have been conspicuous by her absence from his coronation had it taken place on the appointed date. The relative in question is his sister-in-law, the widowed duchess of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, only sister of the late czar, and a lady of whom the present kaiser was reputed to stand in considerable awe until his accession to the throne.

The duchess deeply resents the fact that her English relatives should have sided with the grand duke of Hesse in his matrimonial troubles, instead of with the grand duchess, her daughter, who is after all an English princess. Throughout the entire dispute between the young people, who are first cousins, and which culminated in a divorce some months ago, she championed the cause of her daughter, and thus has found herself in a position of antagonism, not only to her nephew and ex-son-in-law, the grand duke of Hesse, but likewise with all her English relatives, including the king and queen, the emperor and empress of Germany, and last but not least, with the czar and czarina of Russia, who have all condemned the course of her daughter and expressed their sympathy for the grand duke of Hesse.

The widowed duchess of Saxe-Coburg is a very high spirited and imperious woman, who owing to the delicate condition of her mother's health, acted as mistress of her father's court until her marriage to Queen Victoria's second and sailor son. When she first came to England as a bride she resented the idea of being compelled as a mere daughter-in-law of the sovereign to yield the "pas" to the latter's daughters, and was alleged to have been the only one of the British reigning house who could lead her own with the late Queen Victoria.

The real trouble with her English relatives began when they failed, as she considered, to manifest the proper amount of sympathy at the death of her only son, who it may be remembered committed suicide in a sanitarium in which he had been confined after having involved himself in all sorts of scrapes. Afterward she found it impossible to reconcile herself to the idea of recognizing her nephew, the young duke of Albany, as heir to the throne of Saxe-Coburg in his place, and made the position of the boy so unpleasant that both King Edward and the kaiser were forced to interfere. The divorce of the grand duke and grand duchess of Hesse has been the climax.

More of the Family Connection.

Dr. Alfred Cooper, who has just been knighted by King Elward in connection with his coronation, is the brother-in-law of the latter's eldest daughter, the duchess of Fife. For Lady Agnes Cooper is one of those sisters of the duke of Fife who, owing to certain unfortunate episodes in connection with their married life, were not invited to his wedding. Lady Agnes married as her first husband the late Viscount Dupplin, and was divorced by him for eloping with Herbert Flower, whom she subsequently married. She is said to have found him less agreeable as a husband than as an admirer, and is reported to have been on the point of leaving him when he died, whereupon she married her present husband, Dr. Cooper, one of the cleverest surgeons in London. Her union with Dr. Cooper has turned out, however, very happily, and although she is still barred from court and not recognized by any member of the royal family, yet she has recovered to a great extent her position in London society and mingles with some of the nicest people. She has several children by Sir Alfred Cooper. She likewise has a daughter by her first husband, Lord Dupplin. But she was deprived of this child, who bore the name of the Honorable Marie Hay, by the terms of the divorce pronounced against her, and was debarred from any intercourse with the girl until the latter attained womanhood. The Honorable Marie Hay was brought up by her grandmother, old Lady Kinnoul, and has achieved some celebrity both as a poet and as an authoress.

The other two sisters of Lady Agnes Cooper are the Marchioness Townshend, whose son, the present marquis, was in this country the other day, and Lady Ida Wilson. Like Lady Agnes, they were not invited to their brother's wedding at Buckingham palace. Lady Townshend ran away from her husband, who did not, however, divorce her, while the other, Lady Ida Wilson, after marrying Col. Adrian Hope, eloped with her courier, whose wife she became after being divorced by her first husband. Neither Lady Ida Wilson nor yet Lady Townshend has ever succeeded in recovering her position in London society to anything like the extent of Lady Agnes Cooper.

Let me add that some confusion is likely to arise, as there is already in existence another Sir Alfred Cooper. He is not a doctor, but one of the biggest tea merchants in London, being chairman of Ridgways, limited. Sir Alfred received the handle to his name for his generosity in connection with the care of the sick and wounded soldiers during the war. Lady Cooper and himself fitting up their beautiful country place at Surbiton, near London, as a private military hospital. It was Sir Alfred, by the by, who gave 500 guineas for the original score of the late Sir Arthur Sullivan's music to accompany Kipling's "Absent-Minded Beggar," which was sold by auction for the benefit of the Daily Mail war relief fund.

Francis Hope Ventures Again.

Lord Francis Hope is so well known in this country in connection with his former wife, the actress, May Yohe, that it may be of interest to state that the girl whom he is about to marry, Miss Beatrice Ricketts, is his second cousin. She is 18 years of age, the only child of Fred Ricketts, who formerly held a commission in the Scots guards, and a grand-daughter of the late Sir Cornwallis and Lady Caroline Ricketts. Lady Caroline was a daughter of the fourth duke of Newcastle.

Kingdom of Bulgaria.

It is in September next, according to news received from St. Petersburg and confirmed from Vienna, that Prince Ferdinand will proclaim Bulgaria a kingdom and its emancipation from Ottoman suzerainty. He will have at the time some 60,000 or 70,000 Bulgarian troops assembled under the pretext of maneuvers near the Shipka Pass, and at the same time there is to be the consecration of the monastery erected there by Russia and Bulgaria conjointly to commemorate the Russian soldiers who fell during the campaign. Austria will, as a quid pro quo, proclaim Bosnia and Herzegovina as part and parcel of the empire of Emperor Francis Joseph. At the present moment, though occupied and administered by Austro-Hungary, the two provinces in question still nominally form part of the sultan's dominions.

Of course the proclamation of Bulgaria as a kingdom entails the complete cessation of Turkish suzerainty. For it would be ridiculous to imagine a full-fledged king filling the role of vassal of the sultan.

The recent dismissal by Lord Curzon of a judge in India for gross misconduct only to be explained on the score of an unbalanced mind, serves to call attention to the peculiarity that he has in this respect more power than the sovereign, whom he represents. In England judges of the supreme court are absolutely secure from arbitrary dismissal by the crown. In fact, they cannot be removed by the sovereign except on the strength of a demand made upon the monarch by both houses of parliament. This arrangement is contained in the so-called bill of rights and act of settlement, which are the nearest approach to a written constitution in England, defining as they do the powers of the crown.

PERSONALS.

Mayor Robert R. Wright of Denver, Col., spent two hours at Union station last night, while enroute to his home, from Philadelphia, where he witnessed his daughter, Miss Roberta M. Wright, christen the United States cruiser Denver, which was launched on June 21. "She is a fine ship," said Mayor Wright. "And why shouldn't she be? Her name carries with it all that is near and dear to a great western people. We are going to present her with a solid silver bell to cost about $6,000. The bell weighs 400 pounds and will be one of the finest creations of its kind ever manufactured. It is all made of Colorado silver. We have also about $2,800 of the general fund left, and will make another present to the 'queen of the seas' of a solid silver punch bowl. These articles will be presented to the vessel by myself when she goes into commission, about six months hence.

"Pittsburghers in Denver? Oh, yes, we have many of them and only wish we had more. Whenever you see a Pittsburgher in another city you may depend upon it he's all right. Lawrence Phipps of Pittsburgh completed the purchase of a $50,000 residence in Denver a few weeks ago, and is making plans to build the city a $200,000 hospital."

John F. Tulley, general manager of the Gold Mining Investment Company of Denver, Col., spent a short time at the Baltimore & Ohio station last night en route to his home from an eastern trip. "There is more gold, silver and copper mining going on now in Colorado than was ever known before in the history of the state, and the beds and mines appear to be inexhaustible. The fissure ore is the most peculiar that is found. It comes from great crevices in the earth and the bottom of many of these has never yet been discovered. And coal! Why, we have a wealth of coal. The last state geological survey showed there were over 44,000 square miles of coal in the state which is to be compared with the area of Pennsylvania, which is only 46,000 miles. Of iron ore, too, we have an abundance, but we do not attempt to operate the mines and beds."

"Conductors in the employ of the Pullman Company have shown their appreciation of the advance in salary given them in many ways since the addition was granted a month ago," said Col. J. S. Runnells of Chicago, general counsel for the Pullman Company. Col. Runnells was a passenger on the Pennsylvania limited last night, going home from a months' stay on his farm in New Hampshire. "The reason the company granted the advance," he continued, "was in order that they might be able to share in the prosperity the company has enjoyed, especially the past two years. Will the advance lead to a similar advance in the wages of other employes? Well, I do not care to discuss that matter in detail. The company has had it under advisement for some time, but I will not be quoted for a statement as to the action that has been taken on it."

"The finest violins in the world come from my country," said S. R. Huyett of Markneukirchen, Saxony, who was at the Hotel Henry last night. "There is a mistaken idea prevalent in America that all the fine violins produced in Saxony are made by artistic and experienced workmen. They art not. A violin improves with age—just the same as whisky. The greater part of our violins are made by peasants. Each member of a family makes a certain part by hand, and it is considered the duty of many families to produce one instrument a week. They bring them to the towns on Saturdays and sell and trade them just as your farmer does his marketing in this country."

I. H. Bradley of Chicago, James D. Oliver of South Bend, Ind.; U. G. Orendorff of Canton, Ill., and C. H. Deere of Moline, Ill., spent yesterday in Pittsburgh purchasing steel for plows to be manufactured in the various works they represent. Material was purchased from both the Colonial and Crucible steel companies.

Ellis M. Treat, a member of the firm of Crawford & Treat, prominent oil and gas producers in the Ohio and West Virginia fields, is at the Hotel Duquesne. Mr. Treat is accompanied by his wife and her sister, Miss O. E. Taylor.

J. A. Cunningham, formerly clerk at the Hotel Lincoln, but now connected with the Gayoso house, Memphis, Tenn., spent a few hours in Pittsburgh last night en route to Atlantic City.

Attorney E. F. Mevay of Bellevue left on the fast line over the Pennsylvania railroad last night for a three days' stay at Atlantic City.

Dr. T. S. Davies, a well-known surgeon of Philadelphia, who has been on a short visit to his parents in Duquesne, returned to the Quaker City last night.

CHARLESTON, W. VA., July 17.—(Special.)—Capt. Samuel Christy, aged 88, a pioneer steamboatman on the Kanawha river, died this morning at his home near Malden from the effects of paralysis. For over half a century

Society

A NEW summer colony of Pittsburgh people will be established next week in the Georgian Bay district, Canada. One of the beautiful wooded Canadian islands at the mouth of the Moon river was purchased a few months ago from the Canadian government by a party of about 15 well-known Pittsburgh men. On the island, which has been named "Yankanuck," a combination of Yankee and Kanuck, a clubhouse was completed last week. Next Wednesday, July 23, the Pittsburgh men and their families will leave for Penetanguishine, where they will take a steamer for their island.

The party includes the Hon. William H. Graham and Mrs. Graham, Miss Elizabeth Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Kopp, Talbut C. Graham, William Graham and Lesley S. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen A. Stone, Dr. J. Guy McCandless, Mrs. McCandless, Dr. Guy P. McCandless, Alex McCandless, Dr. and Mrs. Hiram DePuy, Thomas Ward of Baywood street and family, W. F. Brown and family, Robert Holland and E. R. Dowler of Braddock and others. There will be 45 in the party.

Yankanuck is located only about five miles from the summer camp of the Iron City Fishing Club, on the banks of the Moon river. It consists of 10 acres, well covered with fine forest trees, and sloping gently down to the water's edge. The clubhouse, which has just been completed, is large and commodious. There is a main building, in which all the public and general rooms for the use of the members of the club and their guests, are located, together with a number of sleeping apartments. Another building adjoining the first is given up almost entirely to sleeping apartments. Wharves have been built at the water's edge, and with boathouses, give fine boating facilities to the club. The fishing in the Moon river is good, and much game is to be found in the surrounding forests. The party this season will spend three weeks at the clubhouse, but will arrange for a longer stay hereafter. The building of the clubhouse this summer and the arrangements for the accommodation of the club prevented earlier departure this season.

A Year's Tour of Mexico.

The dainty year book of the Travelers club, received yesterday by the members, contains an interesting plan of study for the coming season. Mexico is the country which the Travelers will visit in their semi-monthly meetings. The program committee, from whose hands the year book has just been issued, includes Mrs. James M. Drill, Mrs. William Macrum, Mrs. Harvey McKinney, Mrs. John M. L'Amour, Mrs. John Hamilton and Miss Carrie J. Phillips.

The program for the year, beginning with the President's day, the opening meeting in the fall, is as follows:

September 25—President's day; president's address, Mrs. James A. Israel. Paper: "Physical History of Mexico," Mrs. Benjamin F. Veach.

October 14—Mrs. Henry J. Bailey, chairman. Papers: "Toltec Empire and Civilization," Mrs. Joseph P. L'Amour, musical director; Mrs. William Macrum, critic; Mrs. Lucian Osgood Livingston, question box secretary.

Beck—Simpson.

Quietly, yesterday afternoon, at the home of the bride in Pacific avenue, East End, Miss Lillian Theresa Beck and Clifford Emerson Simpson were married. The marriage ceremony was performed at 4:30 o'clock by the Rev. Dr. D. S. Littell, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church. Only the members of the two immediate families were in attendance. Miss Eleanor Whiting was the maid of honor and Robert B. Little was best man. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Beck. The ceremony was followed by supper. The bride wore a gown of white mull trimmed with lace, and carried white bride's roses. Her maid of honor wore pink and white and her flowers were pink roses. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Simpson left for a wedding trip to New York state, including the Adirondacks and Lake George. They will be at home the latter part of August at their new home in Knoxville.

Social Happenings at Sewickley.

There were several charming little social affairs in Sewickley last evening. Miss Alma Brush entertained about 30 of her friends at her home in Hill street. Music and games were the entertainment.

Miss Anna Schlumpf entertained with a dance at her home. Several were present from the city, the guests numbering about 25.

A crowd of young people took supper and a moonlight picnic at Water Works park.

Entertained Three Brides.

A large and very pretty luncheon was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Hosea Atwood of Allegheny, who is spending the summer at Shields. The event was given at the Allegheny Country clubhouse and was in honor of three brides, Mrs. Henry Dickson Atwood of Sewickley and Mrs. Joseph Clark Baird and Mrs. Harry Duncan of Pittsburgh. The guests were from both the city and valley, a large number being from Sewickley.

Off on Summer Vacations.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Scott and their daughters, Miss Ruth Scott and Miss Bessie Scott of Forbes street, Oakland, left on Wednesday to spend the remainder of the summer at the Highland Inn, Somerset, Pa.

H. J. Peavis of the Second National bank will leave on Saturday for a visit of several weeks at Atlantic City.

Miss Bessie M. Howard of Homestead is spending her summer vacation among the hills of Somerset county, near Somerset, Pa.

Mrs. D. N. Williams and her children, Miss Lois Williams and Master Ross Williams of Howe street, East End, are making a three weeks' visit to Corry, Erie and other places in the northern part of the state.

Miss Lena R. Radin of Marion street left last night for a three months' trip through the eastern New England states.

Pretty Dance at the Edgeworth Club.

Mrs. James B. Oliver of Shields entertained with a very pretty dance at the Edgeworth clubhouse, at Sewickley, last evening. The affair was given in honor of her son, D. Leet Oliver, and a classmate of his, Mr. Noble of Albany, both of whom have been attending St. Paul's school at Concord. The guests included the younger school set of the valley, with visiting young people, and a very delightful evening was spent. The gowning of the young women was unusually attractive.

The clubhouse was pretty with decorations of palms and flowers. Dainty refreshments were served during the evening. Mrs. Loren Bascom Taber Johnson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver, whose wedding was an event of unusual interest in the valley last October, is now visiting her parents at Shields, and was in attendance upon the dance last evening.

Contracts for County Roads.

The county commissioners yesterday awarded contracts for improving part of the Greensburg pike from Wilkinsburg to Turtle Creek to William E. Howley and for fixing about four miles of the Freeport road to J. C. McSpadden. The bids were: Freeport road, J. C. McSpadden, $42,070; Sweeney & Houston, $42,375. William E. Howley, $45,310; Keeling & Ridge, $57,520; Booth & Flinn, $58,815. Greensburg pike—William E. Howley, $59,985; M. F. Howley, $64,319; Booth & Flinn, $67,140; J. C. McSpadden, $75,093; Keeling & Ridge, $89,450.

At the German Maneuvers.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—The three general officers who will represent the United States army at the autumn maneuvers of the German army have selected their aids as follows: Maj. Gen. Corbin will have Lieut. Col. John A. Johnson of the adjutant general's department; Maj. Gen. Young will have First Lieut. James F. McKinley, Fourteenth cavalry, a nephew of President McKinley, and Brig. Gen. Wood will have First Lieut. Frank R. McCoy, Tenth cavalry.

Wilkinsburgers in Canada.

The following Wilkinsburg people have gone to Sparrow lake, Canada, to enjoy a six weeks' outing. They are members of the Kah-She Outing club: Misses Lillian and Louise Montgomery, Cora F. Strickler, Cora Tenant, Minnie Ludwig, Mrs. J. A. Strickler, Mrs. James G. Sansom and Charles and Edward Montgomery. Dr. F. M. Storer and George F. Felger and wife left yesterday to join the party and J. A. Strickler and Mr. Sansom will leave the latter part of the month.

McGinnis—Bunting.

A quiet home wedding in Brushton Wednesday evening was that of Miss Jean Graham McGinnis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. McGinnis, and James Francis Bunting. The marriage was solemnized at the home of the bride in Oakwood street and was witnessed by the members of the family and the intimate friends of the bride and bridegroom.

VATICAN LOSES BRIGHT CHANCE OF SETTLEMENT

Washington Officials Disappointed at Failure to Meet Taft's Terms.

POPE HAS NOT REPLIED

Unless This Government's Proposition Is Accepted the Philippine Governor Will Leave Rome on the 24th—Root's Letter.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington D. C., July 17.—Officials in Washington do not conceal their disappointment at the failure of the vatican to come to what will be the only terms the Philippine government will ever be able to offer in the matter of the withdrawal of the Spanish friars and monks from their parishes. It is felt here that the vatican has missed an excellent opportunity to rid itself with profit of a perplexing situation in the archipelago.

The tone of Gov. Taft's note to the vatican evidently was not what the cardinals expected. It is felt here that the vatican had drawn its course in the negotiations on the principle that the American mission would remain in Rome until some settlement was reached, and that concessions would be in order. Consequently, the attitude of the United States, in expressing willingness to let the matter stand, was something of a surprise.

Unless the vatican shows a desire to agree to the terms of Gov. Taft's note, he will leave for Manila on July 24. The suspension of negotiations at that time will not work to the detriment of the United States.

Root's Letter to Taft.

The war department today made public the last note of Secretary Root to Gov. Taft relative to the negotiations for the friars' lands. It formed the basis of the note which Gov. Taft yesterday communicated to the vatican. The letter says:

Regarding the withdrawal of the members of the religious orders from the Philippines it should not be understood that the Philippine government is asking to modify or in any manner affect the conduct of religious matters on the part of the holy see, or on the part of the heads of the orders, or for any compulsory exclusion or proceeding whatever. It is rather that the Philippine government desires social results which it deems of great importance to the welfare of the Philippine people, and which can be accomplished only by the withdrawal of this class of persons who have fortuitously been thrown into special and antagonistic political relations with the people, that the government has proposed an arrangement which it supposes to be very advantageous to the church and worth its own while to carry out if the ecclesiastical authorities having the direction of the religious orders should see fit voluntarily to withdraw them from the islands.

The reasons making the withdrawal desirable are not religious or racial, but arise from the political and social relations which existed under the former government, and which have created personal antipathies menacing to the peace and order of the community.

Insurgents for Confiscation.

The lay Catholic population and parish priests of native and non-Spanish blood are practically a unit in desiring both to expel the friars and to confiscate their lands out of hand. This proposed confiscation without compensation of the church lands was one of the fundamental policies of the insurgent government under Aguinaldo. Recognizing the intensity and practical unanimity of this feeling among the Filipinos and at the same time desiring to avoid causing loss to the church, the United States government representatives proposed to pay for the lands out of the public funds if the friars would retire from the island and give place to other religious of their own faith who might be able to accomplish for their religious what they themselves had so signally failed to accomplish.

It will be the duty of the Philippine government to determine for itself what price it is willing to pay. That price will, of course, be largely affected by the practical benefits to be derived from the purchase in view of all the facts then existing.

As preliminary to the treatment now proposed, it is desirable that the authorities of the church should arrange to forward to you as soon as practicable full and definite lists.

(A)—Of the property which they are willing to sell and of the precise relations which they hold to the title of those properties. If their relation to the title is by ownership of the stock, than the total stock of corporation, amount of stock, which they hold, and the officers of the corporation.

(B)—Of the churches, convents, etc., which they claim to have been occupied by American troops, and for which rentals or damages are claimed and with the details of the claim.

(C)—Of the church properties, formal title to which remained in the Spanish crown at the time of cession and formal conveyance of which from the government is desired.

(D)—A statement of the various charitable and educational trusts which the authorities of the church consider should be regarded as devolved upon the church rather than upon the state.

Pope Considering a Reply.

ROME, July 17.—After the pope had read the last American note on the subject of the friars and their lands in the Philippines, Cardinal Rampolla, papal secretary of state, convened the commission of cardinals to consider a reply. So far no answer has reached Judge Taft, though in a personal letter to Cardinal Rampolla Judge Taft said:

"As the document from Secretary Root is conclusive, and as I wish to leave Rome as soon as possible, I beg your eminence to secure me and the gentlemen accompanying me a farewell audience as early as his holiness will deign to grant it."

ANTI-MERGER SUIT.

Both Parties Agree to Trial in United States Court.

ST. PAUL, July 17.—Both litigants in the case of the state of Minnesota against the Northern Securities Company et al., being the so-called anti-merger suit, today agreed to submit to the jurisdiction of the United States circuit court.

The state waived and abandoned its motion to have the case remanded to the Ramsey county district court and the defendants abandoned their motion to set aside the service of the summons. The defendants also agreed to enter an appearance on the first Monday in August. They will then have 30 days to file their answer.

IT WAS A SAD CASE.

Wife Was Waiting for Husband at Train When He Was Killed.

The death of W. F. Tietworth of Washington, Pa., who was killed on the Panhandle bridge at Second avenue last night by train No. 50, was a sad incident. His wife and child had been with him in the city during the day and they waited his arrival at the Fourth avenue station to return to their home.

As he failed to put in an appearance she took the child and went home. She expected that her husband would follow her on the next train. When the train was leaving the station her husband's remains were being taken to the morgue. Mrs. Tietworth waited in vain for his arrival at Washington and did not learn of his death until she read it in the papers. Tietworth was walking on the bridge on his way to the station when he was struck by the train.

Struck Gold in a Well.

MT. VERNON, O., July 17.—In putting down a test well the Logan Natural Gas & Oil Company today struck gold in quantities assaying $5 a ton. A small vein of coal was also discovered. There is great excitement and the price of land has gone up.

Pittsburgh Girl Victorious.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., July 17.—(Special.)—The patrons of the Hicks house last night participated in a ping-pong tournament, of which Miss Louise Fleming of Pittsburgh was the winner.

FOOD OF THE CANARY ISLANDERS.

The Canary Islanders are among the most healthy people in the world. They live on gofio, which consists of wheat and corn parched or dextrimized in an iron kettle over a fire, then ground and eaten mixed with water. Attention was first called to this food by an eminent physician visiting the Canary Islands, who was cured of chronic dyspepsia by eating gofio. A prominent Chicago physician lived on gofio for many years, which he obtained from the Battle Creek Sanitarium, where it was formerly used in the treatment of various digestive disorders. By an important discovery a great improvement was made in the preparation, which is now known as Toasted Wheat Flakes, sweetened with Malt Honey, crisp and delicately sweet. Its use cures indigestion and chronic constipation.

Chicago at Exposition park.

Boston at Brooklyn.

It took the Pirates just three innings to put a puncture in Al. Buckenberger's latest pitching puzzle over at Exposition park yesterday afternoon and at the end of that time Patsy Carney cried enough and was glad to be allowed to return to his old stamping ground in right field. During his incumbency the champions piled up five runs and they got three more off his successor, making a total of 8, while the best Buck's braves could do was 2 tallies and that tells the score.

Whoever it was that put the pitching notion in Patsy's head made an awful mistake, but experience is a good teacher and Patsy learned a lesson yesterday afternoon that he will not soon forget. Carney was one time a twirler for the Holy Cross college team, and he acquired some reputation as a twirler among the college boys, which he added to in a two-round bout with Brooklyn, but it's different when one stacks up against such a lot of scientific hitters as Fred Clarke has the distinguished honor to be the leader of. If they can't get hits one way they can in another and Patsy now knows this to his sorrow.

Carney Got a Bad Start.

Carney's start in the first inning was enough to take the heart out of any twirler and it's no wonder he pined for the green pastures in right field. Clarke, who was first up, walked for a base on balls and Beaumont, true to old-time habits, put a Texas leaguer just over the heads of the infielders. Tommy Leach then beat out a nice bunt and the bases were filled. Wagner tried to drive the ball across the river but he failed, and ingloriously struck out, and Beau got mixed on the play and started for third, and he also was an easy out. Bransfield got a base on balls and Ritchey was hit with a pitched ball, thus forcing Clarke in with the first run. Conroy put a beauty in left, bringing Leach and Bransfield in, and Smith ended the inning by flying out to Long.

There was nothing doing in the second, but in the third the champs got after Carney again and that's when he took to the woods. Wagner led off with a single, but was forced at second by Bransfield, Ritchey then put his weight against a bender and shot it out to center where Dick Cooley tried to intercept it, but the ball eluded Richard by taking a funny little bound and rolled almost against the flag pole. It counted for a home run, and that counted for two runs, as Bransfield scored ahead of Ritchey. That was enough for Carney, and when the side had been retired he informed his manager that he had changed his mind regarding his pitching ability, and it was singular to find that both their minds ran in the same channel.

Hale Showed Better Work.

Roy Hale, who pitched the last two innings of Wednesday's game, was given another chance to show why he should stay in the league, and his opening reception was anything but pleasant. Clarke was the first batter up and he tore off a double to center. Then Beau, to keep his hand in, doubled to right, scoring Clarke. Leach foul-filed, but Wagner singled and Beau scored the second run. In the seventh Wagner led off with a two-bagger and got around on two fly-outs.

Sam Leever was doing the pitching stunts for the champions, and Sammy played his part well. Things looked bad at the start out when Tenney singled and scored on Demont's double to right, but after that Sam settled down and mowed the Boston batters down with great ease. They got another run in the fifth when Greminger drove the ball to extreme left for three bases and scored on Cooley's single, and that ended their run-getting. Harry Smith started in to do the catching, but he was injured by a foul tip, and in the sixth inning gave way to O'Connor. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Left Fielder Courtney, of the visitors, contributed a pretty play in the seventh when he got Ritchey's line fly just as the ball was touching the ground.

Hale was given a warm round of applause by the spectators when he struck the side out in the eighth inning. His victims were O'Connor, Leever and Clarke.

Harry Smith stopped a hot foul tip with his shoulder in the fifth inning and the blow was such a painful one that he was forced to retire from the game, O'Connor taking his place.

Ritchey's home run in the third inning was a very lucky affair and but for an accident would have counted only for a single. Cooley was set for the ball, but it took an odd bound and got away from him. The ball rolled to the flag pole and Little All Right had no trouble in circling the bases, driving Bransfield in ahead of him.

In the second inning Beaumont laid down one of those pretty bunts of his and Carney fielded the ball, which was not over three feet from the home plate, but Beaumont beat it out cleanly. Captain Long gave Catcher Moran a severe call down for not fielding the ball, as it was clearly his play to do so. Had Moran fielded the ball the runner could easily have been caught at first.

It looks as though Umpire Emslie has it in for Clarke and O'Connor from the manner in which he goes after them and forces them to keep inside the coaching lines. He told O'Connor yesterday that he would not notify him again, but would put him off the grounds, and at the same time he paid no attention to Mal Eason, who was so close to third that he could easily have touched the base runner.

Manager Buckenberger and his Boston braves were a dejected looking lot when they departed for the east last night, and they were glad to get out of Pittsburgh dive. In the series just ended the Boston team played good ball, but it was not in the Pirates' class. The Beaneaters have a long string of games to play on the home grounds, and should have no trouble finishing the season in second place.

Leever's slowness in covering first on balls hit down back of that bag, and which Bransfield had trouble fielding, caused all kinds of kicks from the Pirates yesterday. Sammy's oversight gave Tenney a hit in the first inning and gave Long another in the ninth. The schoolmaster was roasted from all sides of the diamond, every one of his fellow players except Beaumont and Conroy taking a shot at him.

Beaumont was guilty of a bit of stupid work in the first when the bases were filled and Wagner struck out, Beau started on a mad dash for third, which was occupied by Fred Clarke, and of course he was an easy out. Beau evidently thought when Moran dropped the third strike that the men on bases were forced to run, but they were not, as the batter was out whether the third strike was caught or missed.

Catcher Moran had all kinds of trouble with Carney's delivery in the first inning, and he could not hold the ball. When Wagner was at bat Moran lost the ball and Hogan had him going by pointing over toward the players' bench. Carney ran in and picked the ball up from back of Wagner's heels. Clarke had plenty of a chance to score from third on the mix-up, but he was too busy laughing at Moran's funny antics.

Manager Selee did not accompany his team to Monessen, but stopped over here and spent the afternoon over at the ball park. Manager Selee says his team has been handicapped by sick and injured players, but the boys are all in shape once more and are anxious to win their way back into second place. Selee's team has been the Pirates' hoodoo this season, having won more games from them than any other of the league teams.

When Manager Buckenberger digs out another phenom he will exhibit good judgment by trying him on some other team than one as resourceful as the champions. Carney may have been a good twirler on a college team, but put together different when he stacks up against a team who every man on it can hunt or hit it out as the occasion requires. Carney is a good right fielder and right there is where he should be played.

PLAYED POOR BALL.

TO HEAD OFF BOSTON.

George Tebeau Sells Pitcher Flaherty and Shortstop Tannehill to the Cincinnati Club.

Word comes from Louisville that owner and manager Tebeau of the Falls City team has sold the services of Shortstop Lee Tannehill and Pitcher Patsy Flaherty to the Cincinnati club for next season. This step, it is said, was made to head off the Boston club, which has been after both players.

Patsy Flaherty, the pitcher, who is here resting up a spiked ankle, stated on Thursday that he knew of no effort being made for him. It was thought, however, that some club would be after Patsy, as he is the leading pitcher in that association, having won 15 out of 21 games. There was a report that Lee Tannehill had been signed by Cincinnati, but that was denied by his brother, Jesse, who said he would not allow Lee to go to that team. Jesse, however, may change his mind since John T. Brush has secured Joe Kelley as a manager and shows signs of trying to strengthen the Reds.

WIND SPOILED SPORT.

Trap Experts Could Not Make Good Scores.

TITUSVILLE, PA., July 17.—(Special.)—The second day of the Interstate Sportsmen's tournament was ushered in with a wind that blew 20 miles an hour and kept rising until noon. High scores were an impossibility, even the experts falling far below their usual average in target shooting. There were 10 events comprising 170 targets. The attendance was good. Following is the score of totals:

THE ORIOLES DID NOT APPEAR TO PLAY GAME

St. Louis Awarded the Contest and Ban Johnson Forfeits Franchise.

DIRECTORS MEET TODAY

Selbach Has Been Made Captain of the New Baltimore Team and Has Enough Players--Kelley Signs to Manage the Reds.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Baltimore, Md., July 17.—Ban Johnson, president of the American league, came over from Washington this morning and went into consultation with the minority stockholders of the Baltimore club and devised plans to meet the situation as left by the sale of the majority interest in the club to National league interests.

As the first step the game this afternoon was declared forfeited to St. Louis, the Baltimores having no team on the field when the game was called. This failure to play, Mr. Johnston claims, forfeits the franchise to the American League, and a meeting of the directors will be called tomorrow to formally declare the Baltimore franchise forfeited. A new club will then be formed to carry on the game here. Some of the present minority stockholders will take an interest in the new club. Tomorrow the regular game with St. Louis will be played.

The other clubs have contributed players and with those of the old team a nine will be made up to tide over matters until a stronger aggregation can be secured. Selbach will be captain. The players so far procured are: Drill, catcher; Shields, Katoll and possibly Wiltse, pitchers; McAllister, first base; Williams, second base; Selbach, left field; Oyler, third base; Gilbert, short stop; Howell, middle field; McFarland, right field. All the old Baltimore players called on President Johnson today and were assured by him that the league would be responsible for their salaries. Captain Robinson arrived in Baltimore today and said that he was ready to play on the team, and without doubt his services will be secured. President Johnson says that this team will be strengthened and that the schedule will be played out. Kelley signed today to manage Cincinnati.

PLAYERS IN NEW YORK.

Ex-Orioles Reach Gotham and Practice--McGraw Talks of a Strong Team.

NEW YORK, July 17.—(Special.)—Four ball players who are to be a part of the reconstructed New York team put in most of today at practice on the Polo grounds. They are McGinnity and Cronin, the former Baltimore pitchers; McGann, first base, and Bresnahan, the catcher. Tomorrow they will practice some more, and it is possible that before nightfall they will be joined by other players who have decided to leave the American league in retaliation for the frequent inroads that organization has made into National league ranks.

McGraw, the New York manager, said today that the additions made to the New York team were only the beginning of what he hoped to have.

"Before we get through," said he, "we expect to play the strongest club in the National league right in this city. And one of the best teams that ever played on the diamond it will be, a team, something like the Giants of old, and New York will be proud of the players. I have not finished signing men, but I am not at liberty to state who the other players are that I expect to add to the Giants."

The New York management would like to get Joe Kelley to play here, but Cincinnati is very anxious to have him there. The Brooklyn officials maintained today that they had not been asked to let Kelley go to another league club, and did not say that they would give their permission if they should be asked.

McGraw could not say definitely today who would play in the outfield for the New Yorks on Saturday. "It depends upon whether the men I am after get here by that day," said he. "I think I shall pitch McGinnity Saturday afternoon," he continued. "It will be either McGinnity or Cronin."

STOPPED THE HITTING.

Patten Steadied Down and the Senators Won.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—Detroit started off like a winner today, securing six consecutive hits, but managed to score only two runs. After this Patten settled down and had the visitors at his mercy. Miller's wildness and timely hitting by the home team enabled Washington to win. Attendance, 2,487. Score:

DAN PATCH WON THE 2:04 PACE IN FINE STYLE

Was an Almost Prohibitive Favorite and Made Good All the Way.

GEERS FOOLED BETTORS

Picked Dolly Dillon, but He Drove the Monk to a Clever Victory--Fred Wedgewood Won the 2:09 Pace, but Had to Do Some Stepping.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Detroit, July 17.—Eight complete races gave the 5,000 people who attended the Detroit Driving club's blue ribbon meeting at Crosse Pointe track this afternoon of excellent sport. The features of the card were the 2:04 pace left over from yesterday and the 2:07 trot.

Dan Patch was an almost prohibitive favorite in the 2:04 pace and captured the event in straight heats, with Searchlight second both times. In the first heat Searchlight led to the stretch with Patch trailing second. There McHenry let Dan Patch out and he rapidly overhauled Searchlight, winning by a length. He won the second heat by two lengths after trailing second three-quarters of the way.

Lord Derby and Charley Herr were scratched in the 2:07 trot, leaving only The Monk and Dolly Dillon as contenders. The mare opened favorite in the betting at $115, with The Monk at $100. Geers soon proved that the bettors' judgment was incorrect, for he kept The Monk in front all the way in both heats, winning the first one in 2:07. Both Geers and McHenry drove two winners today. The weather was fine and the track good.

Major Delmar Fooled Them.

In the first heat of the 2:12 trot Ida Highwood was favorite at $100, with Aggie Medium $50, Hawthorne $25 and the field $35. Major Delmar held the pole and took the lead from the start, winning by a head from Aggie Medium. The bettors switched to Major Delmar for the second heat, and he won it easily.

C. R. G. Billings won the 2:08 amateur pace to wagon, with Hontas Crooke. It was a pretty race between Hontas Crooke and Frazier to the stretch, where Hontas Crooke came away and won. Mr. Billings also won the 2:13 amateur trot to wagon with Louise Jefferson. Darwin took the 2:27 trot in straight heats, although Jurash pushed him hard, particularly in the second heat, when only McHenry's good driving kept the gray from breaking in the stretch.

The 2:09 pace, the next event on the card, was the biggest betting proposition of the afternoon. There was a heavy play on Fred S. Wedgewood at $800, with the field $350. Wedgewood won the first heat easily. In the second heat Dan R. trailed second to the stretch, where he came very fast, forcing Wedgewood to go in 2:06 to win by a head.

There Was a Nose Finish.

Dan R. won the third heat by a nose from Wedgewood after the hardest drive of the afternoon. Geers whipped his horse the last 200 yards, but it was of no avail. In the fourth heat Dan R. led to the five-eighths, where he broke, giving the heat and race to Wedgewood by four lengths. The break caused some comment in view of the heavy play on Wedgewood, as Dan R. had been steady as a clock in the other heats and was apparently fresh.

Gold brick made short work of the Chamber of Commerce consolation, winning both heats easily. Summaries:

DETECTIVES ARREST THREE SUSPECTS

Believe They Captured Two Clever Pickpockets While Working Street Cars.

Detectives James Egan and Bernard McStay effected the arrest of three alleged pickpockets whom they believe will prove to be clever men when fully identified.

The arrests were made at Hays Junction, at the south end of the Glenwood bridge, about 10:30 last night, after the detectives had watched the men working the street cars and knew they had them right. Egan and McStay had been detailed to protect the orphans' picnic at Calhoun park, and when returning dropped off at the junction to watch the cars. They hid behind some bushes where they could watch, and soon spotted the three men working.

Their plan was to work the cars for a short distance, then come back to a saloon at the junction and wait for another.

When placed under arrest they started to put up a fight, but the detectives drew their guns and with a blow or two from the butts brought them to time.

They were brought in to No. 10 police station and locked up. They gave their names as John Smith of Cleveland, James Kelly of Canton and John Healey of New York.

Healey is a known English thief, the detectives say, and the others are expected to be identified this morning when brought to central station.

Three gold watches were found on them, one with initials on it either "P. L." or "P. G."

Smith had $227 on him—a $100 bill and the balance in small bills. The others each had money amounting to about $25.

The detectives believe the men have been following the Bostocks' show, which is a part of the Elks' carnival at McKeesport.

Champion Eclipsed His Record.

BALTIMORE, July 17.—Albert Champion chipped 48 1-5 seconds off the world's record, held by himself, for a 10-mile motor paced bicycle race, in his contest tonight with Basil de Guichard on the coliseum bowl track. De Guichard's motor dropped a saddle in front of him. The little Frenchman was thrown, but pluckily remounted and continued the race, finishing one mile and two laps behind his fellow countryman.

THE SPRINTERS WILL BE HERE FOR GRAND TEST

The Cream of the Bike Talent to Do Battle at the Colosseum.

EDDIE BALD IS IN LINE

The White Flyer Is in His Old-Time Form and Keeping the Championship Talent Guessing—Iver Lawson Doing Fast Riding.

The list of entries sent out for the meeting of the grand circuit which will be held at the Colosseum track in Allegheny on Monday, July 21 contains the names of the most prominent professionals now on the tracks. Kramer, who won the championship last year, is riding hard to keep the title, but it is certain that since the start of the circuit at Revere Beach on July 12 some of the other riders have been giving him a hard chase. Iver Lawson, who gave both Kramer and Taylor such a hard battle for championship honors last year, has started even with the other riders this year.

It will be remembered that last year Lawson did not come east from Salt Lake City until after eight or ten of the grand circuit meets had been held, but he started in and landed third when the season closed. This year with his additional experience in Europe and in the east his friends figure that he has an excellent chance for the championship. Eddie Bald, the former champion, is also riding good and if he continues to train as earnestly as at present and keeps in form, is a quantity that must be reckoned with. The riders following the circuit this year are all good men and their appearance at the Colosseum track means a series of races that have not been seen in this city for many a year.

The following conditions governing the races will interest cyclists and those who follow the sprinters. Every grand circuit meet must contain three professional events—a championship, a handicap, and a consolation race. The scoring on which the championship is based is five points for the winner of the race, three points for second place, two for third place and one for fourth place. The announcement of the program for the races on Monday night will be made later in the week.

The one mile amateur and the novice race which have been arranged by the management to form a part of the program for the meet will prove interesting events and there will be from present indications a large list of entries. The entries close at 6 o'clock on Saturday evening.

BODIES ALL RECOVERED.

Rescue Work Completed in the Utah Silver Mine—Operations Partially Resumed.

PARK CITY, UTAH, July 17.—At the Daly-West silver mine work has been partially resumed.

The rescue was resumed at a late hour last night and the bodies of Ray Jackman, John Eckstrom and George Richardson were brought up from the 1,200-foot level. At 10 o'clock today the bodies of Thomas A. Kelly, T. H. O'Neill, John Carney and Charles McAlinden were secured, accounting for all in the Daly-West except John Burgh, the "powder monkey," whose body was blown to atoms. The men overcome by gas and resuscitated by the physicians are reported to be out of danger. The funerals of most of the victims will be held tomorrow.

The mine is now reported to be practically free from the gases generated by the explosion and the work of exploring the damaged portion is in progress.

CAMERON WON THE TEST HANDICAP

EASILY DEFEATED OLD ENGLAND AT SIX FURLONGS.

Not a Favorite Fell Down at Brighton Beach and Six of Them Were Winners. Hurst Park Showed Great Burst of Speed.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—The horses ran true to form at Brighton Beach today, as six favorites, all heavily played, won. In five out of the six races the first, second and third choices ran one, two, three. Lady Sterling, at 50 to 1 in the third race, was the only outsider to split the choices from sweeping the board. Cameron, who was always well up, easily defeated Old England in the Test handicap at six furlongs. Cameron won by one and one-half lengths. The time, 1:12 3-5, was excellent, as the track was not at its best.

Hurst Park, in the fifth race with 117 pounds up, also covered the six furlongs in 1:12 3-5, the fastest 2-year-old race of the year in the east.

Martin Had Winning Mount.

First race, for 2-year-olds, 5 furlongs—Hurstbourne, 122, J. Martin, 7 to 4 and out, won; Woodlake, 112, Redfern, 12 to 1 and 7 to 5, second; Decoration, 112, Smith, 15 to 1 and 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:00 4-5. Ingodon, Hackmack, Mr. Dingle and Florham Lass also ran.

Second race, steeple chase, for 4-year-olds and upward, selling, full course, about 2½ miles—Inspector Stevens, 153, Ray, 1 to 4 and out, won; Belgrade, 146, Mara, 6 to 1 and even, second; Adjutor, 146, Helder, 8 to 1 and even, third. Time, 5:15. Facile also ran.

Third race, for 2-year-olds, 8½ furlongs—Hermis, 118, Wonderly, 7 to 10 and 1 to 5, won; Lady Sterling, 111, Rice, 50 to 1 and 8 to 1, second; Par Excellence, 111, Redfern, 7 to 2 and 7 to 10, third. Time, 1:46. Peninsula and Bonus also ran.

Fourth race, The Test handicap, for 3-year-olds and upward, 6 furlongs—Cameron, 132, O'Connor, 11 to 10 and 2 to 5, won; Old England, 118, Jackson, 5 to 2 and 7 to 10, second; Hingsey, 116, Wonderly, 9 to 1 and 5 to 2, third. Time, 1:12 3-5. The Regent and Lady Uncas also ran.

Fifth race, for 2-year-olds, 6 furlongs—Hurst Park, 117, Shaw, 7 to 10 and out, won; Africander, 117, J. Martin, 3 to 1 and 4 to 5, second; River Pirate, 117, Odom, 5 to 1 and 4 to 5, third. Time, 1:12 3-5. Injunction, Attorney, Plater and Monte Carlo also ran.

Sixth race, for 3-year-olds and upward, selling, 1¼ miles—Leonid, 100, J. Martin, 3 to 5 and out, won; Ralif, 103, Shea, 8 to 5 and 1 to 3, second; Bast, 85, Redfern, 7 to 1 and even, third. Time, 1:53. Waterton and Trump also ran.

THE HYDE PARK STAKES.

Fourteen Youngsters Started and Dick Welles Won.

CHICAGO, July 17.—Dick Welles was the winner of the Hyde park stakes, which was contested this afternoon at Washington park by 14 2-year-olds, the pick and pride of the West. Savable finished second and Barly third.

The victory was a hollow one for the winner, who was six lengths to the good at the finish, and in this particular the race was a disappointment to the big crowd, but making allowances for all things little doubt remains that the Hyde park, worth $7,710, was truly run, at least so far as regards the result for first money. After the closing race G. W. W. ran away three miles and Jockey Coburn finally jumped off the horse. Weather hot; track fast. Summaries:

First race, 5½ furongs—Colonista, 103; T. Knight, 11 to 5, won; Tepesil, 107, Coburn, 2 to 1, second; Farmer Jim, 118, Blake, 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:07 2-5. Foxy Kane and Penance also ran.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK IN OHIO.

Grosvenor Says There Is Nothing in the Way of Republican Sweep.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.—(Special.)—Secretary Cortelyou spent a good portion of the day at his desk at the temporary White house. Among his callers was Representative Grosvenor, who came to Washington to attend the marriage of a friend. Talking of the political outlook in Ohio, Gen. Grosvenor said:

"There is nothing that I can see to operate against the belief that the Republicans will elect 16 and probably 17 congressional representatives this fall. Republicans of all of the districts have nominated their candidates, except Cincinnati and Dayton. There is no enthusiasm among the Democrats, and everything looks like an old-time Republican sweep in Ohio."

TEXAS HAWLEY ANXIOUS TO SEE THE PRESIDENT

Missed His Train and Hired a Special to Reach Sagamore Hill.

IS INTERESTED IN CUBA

Other Visitors at the Summer Capital. Tom Platt Intends to Run Down. David B. Hill Causes a Democratic Diversion at Oyster Bay.

Oyster Bay, N. J., July 17.—One of the visitors to the president today must have had highly important business. This was R. B. Hawley, the Texas member of the Republican national committee. At Long Island City Mr. Hawley missed the regular train, and, as he had an engagement to take luncheon with the president, he chartered a special engine and coach and made the run to Oyster Bay in 50 minutes. He arrived at Sagamore hill just as luncheon was announced. The other guests at luncheon were Casper Whitney, editor of Outing, and Regis H. Post, of Bayport, L. I.

After luncheon the president and Mr. Hawley had a long talk about Texas appointments and Cuban reciprocity. Mr. Hawley is understood to be interested in large sugar land holdings in Cuba. No details of the conference were made public.

Col. Theodore A. Bingham, superintendent of public buildings and grounds of Washington, arrived this afternoon to consult the president and Mrs. Roosevelt about the alterations that are being made in the White house.

Former Representative Walter L. Weaver of Springfield, O., had a conference with the president. He recently was appointed one of the justices of the Choctaw and Chickasaw citizenship courts of Indian territory, and came by invitation to discuss with the president the proposed work of the courts. Mr. Roosevelt is deeply interested in the efforts to eliminate citizenship frauds in Indian territory. It is expected that the members of the court will meet this week in Washington to map out their work.

Secretary of the Navy Moody, who was expected tomorrow, will not be able to come to Oyster Bay for perhaps 10 days. It is announced that Senator Platt and Gov. Odell of New York will visit the president probably this week to talk over state and national politics.

Former Senator David B. Hill arrived here this evening to be the guest over night of William F. Sheehan, who owns a handsome country home near Oyster Bay. As the train bearing Mr. Hill pulled into the station, a salute of 17 guns was fired, and when he stepped from the train he was cordially and vociferously greeted by a great crowd of admirers. As the carriage which was to take Mr. Hill to Mr. Sheehan's home left the station some enthusiastic person called out: "Three cheers for David B. Hill, the next president of the United States," and they were given with a will.

FORMER WHITE WING ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Harry Kennedy May Die from Taking Box of White Lead.

Harry Kennedy, 50 years old of No. 14 Stevenson street, until recently a city "white wing," attempted to commit suicide by swallowing the contents of a half pound box of white lead in a court off Pride street at 8 o'clock last night. He was removed to Mercy hospital and his chances of recovery are considered slight.

Kennedy has been on a protracted spree for several weeks.

CONVENTIONS CLOSED.

Luther League and Good Templars Finished Work.

The final session of the Luther league convention was held yesterday morning in the Knoxville church. There were 50 delegates present from the Ohio synod. The Rev. W. E. Schramm conducted the closing exercises.

The Good Templars convention, which has been in session in Millvale for three days, closed yesterday afternoon. The feature of the closing session was the balloting for officers, which resulted as follows: George Rankin, Jr., of Wilkinsburg, G. C. T.; John Slogan of Johnstown, G. Counselor T.; Miss Gertrude Smith of Westport, Pa., G. V. T.; Edward Coleman, Philadelphia, G. S. of J. W. T.; Pattie Embress of Marshalltown, Pa., G. S.; Mrs. Elizabeth A. Bishop of Harrisburg, grand treasurer; Mrs. Annie J. Weighan of Philadelphia, D. R. W.

LOW WATER BELOW THE DAM.

Fall of Six Inches Expected to Follow Raising of Davis Island Dam.

The work of raising the David Island dam was practically completed yesterday, and it is expected that the improvement will make at least six feet of water in the Pittsburgh harbor. Yesterday the marks at Market street showed 3.5 feet of water, and at Davis Island dam 5.7 was reported. While the raising of the dam is sure to improve conditions greatly to the city harbor, rivermen predict that it will be followed by a fall of from four to six inches in the water below the dam.

This, added to the already low water in that part of the river, is likely to give the towboats considerable trouble, and it is feared that many of them will not be able to make headway. The officials of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company are anxious to get back their empties before the water gets too low, and every effort is being made to have them return. Another tow is booked for about July 25, and another large shipment of coal will be sent down then if possible.

News of the Rivers.

Newly elected officers of Harbor No. 25 will be installed Saturday.

Capt. Joseph Price, who has been on the sick list for some time, is about again.

The towboat Exporter has left Louisville for St. Louis with 32 barges of Pittsburgh coal.

The Virginia is due from Cincinnati tonight and will start on her return trip Saturday afternoon.

George W. Theis, secretary of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, has returned from a southern trip of several weeks.

The towboat Ed Roberts arrived in port yesterday morning and the towboats Voyager, Stella and Enterprise left the wipe for Pittsburgh Louisville with tows of empties last night.

The officials of the new Morgantown packet line have arranged for a special trip to Brownsville and Monongahela, which will start from the latter port yesterday. The boat will be put into service in the Pittsburgh harbor. This makes four boats which the company will have working here.

Col. R. Lydecker, the United States engineer in charge of the Ohio river between Pittsburgh and Cairo, is inspecting the river between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, on board the steamer James Morton, J. Frank Gray, secretary of the Pittsburgh coal exchange, accompanied him to Moundsville and then returned by rail. Special attention is being paid on this trip to the bridges.

DEADLOCK BROKEN.

After Taking Over 100 Ballots, Seventeenth Ward School Board Elects Corps of Teachers.

The Washington sub-district school board, Seventeenth ward, has broken a deadlock over the election of teachers, in which over 100 ballots were cast. There were four positions over which there was a controversy. There were three teachers whom some members of the board wished to drop, and the fourth vacancy was caused by one of the teachers resigning to get married.

On Thursday night of last week the board balloted till 2 o'clock Friday morning without agreeing. The following is the list finally elected:

No. 1 school, Fortieth street—Ada N. Bailey, Edith P. Jeffries, Jessie Confer, Ella Crumrine, Elizabeth Buttonmore, Anna Sinning, Bertie Ogden, Eliza Johnson, Lillian R. Davis, Joe O. Lindsay, Laura Ogden, Mary E. Graham. Assigned—Alberta A. Forley, Writing and drawing—Allie Phine. Instructor of physical culture—William Beatel.

School No. 2, Mill street—Rebecca Murdock, assistant principal; Mildred McElwain, Emma Hoerr, Mary E. Smith, Laura Braun, Etta R. Lewis, Cora P. Marsh, Carrie K. Evans, Mary E. Ferguson, Elvira M. Taylor, Annie Hoerr, Ella H. Connelly. Writing and drawing—Minnie E. Turner.

School No. 5, Hatfield—Annetta Bale, Alice Mann, Ruth E. Evans, Belle Stern, Bella Colvin, Lillie A. J. Mitchell, Ella J. Barton, Laura Grine. Writing and drawing—Elizabeth Hoffman.

Janitors—John H. Bailey, No. 1; David Wallace, No. 2; Mrs. E. J. Houlden, No. 5.

Those newly elected are Emma Hoerr, who takes the place of Miss Patterson, Main Street school; Laura Braun, who succeeds Miss Allison at the same school; Edith P. Jeffries, who succeeds Miss Blackford at No. 1 school, and Jessie Confer, who fills the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss McGuire.

MAN IS EVIDENTLY HUNGRY.

Tramp Found on South Side Who Eats Grass and Weeds.

Last night Officer Conrad Sill of the South Side police force arrested Frank Morris and locked him in the Twenty-eighth ward police station, on a charge of disorderly conduct. Morris' disorderly conduct consisted of running about a field at Carson and South Thirty-fourth streets and eating grass and weeds.

Upon receiving this report Inspector William McShane remembered that one day last week the same officer arrested a man whom he swore he had found in the act of eating oil and waste out of the boxes on freight cars on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad. The inspector after thinking this over changed the charge against Morris to vagrancy, and then sent for City Physician A. E. McCandless to inquire into Morris' mental condition. After an examination McCandless declared that the charge of vagrancy should stand.

VALLEY FURNACE CONSOLIDATION MOVING SLOWLY

During Present Prosperous Times Need of Co-Operation Is Not Felt.

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE

Producers Desire to Get Together So That They May Face a Duller Future With Better Advantage--Next Year's Pig Trade.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 17.—Very little information can be obtained here in connection with the proposed consolidation of the blast furnaces of the Mahoning and Shenango valleys. Those interested in the deal are not disposed to make any statement, except that there is a fair possibility of the deal going through. Negotiations, they say, are progressing very slowly and nothing definite can be given out until all the furnace owners are heard from.

The claim that options have been secured on the majority of furnaces is not believed in iron and steel circles here, although it is known that practically all the furnace owners of Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio are in favor of co-operation and would enter into any deal that would promise better conditions, particularly in times of depression, when competition is more pronounced.

A representative of a Western Pennsylvania blast furnace today said that in the event of the continuance of a brisk demand for iron, such as is being experienced at the present time, consolidation would be unnecessary.

"While it is known that the business already booked guarantees steady operation for the blast furnaces of the Mahoning and Shenango valleys until well into the latter part of next year," said the official, "there will come a time when it will be to our interests to work together."

It was reported today that in the event of the blast furnace consolidation deal going through, a large steel mill would be erected, which would guarantee an outlet for part of the surplus iron of the furnaces of the Mahoning and Shenango valleys. Its purchases amounting to something like 500,000 tons a year.

Looking Forward to Next Year.

Rogers, Brown & Co., in their weekly review of the pig iron market, have the following to say:

Interest in the iron market centers more and more in 1903. The attitude of conservative buyers for some weeks past has been one of supplying this year's needs by any means available, but of letting the future supply until the future could be more clearly discerned.

This position, apparently wise and safe, has been forced aside by two considerations. First, consumers are themselves contracting their output well into next year and are duly asked to figure on work. To book heavy forward orders without covering for raw materials is too speculative a course to commend itself. The second consideration is the growing prospect that long before this current year is over the capacity of the blast furnaces of the country will be taken up for the first half of 1903, as fully as it has been for the last half of 1902, and that the melter who prefers to take his chances for supply in the hope of a lower market later, runs too great a risk in the present active conditions of his own business.

We have, therefore, witnessed during the past week very heavy buying for the first half of next year. In one instance a large consumer entered the market for requirements from April to December. The willingness of the buyers to take hold is rather stimulated by the indifferent attitude of furnace companies, who, as a rule, are much more concerned about filling contracts on their books, which are in many cases delinquent in shipments, than they are about new business. There is little disposition to make concessions in current prices to secure these long forward contracts.

It now looks as if 1903 would inherit from 1902 a very considerable tonnage, which for one cause or another furnaces have been unable to deliver on time. This must be reckoned with as no small factor in future calculations.

No Increase of Cambria Dividend.

A representative of the Cambria Steel Company states that the failure of increasing the semi-annual dividend of the company was not even considered at Wednesday's meeting.

"We hope," said he, "to pay the present rate during good times and bad, but conservative management, in the opinion of the board, forbids an increase."

He added that the total business done by the company for the six months ended June 30, shows an increase of 20 per cent over the results of the corresponding period of last year.

New Head of Pacific Mail.

At today's meeting of the board of directors of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company Charles H. Tweed resigned as president and was succeeded by E. H. Harriman. The Pacific Mail Company is controlled by the Southern Pacific Company of which Mr. Harriman is president, so that the change in the personnel of the former concern is of no public significance. Mr. Tweed has been president of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company since the death of Collis P. Huntington. It was said today that owing to other interests which occupied the greater part of his time, Mr. Tweed requested that his resignation as the head of the Pacific Mail Company be accepted.

Gates Only Hopes to Control.

Colorado Fuel & Iron was one of the features of the stock market today. The rise was accompanied by a number of reports, the most interesting of which was the following, put out by a Wall street news agency:

"John W. Gates says: 'We must have control of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company and will clear our board at the next meeting.'"

When Mr. Gates was shown the foregoing statement he said: "The statement that we have secured control of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company is unauthorized. I will not suppose that we have control, and naturally we will put in our own directors when this happens."

A New Construction Company.

The Clark Construction Company was incorporated in New Jersey today with a capital stock of $1,850,000. The company, it is said, will operate along lines similar to those of the Fuller Construction Company, although on a smaller scale. It is also said several western iron men are interested in the enterprise. The incorporators of the company are Horace S. Gould, John Billings and L. B. Dailey, all of whom are associated with the Corporation Trust Company of New Jersey.

Absence of Bad News Permitted Extensive Dealings

SALES OF STOCK PASSED BEYOND MILLION POINT

Decided Revival of Activity in the Transactions in Wall Street.

SPECULATORS QUIT CORN

United States Steel Unable to Make Headway—Greater Confidence in Coal Roads, Owing to the News From Indianapolis.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 17.—The aggregate sales of stocks today show a further increase in the volume of dealings which fairly crossed the million share mark. Substantial upward progress was made and the market was broad in the sense that a large number of different securities were dealt in, and the trading was also better distributed amongst the few stocks in which the principal activity was centered. The same preference was shown for the low-priced stocks today, with the exception of a speculative incursion into the trunk lines and Vanderbilts. An attempt was made to bring the speculation back into the high-priced western railroads, but it will be observed that the desire to take profits on the considerable advance which those stocks have had was still too eager to allow much upward progress.

The United States Steel stocks renewed the struggle to advance, but again met heavy sales at every stage.

Holders Quick to Realize.

Some of yesterday's conspicuous low-priced stocks were acutely affected by profit-taking. This was notably true of the Chicago & Alton stocks. The evidence of profit-taking in these and the sudden relapse of over two points in Colorado Fuel after a four-point advance had a decidedly chilling effect and put a sudden stop to the activity of the market, leaving it at a level which fairly averaged below last night. The opening advance in Colorado & Southern and Kansas City Southern was attributed to the same forces as was the Chicago & Alton movement yesterday.

These movements are supposed to signalize the return of the western contingent from the corn market to the stock market. The tone of doubt and hesitation shown in the market for the July corn option at Chicago was taken as a warning for possible speculative surprises.

The check thus brought about to the animation of the market was changed again by the heavy demand developed for the Reading stocks and the coalers. This demand was undoubtedly based upon the assumption that the coal miners' convention will decide against a general strike. Late in the day Chesapeake & Ohio renewed its strong advance to the extent of 2%, but without checking the selling to realize at other points and making the closing irregular. Although there was supposed to have been an extensive speculation upon the unknown chances of the Amalgamated dividend, the declaration at the unchanged rate failed to arouse that stock from the torpor in which it rested all day.

A Day Without Bad News.

The day's activity evidently represented the prosecution of a regular campaign for a rise, which was based today upon the absence of any unfavorable factors, rather than upon any new developments favoring higher prices. Call money rates worked easier today and there was a diminution of the pressure from the interior for currency. Sterling exchange maintained its firm tone and time loan rates are strongly held.

The controller's call for statement of condition of national banks as of yesterday marks an event for which the recent extra demand for cash from the interior has been in preparation. It was a subject of remark that the required date of condition was unusually near to the date of the call, indicating a purpose to ascertain conditions as nearly as possible of even date. There was some question whether this new departure does not conceal a strategem designed to increase the trustworthiness of the showing.

Bonds were active and firm. Total sales, par value, $4,031,000.

United States refunding 2s and the old 4s declined 1/2 per cent on the last call.

WALL STREET FEATURES.

Total sales, 1,124,600 shares.

Par value of stock sales, $4,031,000.

Absence of any depressing news made the market very active and wide.

Efforts to increase the prices of United States Steel stock were frustrated by heavy sales.

Evidence appeared that large operators who had been interested in corn had returned to the stock market.

The shares of Reading and other coal roads picked up on the news that there would not be a general strike of miners.

The call by the controller of the currency for a report on national banks on July 16 was regarded as a move to get information of prevailing conditions and elicited favorable comment.

OLD OIL WELLS MAKING CREDITABLE RECORDS

Developments in the Lower Southwest fields were light yesterday, and large wells were not in evidence in any quarter. However, some of the old producers are making creditable records. On Big Knot run, the Three Joes Oil Company's gusher on the Elroy Wagner farm was drilled for a few minutes on Tuesday evening and increased its production the ensuing 24 hours from 500 to 600 barrels.

On Rock run, L. E. Mallory & Co.'s No. 5 on the Jacob Morrison farm is producing 150 barrels a day from the Maxon sand and is now due in the Keener.

In the Folsom district, Wetzel county, the South Penn Company has recovered the tools lost in the top of the sand at its test on the M. M. McIntire farm, and the well is producing 100 barrels a day and has not been completed. In this district, No. 2 on the Keener heirs' farm still holds at 170 barrels, and No. 1 on the Fairfield Peterson farm at 100 barrels a day. In the northeast end of the development the Southern Oil Company and Greenlee's No. 1 on the W. N. Cunningham farm is producing 150 barrels a day and the South Penn Company's Nos. 3 and 4, W. N. Cunningham farm, 100 and 150 barrels a day respectively.

In the Fish Creek district, Marshall county, the South Penn Company has completed its No. 2 on the T. F. McIlvaine farm and has a natural producer, good for 100 barrels a day. In the lower end of the Cabin Creek district the same company's No. 1 on the Jacob Redfox farm is still producing 120 barrels a day.

In the Pine Grove district, Wetzel county, the South Penn Company has drilled in its No. 3 on the M. J. Clark farm and has a show for a 15 barrel pumper, but deeper drilling may develop a second pay.

In the Salem district, Harrison county, Smith, Riddle & Co. have drilled in their No. 4 on the Williams farm and the hole has filled up 1,000 feet with fluid. It will make a 30-barrel producer.

On a small branch of McFarlan creek, Murphy district, Ritchie county, the Burke Farm Oil Company has drilled its test on the Coyle heirs' farm through the salt sand and found that formation barren. It will be drilled to the lower sands.

On Indian creek, in the same district, Jennings Bros. & Lockwood have drilled their second test on the J. F. Deem farm through the Berea Grit and have a duster. This test was drilled to a depth of 2,775 feet. In the same locality the Cairo Oil Company has completed and shot its No. 4 on the Hester A. Deem farm and has a show for a small well in the salt sand.

Southeast of Wellsburg, Brooke county, W. Va., the Carter Oil Company is still drilling at its wildcat on the Underwood farm, located on Buffalo creek. It was reported as having made two small flows yesterday. Pittsburgh operators hold leases on some territory in that vicinity, but are not starting any new work. The test on the Underwood farm has them all guessing since the owners refuse to give out any information.

Southeastern Ohio was able to only flash up one small well yesterday. In the Corning district, Athens county, C. A. Carman & Co. completed their No. 2 on the H. C. Hearting farm and will have a very small pumper.

In the new Keener sand development, near Jerusalem, Monroe county, some important test wells are nearing the sand.

Near Leetsdale, Beaver county, Pa., McCain & Co. have drilled their test on the S. Colbert farm through the 100-foot and have a duster.

In the Lecktonville pool, the Forest Oil Company has drilled its No. 17 on the Thomas Bradford farm, formerly a gasser, through the 100-foot sand and has a 3-barrel pumper.

In the old Gold development, near the Allegheny county line in Butler county, Thomas W. Phillops has completed a test on the Cal Glasgow farm and has a gasser.

In the same district the Co-operation Oil Company has completed a test on the Harrison Grant farm and has a duster.

Local Stocks Were More Active and Prices Showed Gains

STEEL AND COAL STOCKS AGAIN LED THE SALES

Buying Was Quite Pronounced in the Common Issues at Higher Prices.

FIRE PROOFING ADVANCED

Window Glass Common Was Marked Up $1 to $63—River Coal Preferred Touched 39¼—Bank Stocks Quiet but Firm—Bonds Dull.

The volume of business on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was larger than it has been during any single day in some weeks and the general tendency was toward a greater degree of activity than has prevailed for some time. The business yesterday, though, was still quite dull compared with the times when the market was justly called "active." Inquiry, however, was little and broader and it looked as if the public was beginning to take more interest than it has shown for some time. This is partly due to the splendid showing of the U. S. Steel Corporation, which has had an invigorating effect generally, and partly to the expectation that the money market will soon become materially easier, the comptroller having yesterday made his call on the national banks, and many big dividends having just been paid. The trading in the Steel group was the feature of the day, though Pittsburgh Coal common, National Fire Proofing issues and Window Glass common shared the honors. U. S. Steel common led the selling with nearly 1,500 shares, and closed quite firm at 40⅝, a gain of ½. The preferred was fairly active and somewhat firmer at 91⅝@92 for over 500 shares, a gain of ⅛. Crucible Steel common was quiet, losing ⅛ at 21⅛, but there was a good-sized demand at 21. The preferred was most active, but lost ⅛ at the close.

The bulls on Fire Proofing issues, particularly the common stock, are getting into life again, and the gossips are talking about an increase of the dividend rate on the common or the long-expected extra dividend. Those who are superstitious say "Wolf, Wolf!" has been cried so often that it is sure to come now. However, the next two weeks ought to tell the story. The common advanced ⅜ to 31½, and was in fair demand, while the preferred gained ½ at 80½. The buying was significant, as it was by houses identified with insiders. This was also true of the trading in Pittsburgh Coal common and Window Glass common. In the case of the former the firm that promoted the company took the bulk of the stock that offered at 25⅜, a gain of ⅛, and wanted more. The Window Glass buying was entirely by an Inside house, and the price closed at 63, a gain of $1. The purchasers also wanted more. The preferred was dull and unchanged. River Coal preferred declined to 39¼, but rallied to 39½, while Pittsburgh Coal preferred closed ⅛ higher at 89¾. The trading was light. Bank stocks were quiet but firm, while bonds were very dull.

The following is a complete summary of yesterday's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales, the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices and final bids and offers.

At the opening Hoag & Grier bid 31 for 500 National Fire Proofing common, but before the end of the first half hour the stock had quoted up to 31¾ bid.

Copper statistics show a largely increased output, with a decided falling off in exports. Unless this increased output of metal is consumed at home there is likely to be further trouble in that trade.

Large treasury disbursements and cessation of the western demand and European purchases of securities have all tended to dispel any fear of present money stringency.

McMullin was a buyer of Fire Proofing common and Hoag & Grier bought the preferred. There is beginning to be some talk of an increase in the dividend on the common. It should shortly be declared.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

Bank exchanges gained $3,029,400.06.

Sales Pittsburgh stock exchange, 6,171 shares and $1,000 bonds.

1,488 shares United States Steel sold at 40¼@40⅝. Closed at 40⅝.

United States Steel preferred sold 512 shares at 91¾@92. Closed at 92.

Pittsburgh Coal common was active at 25⅜ for 1,350 shares.

Pittsburgh Coal preferred closed at 89¾ and Rivers Coal preferred at 39½.

Window Glass advanced $1 to 63 on sales of 650 shares.

Fire Proofing issues were strong and higher. Extra dividend talk on the common is commencing.

Bank stocks were quiet and bonds very dull.

FINANCIAL DRIFT.

The only board sale was $1,000 Brewing 6s, Lawrence to Harbour.

Not a share of Window Glass common sold until nearly 12:30 o'clock.

Walker & Wainwright bid 21 for 500 Crucible Steel common near the close.

The sub-treasury statement shows the New York banks have gained $1,585,000 since Friday.

Preston, Watt & Schoyer were on both sides of the market in United States Steel common.

The first trade of the day was 100 United States Steel common at 40⅜, and the last 350 Window Glass common at 63.

M. K. McMullin was the only buyer of American Window Glass common. Doty & Sutton sold a block of 250 shares.

The comptroller of the currency has called upon the national banks for a statement of condition at the close of business July 16.

The initial trade in Hazelwood bank stock was made near the close, Doty & Sutton selling 10 shares to W. H. Campbell, Par is $50.

The comptroller of the currency has issued a call for a statement of the condition of national banks at the close of business July 16.

John W. Gates announced yesterday that he had secured control of Colorado Fuel and Iron. He said: "We have the control of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company and will elect our board at the next meeting."

Sproul & Co. sold nearly all the Crucible Steel preferred. They were also the principal sellers of Pittsburgh Coal common, the daily buying of the latter being almost exclusively by the promoting house—George E. Hill & Co.

The Producers association reports the production of copper for June at 29,700 tons, against 25,158 tons for May and 20,400 tons. The domestic production was 140,408 tons, against 138,234 tons for the corresponding period last year.

The largest sellers of United States Steel common were Caruthers & Co., 600 shares, and Morris, Brown & Co., 487. The principal buyers were Crawford & Eberman and Robinson Bros. The trading in the preferred was scattered.

According to the statement filed with the New York Stock Exchange in connection with its listing application, the undivided earnings of the General Electric Company for four months ending February 28 to May 31 after paying $499,906 in dividends, were $2,283,921.

An official of the Pennsylvania railroad denies the reports that the Postal Company will operate the lines of the Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore road in the consolidated future. It states that the present relations will continue for another year at all events.

I don't think there is much doubt but there is heavy outside buying this morning. We have had this for a long time. The coasts have filled up this demand and the interesting thing now is whether this buying will be strong enough to keep the market going. It looks as if the market would go higher. For the time being I would keep up higher. For the time being I would keep up higher. If it goes lower I advise purchases of it. Gates has got it as thoroughly in hand as he had Louisville & Nashville.—F. M. Dick.

Earning and Reports.

Wabash the second week in July increased $26,571.

Earnings of Chicago & Eastern Illinois the second week of July increased $17,709, and from July 1 they increase $26,909.

The gross earnings of Northern Pacific for June increased $626,885. The total gross for the fiscal year was $42,305,041, an increase of $8,346,032.

The annual report of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company showed a decrease of $1,041,819 in the total receipts, and of $866,963 in the total expenses. A deficit of $307,935 was reported as compared with a surplus of $167,820 last year. Mr. Tweed in his report said that the reduced earnings for the year were largely the result of low rates to Mexican and Central American ports, owing in part to the suspension of traffic relations with the Panama railroad, which have now been renewed.

adverse to the corporation.

All the news was favorable and there is every prospect for further advance in prices today. I think there will be some sky-rocketing in Colorado Fuel and Iron, as I believe the stock has to be watered.—Barnes.

With the activity and strength in the coal stocks I should think Erie would be a purchase. I think the Gates people are taking hold of it a little.—G. B. Post, Jr.

I have just heard from a pretty reliable source that the Gates crowd are talking 60 for Chesapeake & Ohio in the near future. I know they have had to take from 40,000 to 50,000 shares of stock around 54. It is holding very well and if it can keep up higher or if it goes lower I advise purchases of it. Gates has got it as thoroughly in hand as he had Louisville & Nashville.—F. M. Dick.

STARTLING TALES TOLD AT INQUEST IN LATIMER CASE

Theory That Brooklyn Man Was Killed by Burglar Is Overwhelmed.

WIFE'S HONOR INVOLVED

Salesman of Name of Tuthill Visits Her—Husband Quarreled With Him—Strange Cries Heard at the Time of Crime—Further Inquiry.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, July 17.—Testimony even more startling and sensational than had been anticipated by those who have disbelieved the theory that Albert C. Latimer was killed by a burglar at his home in Hancock street, Brooklyn, was given by many witnesses at the inquest held before Coroner Williams today.

The police officials who are familiar with the known facts of the strange case will not say that they have direct evidence against anyone. They admit that, so far, they would not be warranted in pointing even the finger of suspicion at anyone. But in private conversation they declare they have not the slightest doubt as to who is responsible for Albert Latimer's death. It is by no means impossible that before the inquest is resumed next Monday evening one or more persons may be in custody, charged with having killed Latimer or with having been accessories to his death.

The Widow's Testimony.

Mrs. Sadie Latimer, the widow of the murdered man, was a witness. Her story developed nothing new. She declared that her husband was shot by a burglar.

District Attorney Clarke asked Mrs. Latimer if she had ever been in the company of W. H. Tuthill outside of her home. She replied that she met Mr. Tuthill on one occasion in New York; that he accompanied her to her home and that she told her husband about it. In reply to other questions by the district attorney, she said she had never entertained a Mr. Elwell, whose home is in the rear of the Latimer house, in the absence of her husband.

C. R. Rich, who lives near the Latimers, said that when he went to the house on the night of the shooting Mrs. Latimer introduced him to Mr. Tuthill. Mr. Latimer was placed on the bed. Tuthill helping, and then Tuthill said to Mrs. Latimer, "Don't worry; he is all right."

Dr. Meagher, house surgeon at the hospital where Latimer died, created a sensation when he said that the dying man exclaimed, as he lay in bed on the third day, "The coward shot me in bed."

Latimer Said No Burglar Shot Him.

Miss Christine Russell, a nurse, testified that Latimer said, "A coward shot me in cold blood." Once when Latimer's brother spoke about the search for the burglar, the wounded man said: "No burglar ever shot me."

Mary T. Cashman, another nurse, said she heard Latimer say he knew the man who shot him and that he would tell his name when he got well.

Louis A. Parker, who lived about 150 feet from the Latimer house, said that just before the shooting he heard a woman's voice say, "Don't, Walter; won't somebody come quick?"

Miss Margaret Vennig, niece of Mrs. Latimer, said she saw a man run from Mrs. Latimer's room and down the stairs. It was no one she had ever before seen.

Dr. Robert Morrison, brother-in-law of Latimer, said Latimer told him he did not know who shot him.

Jerome B. Shaw lives five doors above the Latimer house. He heard an outcry on the morning of the shooting—by a woman, he thought—and heard some one ask, "What is the matter?" The reply was, "He is abusing me." A little while after that he heard two shots. Mr. Shaw's wife corroborated this testimony.

Latimer Suspected Tuthill.

G. Byron Latimer, the dead man's brother, said his brother told him he did not suspect anybody and that he had no struggle with any one. The wounded man asked the witness if Tuthill was being watched and he replied that he was. This witness did this to ease his brother's mind, as Tuthill was not being watched. Albert Latimer did not want Tuthill to visit the house in his absence. It was the understanding in the family that Tuthill had been forbidden to enter the Latimer home. There was trouble between the men because of Tuthill's attentions to Mrs. Latimer.

"Did you ever hear of your brother getting a divorce?" asked District Attorney Clarke.

"My brother made some such remarks in one of his irrational moments," replied the witness. "He said he had a divorce suit, that Van Buren (Latimer's attorney) had the papers drawn up for the last two weeks. When I began to question him he lapsed into delirium."

Miss Fannie Latimer, a sister, swore that she saw Tuthill and Mrs. Latimer meet on a street corner, and telegraphed the fact to Mr. Latimer. She said that when her brother reached the house he found Tuthill there. There were words between the two men and then a lengthy correspondence, which gradually ceased.

No Signs of a Burglary.

Police Captain Reynolds testified that, after a minute examination of the doors, windows and shutters of the Latimer house, he could not find the slightest trace of a forced entrance. He averred that if a burglar had really got into the house a rear door must have been left open by accident. The hearing was then adjourned until Monday morning.

Three or four witnesses are yet to be called, among them the traveling upholstery salesman, William H. Tuthill of Brooklyn. Coroner Williams received during the day a telegram from Tuthill, dated Hastings-on-the-Hudson, saying he would appear at the next session of the coroner's court.

EXCURSIONISTS TOOK POSSESSION

RAILROADS CARRIED MANY THOUSANDS OUT OF THE CITY.

Baltimore & Ohio Was Busiest, but Other Lines Carried Great Throngs. Grove City, Versailles, Rock Springs and Rock Point Favorites.

Excursionists by the thousand took possession of the various Pittsburgh lines yesterday, and it is safe to say that for this class of business yesterday was the record-breaker in several ways. Fully 25,000 people are believed to have left on the combined lines.

The busiest of the railroads was the Baltimore & Ohio east and west, and the greatest of the Baltimore & Ohio's excursions was the one to Grove City, in connection with the Bessemer & Lake Erie, for the dedication of the Odd Fellows' home. It is estimated in advance of the official figures, that the Baltimore & Ohio carried 5,000 passengers on this account alone. There were seven long special trains of the excursionists and they were given a fast ride through to their destination.

The trains began to leave the Allegheny station at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, and as fast as they were loaded were sent out. In addition to the Grove City trains the regular fortnightly excursion to Atlantic City over the Baltimore & Ohio went out yesterday. Extra sections were run on all the eastbound expresses, day and night. About 1,200 persons went on this excursion. Olympia, the popular new park at Versailles, near McKeesport, was also visited by excursionists yesterday, two trains of these leaving the Water street station.

The Pennsylvania lines had excursions to Rock Springs on the Panhandle and Rock Point on the Fort Wayne. The Rock Springs excursion was enjoyed by 1,800 members of the A. O. U. W. and their friends. The Rock Point excursion was for the congregations of several colored churches.

The most noteworthy feature of this party, outside of its size, was the effort of detectives to pick out the professional "crap shooters" at the station and on the trains. The fascination of the insidious game to the colored brethren had proved so great on former outings of this kind and the churches have been so scandalized that it was determined to spot the wicked introducers of the amusement and keep them off the grounds. Several were refused admittance to the train, while detectives went with the crowd to Rock Point.

The Pennsylvania lines obtained a large slice of the Grove City business. The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie had a busy day, every car of its big equipment being in use. For the Grove City travel alone 56 cars were in use and more passengers would have gone that way if there had been coaches to carry them.

TWO-DAY BENEFIT WAS A RECORD BREAKER

St. Paul's Orphan Picnic Closed Yesterday With Greater Success Than Ever Before.

The annual two-day benefit of 1902 for St. Paul's orphan asylum will go down in the annals of that institution as a record-breaker. Father Lynch and his co-workers were greatly gratified at the results.

Although it is not an unusual thing for men of every rank and creed to give both time and money to encourage the good work, it was remarked on all sides yesterday that there was never before such enthusiasm manifested. In the thousands who attended the final day's benefit were many ministers and earnest Christian workers of other creeds. Their presence was particularly noticed by the ladies at the various booths.

As forecasted in yesterday's Gazette, the results of the two-days' benefit will net nearly $15,000, with a profitable margin either way. "Tom" Dunn figured that nearly 20,000 people passed through the gates in the two days. The official numbers could not be computed last night by the railways company, but it also estimated about the same number.

Father Lynch expressed his thanks and that of the trustees of the asylum to the people in general and the Pittsburgh newspapers for their work in making the benefit the success it has been. With the closing of last night's benefit Controller Larkin rounded 30 years of gratuitous service in behalf of the little ones. "Tom" Dunn 12 years and various other workers probably less years, but such service that has merited the unstinted thanks of all interested. Father Lynch took occasion to thank every one of the workers last night for their service, not forgetting the good women who have given their time and labor to the benefit.

There was a commendable rivalry among the women to keep up past records, and, all told, they have done remarkably well. The women of St. Brigid's, the Cathedral, St. Peter's, Allegheny, Sacred Heart, East End, and the other parishes were unanimous in voting this year's picnic the most delightful yet held. From the time the gates were swung open early in the morning until they were closed at night there was no want of fun and mirth; in fact, everything that goes to make such a day happy and eventful.

TRUSTEES GOT EXECUTION.

Dr. Samuel McNaugher Explains Synod's Action Against Him.

An execution was issued yesterday to the trustees of the Reformed Presbyterian Synod of North America against Samuel McNaugher of Allegheny. Mr. McNaugher is a member of the Eighth Street Reformed Presbyterian church.

Neither he nor the Rev. Dr. McAllister, pastor of the church, would speak of the matter other than to say that it was a personal affair and did not affect church finances. "It is a mere personal affair between myself and the synod," said Mr. McNaugher, "and pertains to the settling up of an old estate."

SOUTH PENN CO. GETS MORE GOOD OIL TERRITORY

Secures the West Virginia Holdings of the Hartman Oil Company.

ABOUT $500,000 WAS PAID

This Represents the Profits a Family Concern Has Picked Up—South Penn Co. Will Proceed to Develop Extensively.

A deal of considerable magnitude in oil producing property was concluded in Pittsburgh yesterday by which the South Penn Oil Company came into possession of another large block of producing territory, a large number of producing wells and a considerable volume of production.

In the deal is included all of the Hartman Oil Company's production and gas lines in West Virginia, located in Marion, Monongahela, Doddridge and Ritchie counties. The Hartman company's holdings turned over to the South Penn consisted of leases on 3,566 acres of tested territory on which are 60 oil and gas wells. The property has a net production of 500 barrels a day.

The consideration was close to $500,000 cash. It is nearly all settled production and the property is in fine shape. The oil is produced from the Big Injun sand and the greater portion of it comes from Marion county. Of late the company has operated with good success in Ritchie county.

The Hartman Oil Company is a sort of family affair, consisting of Joseph Hartman, president of the Butler County bank; his son, Joseph Jr., and Patrick Gallagher, his son-in-law. They began operating in the vicinity of Mannington about six years ago and were uniformly successful.

The money derived from the sale represents profits that have accrued since the Hartman Oil Company began developments. The South Penn company will operate and fully develop the property in conjunction with its previous holdings adjacent to the property purchased.

WOMAN BADLY INJURED

Two Men Under Arrest in Allegheny to Await the Outcome of the Case.

Adam Leskowski and Kastin Valukis, his friend, are locked in the Allegheny police station to await the result of injuries suffered by Leskowski's wife, Matilda, who is at St. John's hospital with a broken arm, a bruised body and a cut face. The Leskowski couple and Valukis live at No. 514 Brighton road, Allegheny.

The police heard two stories regarding the manner in which the woman was hurt. One is that Leskowski was jealous of Valukis and therefore beat his wife and threw her out of a third-story window. The other story is that Mrs. Leskowski, while leaning out of the window, lost her balance and fell to the ground.

At the hospital Mrs. Leskowski refused to tell how she was hurt. The doctors say she is badly injured and may not recover. Her husband and Valukis are equally reticent, and stolidly resist the efforts of the Allegheny police to learn something about the case.

BEECH CREEK RUMOR DENIED BY RAMSEY

Wabash President Says Route to East Will Not Be Over Such Composite Route.

President Joseph Ramsey, Jr., of the Wabash spent yesterday in this city, in consultation with Chief Engineer J. W. Patterson and Counsel A. M. Neeper. The conferences were about the various matters, engineering and political, involved in the construction of the line of the Wabash into Pittsburgh. "Nothing more than the usual routine was taken up," Mr. Ramsey said late in the afternoon. "I find that the Wabash is making thoroughly satisfactory progress on its work here. If the bridges are built according to the contracts there is no reason to doubt that we will be running trains into Pittsburgh by April 1, 1903.

"The plans for the new passenger station at the corner of Ferry street and Liberty avenue will be ready in a few weeks, I understand."

When asked about the rumored connection of the Wabash railroad with the through passenger route between this city and New York over the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh, the Beech Creek and the Reading, Mr. Ramsey said: "The Wabash does not desire any composite route of that kind. The Beech Creek is an integral part of the Vanderbilt system, the Reading is controlled for the Pennsylvania by the Baltimore & Ohio, I understand, and the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh is not an allied line. The Wabash will not wish a route like this for its eastern outlet. There is absolutely nothing in the report of the Wabash using this route to the east."

A Pleasant Trip to the Briny Deep.

The Pennsylvania will run their third seashore excursion Thursday, July 24, leaving Union station, Pittsburgh, at 8:55 a. m. with through parlor cars and day coaches to Atlantic City without change, via Delaware river bridge. Through sleeping cars attached to train leaving Pittsburgh at 7:10 p. m., 9 p. m. to Philadelphia only. Rate, $10; tickets good for 10 days. Seats in parlor cars on morning train and berths in cars on evening train can now be procured at ticket office, corner Fifth avenue and Smithfield street, or at Union station.
